[Docket No. 33450]

PETITION FOR DECLARATORY ORDER UNDER SECTION 5(d) OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURE ACT

JULY 15, 1960.

Petitioner: Mr. Guy M. Willis, President, Astro Corp., Hartford Building, Dallas, Tex.; Petitioner's Attorneys: Turner, White, Atwood, McLane, and Francis. Attention: Mr. Leo J. Hoffman, 1900 Mercantile Dallas Building, Dallas 1, Tex.

By a petition filed June 30, 1960, the Astro Corporation seeks a declaratory order under section 5(d) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U.S.C. 1004) finding that the Interstate Commerce Commission does not have jurisdiction over the proposed terminal storage facilities for jet fuel at Mountain Home, Idaho or over a proposed pipeline from such terminal facilities to the Mountain Home Air Force Base. In the event that the Commission determines that it does have jurisdiction, the petitioner requests waiver by it of the Commission's regulations pertaining to pipelines.

Petitioner states that the previous interstate flow of the jet fuel comes to a complete rest in the storage facilities to be erected by petitioner. If it meets the requirements of the Air Force, it will later be shipped to the Air Force in the proposed pipeline and such transportation will take place solely in the State of Idaho.

Any person or persons desiring to participate in this matter may do so by filing an original and 14 copies of representations supporting or opposing the petition by August 24, 1960.

By the Commission.

Title 7—AGRICULTURE

SUBCHAPTER B—SUGAR REQUIREMENTS AND QUOTAS

PART 818—REQUIREMENTS RELATING TO NON-QUOTA PURCHASE SUGAR FOR 1960

Miscellaneous Amendments

Paragraph (k) of § 818.2 of Part 818 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 818.2 [Amendment]

(k) The term "non-quota purchase sugar" means sugar purchased pursuant to the provisions of section 408(b) of the act.

Section 818.4 of Part 818 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 818.4 Source of non-quota purchase sugar.

For the calendar year 1960 the amount of non-quota purchase sugar to be imported into the continental United States for consumption therein from foreign countries is as follows:

Country:	Short tons, raw value
Haiti	26,567
Netherlands	6,139
China	6,288
Panama	6,258
Costa Rica	6,367
Republic of the Philippines	109,755
Peru	135,000
Mexico	250,540
Nicaragua	22,900
Canada	1,697
United Kingdom	1,385
Belgium	478
Hong Kong	8
British West Indies and British Guiana	70,000
El Salvador	6,000
Guatemala	6,000
Brazil	100,347

Non-quota purchase sugar is limited to raw sugar except sugar testing in excess of 99 degrees polarization is authorized for importation into the United States prior to September 30 from Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Costa Rica, Netherlands, Canada, United Kingdom, Belgium, and Hong Kong, within the quantities established above for such countries, provided that such sugar in excess of 2,000 tons from any such country is to be further refined or improved in quality in the United States.

FINDING AND BASIS AND CONSIDERATIONS

On July 14, 1960, pursuant to the Sugar Act of 1948, as amended, and further amended by Public Law 86-592, approved July 6, 1960, the purchase of approximately 137,000 short tons, raw value, of non-quota purchase sugar from six countries was authorized under subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of section 408 (b)(2) of the act. The quantity of sugar which may now be authorized for purchase under section 408(b) and the President's Proclamation 3355 (25 F.R. 6414) is 1,097,540 short tons, raw value.

Of this quantity a total of 51,479 short tons, raw value, has been authorized for purchase from Haiti, Netherlands, China, Panama, and Costa Rica, under subparagraphs (i) and (iii) of section 408(b)(2). A quantity of 109,755 short tons, raw value, has been authorized for purchase from the Republic of the Philippines under subparagraph (ii) of section 408(b)(2). A quantity of 411,038 short tons, raw value, from other countries for which quotas have been established under section 202(c) of the act has been authorized for purchase under subparagraph (iii) of section 408(b)(2). The quantities for each of the latter group of countries have been established pro rata on the basis of the quotas established for these countries under section 202(c) of the act to the extent of the ability of each such country to supply sugar. The proviso in subparagraph (iii) of section 408(b)(2) authorizes the purchase of additional sugar without regard to allocations provided for in subparagraphs (i), (ii) and (iii) of that section if additional amounts of sugar are required. Pursuant to that proviso additional quantities have been authorized for purchase from the following countries in the amounts shown:

Country:	Short tons, raw value
British West Indies and British Guiana	70,000
Brazil	100,347
El Salvador	6,000
Guatemala	6,000

Not authorized for purchase at this time are the Dominican Republic apportionment under subparagraph (iii) of section 408(b)(2) of 291,693 short tons, raw value, and 51,028 short tons, raw value, of the Republic of the Philippines apportionment under subparagraph (ii) of section 408(b)(2).

The regulation can be amended from time to time to increase or decrease the quantities of sugar authorized for purchase from any of the countries named if it later appears that supplies from any country will not be forthcoming in a manner that meets the requirements of this market.

It is hereby found that raw sugar is not reasonably available in sufficient quantity to supply our requirements during the summer months. Accordingly, sugar testing in excess of 99 degrees polarization may be authorized for purchase for arrival in the United States prior to September 30 from certain countries specified in § 818.4 provided that such sugar in excess of 2,000 tons from any such specified country is destined to be further refined or improved in quality in the United States.

To permit such non-quota purchase sugar to be marketed in an orderly manner it is essential that this regulation be made effective immediately. Therefore, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice, procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary, impracticable, and contrary to the public interest, and these amendments to the regulations shall become effective when published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 400, 61 Stat. 932; 7 U.S.C. 1153. Interprets or applies secs. 101, 402; 61 Stat. 923, as amended, 933, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 1101, Pub. Law 86-892, approved July 6, 1960)

Done at Washington, D.C., this 21st day of July 1960.

TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary.

Concurred in for the Secretary of State by:

THOMAS C. MANN,
Assistant Secretary.

§ 958.0 Findings and determinations.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (secs. 1-19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601-674), and the rules and practices and procedures governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Denver, Colorado, on February 1-2, 1960, upon proposed amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 97 and Order No. 58 regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the State of Colorado. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof it is found that:

(1) This order, as amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act with respect to Irish potatoes produced in the production area, by establishing and maintaining such orderly marketing conditions therefor as will tend to establish, as prices to the producers thereof, parity prices, and by protecting the interest of the consumer (i) by approaching the level of prices which it is declared in the Act to be the policy of Congress to establish by a gradual correction of the current level of prices at as rapid a rate as the Secretary deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and (ii) by authorizing no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to producers of such potatoes above the parity level, and (iii) by authorizing the establishment and maintenance of such minimum standards of quality and maturity, and such grading and inspection requirements as may be incidental thereto, as will tend to effectuate such orderly marketing of such potatoes as will be in the public interest;

(2) This order, as amended, authorizes regulation of the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the production area in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activities classified in, a proposed order upon which a hearing has been held;

(3) This order, as amended, is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area which is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of the production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the Act;

(4) This order, as amended, prescribes so far as practicable, such different terms applicable to different parts of the production area, as are necessary to give due recognition to the differences in the production and marketing of Irish potatoes grown in the production area; and

(5) All handling of potatoes grown in the production area, as defined in this order, as amended, is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects such commerce.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found that good cause exists for making the provisions of this order, as amended, effective not later than the time hereinafter specified so that the area committees, the administrative agencies provided for in the order, as amended, can be organized and start to function as soon as possible. Only thereby can regulations be formulated and issued so that potato producers can obtain the benefits of the amended order on all their 1960 crop.

The provisions of the order, as amended, are well know to handlers of potatoes grown in the production area by reason of the following facts:

(1) The public hearing, at which evidence was received from the industry and from which this order, as amended, was based, was held in Denver, Colorado, February 1-2, 1960;

(2) The recommended decision and the final decision were issued on April 22, 1960 (25 F.R. 3653), and May 26, 1960 (25 F.R. 4815), respectively;

(3) Copies of the order, as amended, were made available, to all known parties who may be subject thereto, prior to and during the course of the referendum, which was held June 20-28, 1960, to determine whether producers of Irish potatoes in the production area favored issuance of this order, as amended;

(4) All known handlers in the production area were mailed a copy of the marketing agreement, as amended, the regulatory provisions of which are the same as those contained in this order, as amended;

(5) Potatoes grown in the production area will be shipped in interstate commerce, on or before the effective date specified herein;

(6) Benefits of the order as amended, should apply to as high a portion of the crop as possible; and

(7) Order No. 58 became effective August 30, 1941, and handlers have operated under regulations issued thereunder since 1949. Compliance with regulatory provisions of this order, as amended, will not require advance preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed prior to the effective date of regulations pursuant hereto. Therefore, it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date hereof beyond the date hereinafter specified (5 U.S.C. 1001-1011).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) Handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping potatoes covered by this order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of potatoes covered by this order, as amended, have signed a marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the production area, and

(2) The issuance of this order, as amended, is approved or favored (i) by at least two-thirds of the producers of Irish potatoes who participated in a referendum, held during a period June 20 through June 28, 1960, and who, during the determined representative period (June 1, 1959, through May 31, 1960), have been engaged within the production area in the production of potatoes for market, and (ii) by producers who participated in the aforesaid referendum and who, during the aforesaid representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of such potatoes produced for market within the production area specified herein by all producers who participated in the said referendum.

Order relative to handling. It is, therefore, ordered that on and after the effective time hereof, the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Colorado shall be in conformity to and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of this order, as amended, and such terms and conditions are as follows:

EXEMPTIONS

§ 958.28 Policy.

Any producer whose potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond the control or reasonable expectation of a prudent grower and who, by reason of any regulation issued pursuant to this part, is or will be prevented from shipping or having shipped during the then current marketing season, or a specific portion thereof, as large a proportion of his potato crop as the average proportion shipped or to be shipped during comparable portions of the season by all producers in his immediate area of production, may apply to the committee for exemptions from such regulations for the purpose of obtaining equitable treatment under such regulations.

§ 958.29 Procedure.

Rules and procedures for granting exemptions may be issued by the Secretary, upon recommendation of area committees. Such rules and procedures may provide for methods of determinations by area committees of average proportions of crops shipped or being shipped in respective areas or subdivisions thereof during any or all portions of a season, for processing applications for exemption, for issuing or denying certificates of exemption, for administrative compliance with certificates issued, for reports by handlers thereon, and for such other procedures as may be necessary to administration hereof.

§ 958.30 Granting exemptions.

An area committee may issue certificates of exemption to any qualified applicant who furnishes adequate evidence to such committee:

(a) That the grade, size, or quality of the applicant's potatoes have been adversely affected by acts beyond his control or reasonable expectations;

(b) That by reason of regulations issued pursuant to § 958.20 or § 958.22, the applicant will be prevented as a producer from shipping or having shipped as large a proportion of his production as the average proportion of production shipped by all producers in said applicant's immediate area of production during the season, or a specific portion thereof.

(c) Each such certificate issued shall permit the person identified therein to ship or have shipped the potatoes described thereon, and evidence of such certificates shall be made available to subsequent handlers thereof.

§ 958.31 Investigation.

An area committee shall be permitted at any time to make a thorough investigation of any applicant's claim pertaining to exemptions.

(b) Rules may be issued by the Secretary, upon recommendation of the Colorado Potato Committee requiring inspection on regraded, resorted or repacked lots, or providing for special inspection requirements or relief therefrom. Such rules may provide distinctions, insofar as practical, between handling at shipping point and handling in receiving markets within the production area.

(c) Upon recommendation of an area committee and approval by the Secretary, any or all potatoes so inspected and certified shall be identified by appropriate seals, stamps, or tags to be affixed to the containers by the handler under the direction and supervision of a Federal or Federal-State Inspector or the committee. (d) Insofar as the requirements of this section are concerned, the length of time for which an inspection certificate is valid may be established by the committee with the approval of the Secretary.

(e) When potatoes are inspected in accordance with the requirements of this section, a copy of each inspection certificate issued shall be made available to the committee by the inspection service.

(f) Area committees with the approval of the Colorado Potato Committee may recommend and the Secretary may require that no handler shall transport or cause the transportation of potatoes by motor vehicle or by other means unless such shipment is accompanied by a copy of the inspection certificate issued thereon, or other document authorized by the committee to indicate that such inspection has been performed. Such certificate or document shall be surrendered to such authority as may be designated.

§ 958.76 Budget.

As soon as practicable after the beginning of each fiscal period and as may be necessary thereafter, each area committee shall prepare an estimated budget of income and expenditures necessary for its administration of this part. Each area committee shall present such budget to the Secretary with an accompanying report showing the basis for its calculations.

§ 958.77 Assessments.

(a) The funds to cover each area committee's expenses shall be acquired by the levying of assessments upon handlers as provided in this subpart. Each handler who first handles potatoes under this part, shall pay assessments to his respective area committee upon demand, which assessments shall be in payment of such handler's pro rata share of the area committee's expenses.

(b) Assessments shall be levied upon handlers at rates established by the Secretary. Such rates may be established upon the basis of each area committee's budget, recommendations, and other available information. Such rates may be applied to specified containers used in the production area.

Upon the basis of such recommendations, or other available information, the Secretary may approve an amended budget and increase the rate of assessment. Such increase shall be applicable to all potatoes grown within the particular area where an area committee recommends such increase and which were handled by the first handler thereof during such fiscal period.

(d) The payment of assessments for the maintenance and functioning of each area committee may be required under this part throughout the period it is in effect irrespective to whether particular provisions thereof are suspended or become inoperative.

(1) If such excess is not retained in a reserve, as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, it shall be refunded proportionately to the persons from whom it was collected.

(2) An area committee, with the approval of the Secretary, may carry over such excess into subsequent fiscal periods as a reserve: Provided, That funds already in the reserve are less than approximately two fiscal period's expenses. Such reserve funds may be used (i) to defray expenses, during any fiscal period, prior to the time assessment income is sufficient to cover such expenses; (ii) to cover deficits incurred during any fiscal period when assessment income is less than expenses; (iii) to defray expenses incurred during any period when any or all provisions of this subpart are suspended or are inoperative; (iv) to cover necessary expenses of liquidation in the event of termination of this subpart. Upon such termination, any funds not required to defray the necessary expenses of liquidation shall be disposed of in such manner as the Secretary may determine to be appropriate. To the extent practical, such funds shall be returned pro rata to the persons from whom such funds were collected.

(b) All funds received by an area committee pursuant to the provisions of this part shall be used solely for the purposes specified herein. The Secretary may at any time require an area committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

PART 121—FOOD ADDITIVES

Subpart D—Food Additives Permitted in Food for Human Consumption

EMULSIFIERS IN FROZEN DESSERTS

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, having evaluated the data submitted in petitions filed by Atlas Powder Company, Wilmington, Delaware, and other relevant material, has concluded that the following food additive regulation should issue in conformance with section 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act as amended, with respect to certain polyoxyethylene-sorbitan-fatty acid compounds in frozen desserts, as emulsifiers. In anticipation of the issuance of standards of identity for frozen desserts, the Commissioner has considered section 401 of the act and has concluded that these additives in frozen desserts will be in conformity with that section of the act as well as with section 409. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the act (sec. 409(c)(1), 72 Stat. 1786; 21 U.S.C. 348(c)(1)), and under the authority delegated to the Commissioner by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (23 F.R. 9509): It is ordered, That Subpart D (21 CFR Part 121 (24 F.R. 2434)) be amended by adding thereto the following new sections:

A food additive known as polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan tristearate, which is a mixture of polyoxyethylene ethers of mixed stearic acid esters of sorbitol anhydrides and related compounds, may be used as an emulsifier in ice cream, frozen custard, ice milk, and fruit sherbet, when prepared and when used in accordance with the following prescribed conditions:

(a) The food additive is manufactured by reacting stearic acid with sorbitol to yield essentially sorbitan tristearate with a maximum acid number of 15 and a maximum water content of 0.2 percent, which is then reacted with ethylene oxide.

(b) The food additive meets the following specifications:

Saponification number 88-98.
Acid number 0-8.
Hydroxyl number 44-60.
Oxyethylene content 46 percent-50 percent.

(c) It is used alone or in combination with polysorbate 80, whereby the maximum amount of these additives, alone or in combination, does not exceed 1,000 parts per million (0.1 percent) of the finished frozen dessert.

(d) To assure safe use of the additive, the label of the additive and any intermediate mixes shall contain, in addition to the other information required by the act, the following:

(1) The name of the additive, polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan tristearate.

(2) A statement of the concentration or strength of the additive in the basic raw material or intermediate mixes.

(3) Appropriate and accurate directions, which, when followed, will provide a finished frozen dessert containing no more than the permitted amount of the additive, whether or not intermediate mixes are also used.

§ 121.1069 Polysorbate 80 (polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan monooleate) as an emulsifier in ice cream, frozen custard, ice milk, and fruit sherbet.

A food additive known as polysorbate 80 (polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan monooleate), which is a mixture of polyoxyethylene ethers of mixed partial oleic acid esters of sorbitol anhydrides and related compounds, may be used as an emulsifier in ice cream, frozen custard, ice milk, and fruit sherbet, when used in accordance with the following prescribed conditions:

(a) The food additive is manufactured by reacting oleic acid with sorbitol to yield essentially sorbitan monooleate with a maximum acid number of 7.5 and a maximum water content of 0.5 percent which is then reacted with ethylene oxide.

(b) The food additive meets the following specifications:

Saponification number 45–55.
Acid number 0–2.
Hydroxyl number 65–80.
Oxyethylene content 65 percent–69.5 percent.

(c) It is used alone or in combination with polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan tristearate, whereby the maximum amount of the additives, alone or in combination, does not exceed 1,000 parts per million (0.1 percent) of the finished frozen dessert.

(d) To assure safe use of the additive, the label of the additive and any intermediate mixes shall contain, in addition to the other information required by the act, the following:

(1) The name of the additive, polysorbate 80.

(2) A statement of the concentration or strength of the additive in the basic raw material or intermediate mixes.

(3) Appropriate and accurate directions, which, when followed, will provide a finished frozen dessert containing no more than the permitted amount of the additive, whether or not intermediate mixes are used.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D.C., written objections thereto. Where, pursuant to notice, the manufacturer does not desist, or the formula is not so modified as to render the product unsusceptible of beverage use, the manufacturer shall immediately qualify as a rectifier and pay the rectification tax on such product.

(a) Rectified liquors. United States Pharmacopoeia tincture of ginger is held to be rectified liquor. Bitters, patent medicines, and similar alcoholic preparations which are fit for beverage purposes, although held out as having certain medicinal properties, are also classed as rectified liquors. The commodity tax imposed by section 5021 or 5023, I.R.C., as the case may be, is required to be paid on alcoholic preparations classed as rectified liquors (including cordials or liqueurs). Such preparations are required to be manufactured in the rectifying facilities of a distilled spirits plant, taxpaid, bottled or packaged, stamped, recorded, and disposed of in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Part 201 of this chapter for other rectified spirits or products. Proposed Rule Making

FEDERAL AVIATION AGENCY

[14 CFR Part 600]

[Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-141]

FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Withdrawal of Proposed Modification

In a notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-141 on September 23, 1959 (24 F.R. 7651), it was proposed to modify VOR Federal airway No. 98, which presently extends from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Montreal, Quebec, by realigning the segment of this airway between Carlton, Mich., and the United States-Canadian Border, via the Carlton VOR 020° and the Windsor, Ontario, VOR 251° True radials. It was stated that this modification would provide an airway which would bypass the military air operations area at the Grosse Ile Naval Air Station, Mich. Subsequent to publication of the Notice, it was determined that revised air traffic management procedures have eliminated the requirement for the proposed realignment.

In consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the proposal contained in Airspace Docket No. 59-WA-141 is withdrawn.

Sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 20, 1960.

[Airspace Docket No. 60-NY-81]

FEDERAL AIRWAYS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 600.6037 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 37 presently extends in part from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Erie, Pa. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration modification of this segment of Victor 37 by realigning it from the Pittsburgh VOR via the Ellwood City, Pa., VORTAC to the Erie VORTAC. This would provide more precise navigational guidance on Victor 37 between Pittsburgh and Erie. The control areas associated with Victor 37 are so designated that they would automatically conform to the modified airway. Accordingly, no amendment relating to such control areas would be necessary.

If this action is taken, the segment of VOR Federal airway No. 37 from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Erie, Pa., would be designated via Ellwood City, Pa.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Federal Building, New York International Airport, Jamaica 30, N.Y. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 21, 1960.

FEDERAL AIRWAYS AND CONTROL AREAS

Revocation of Federal Airway, Associated Control Areas and Reporting Points

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering amendments to Parts 600 and 601 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

Red Federal airway No. 91 presently extends from Dunkirk, N.Y., to Syracuse, N.Y. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration revoking this airway. The Federal Aviation Agency IFR peak-day survey for the period July 1, 1958 through June 30, 1959, and an air traffic survey conducted on April 1, 1960, showed no aircraft movements on Red 91. On the basis of this survey, it appears that the retention of this airway and associated control areas is unjustified as an assignment of airspace and that the revocation thereof would be in the public interest. In addition, § 601.4291 relating to reporting points would be revoked.

If these actions are taken, Red Federal airway No. 91, its associated control areas and § 601.4291 relating to reporting points would be revoked.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Federal Building, New York International Airport, Jamaica 30, N.Y. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. FEDERAL AIRWAYS AND CONTROL AREAS

Revocation of a Segment of Federal Airway and Associated Control Areas

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to §§ 600.6042 and 601.6042 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 42 presently extends in part from Johnstown, Pa., to Washington, D.C. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration revocation of this segment of Victor 42. The Federal Aviation Agency IFR peak-day airway traffic survey for the period from July 1, 1959 through June 30, 1960, shows one aircraft movement for this airway segment. On the basis of the survey, it appears that the retention of this airway segment and its associated control areas as an assignment of airspace is unjustified and that the revocation thereof would be in the public interest.

If this action is taken, the segment of VOR Federal airway No. 42 and its associated control areas from Johnstown, Pa., to Washington, D.C., would be revoked.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Federal Building, New York International Airport, Jamaica 30, N.Y. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-136, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 21, 1960.

Chief, Airspace Utilization Division.

FEDERAL AIRWAYS, CODED JET ROUTES AND REPORTING POINTS

Modification

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to §§ 600.6046, 601.7001 and 602.562 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

VOR Federal airway No. 46 presently extends from New York, N.Y. (the point of intersection of the Riverhead, N.Y., VOR 264° and the Wilton, Conn., VOR 195° True radials) via the Riverhead VOR; Hampton VOR, including a south alternate via the point of intersection of the Riverhead VOR 146° and the Idlewild, N.Y., VOR 083° True radials; intersection of the Hampton VOR 083° and the Norwich, Conn., VOR 127° radials; to the Nantucket, Mass., VOR. The portion of this airway which lies within the geographic limits of, and between the designated altitudes of, the Westhampton Beach, N.Y. (Suffolk AFB) Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor (R-545) is excluded during its time of designation. VOR/VORTAC Jet route No. 62 is presently designated from the Idlewild, N.Y., VOR via the Intersection of the Idlewild VOR 083° and the Nantucket, Mass., VOR 252° True radials; to the Nantucket VOR. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the modification of this airway and jet route as follows:

1. Realign Victor 46 and its south alternate from the point of intersection of the Riverhead, N.Y., VORTAC 264° and the Wilton, Conn., VOR 195° True radials via the Riverhead VORTAC; Hampton, N.Y., VOR, including a south alternate from the Riverhead VORTAC to the Hampton VOR via the intersection of the Riverhead VORTAC 119° and the Hampton VOR 223° True radials; the intersection of the Hampton VOR 079° and the Nantucket, Mass., VOR 257° True radials to the Nantucket VOR.

2. Redesignate Jet Route 62-V from the Idlewild, N.Y., VORTAC to the Nantucket, Mass., VOR via the intersection of the Idlewild VORTAC 075°, the Albany, N.Y., VORTAC 148° and the Nantucket VOR 259° True radials to the Nantucket VOR.

In addition, it is proposed to redesignate the Newport Intersection as the intersection of the Norwich, Conn., VORTAC 127° and the Nantucket, Mass., VOR 257° True radials. These modifications would facilitate flight planning and assist air traffic management by providing a more direct airway and route for aircraft operating between New York, N.Y., and Nantucket, Mass., to or from overseas terminals. In addition, the modification would provide additional lateral spacing between Victor 46/Jet Route 62-V and Warning Areas 105 and 106. The control areas associated with Victor 46 are so designated that they would automatically conform with the modified airway. Accordingly, no amendment relating to control areas would be necessary.

If these actions are taken, VOR Federal airway No. 46 from New York, N.Y., to Nantucket, Mass., would be realigned from the intersection of the Riverhead, N.Y., VORTAC 264° and the Wilton, Conn., VOR 195° True radials via the Riverhead VORTAC; Hampton, N.Y., VOR, including a south alternate from the Riverhead VORTAC to Hampton VOR via the intersection of the Riverhead VORTAC 119° and the Hampton VOR 223° True radials; the intersection of the Hampton VOR 079° and the Nantucket, Mass., VOR 257° True radials to the Nantucket VOR.

VOR/VORTAC jet route No. 62 from New York, N.Y., to Nantucket, Mass., would be realigned from the Idlewild, N.Y., VORTAC via the intersection of the Idlewild VORTAC 075°, the Albany, N.Y., VORTAC 148° and the Nantucket VOR 259° True radials to the Nantucket VOR.

The Newport reporting point would be redesignated as the intersection of the Norwich, Conn., VORTAC 127° and the Nantucket VOR 257° True radials.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Federal Building, New York International Airport, Jamaica 30, N.Y. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 21, 1960.

CONTROL ZONES

Revocation

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 409.13, 24 F.R. 3499), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency is considering an amendment to § 601.1984 of the regulations of the Administrator, the substance of which is stated below.

The Skwentna, Alaska, control zone is presently designated within a 5-mile radius of the Skwentna Airport. The Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration the revocation of this control zone. Weather reporting service is not conducted on a 24-hour basis at the Skwentna Airport, and a review of the airport operations record indicates that eight instrument approaches were conducted during the period January 1, 1959 through December 31, 1959. On the basis of this information, it appears that the retention of this control zone is unjustified as an assignment of airspace, and the revocation thereof would be in the public interest.

If this action is taken, the Skwentna, Alaska, control zone would be revoked.

Interested persons may submit such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in triplicate to the Chief, Air Traffic Management Field Division, Federal Aviation Agency, P.O. Box 440, Anchorage, Alaska. All communications received within forty-five days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER will be considered before action is taken on the proposed amendment. No public hearing is contemplated at this time, but arrangements for informal conferences with Federal Aviation Agency officials may be made by contacting the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief, or the Chief, Airspace Utilization Division, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C. Any data, views or arguments presented during such conferences must also be submitted in writing in accordance with this notice in order to become part of the record for consideration. The proposal contained in this notice may be changed in the light of comments received.

The official Docket will be available for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section, Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. An informal Docket will also be available for examination at the office of the Regional Air Traffic Management Field Division Chief.

This amendment is proposed under sections 307(a) and 313(a) of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 749, 752; 49 U.S.C. 1348, 1354).

Order Directing That a Referendum Be Conducted; Designation of Referendum Agents To Conduct Such Referendum; and Determination of Representative Period

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Marketing Agreement No. 131 and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922), and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), it is hereby directed that a referendum be conducted among the growers who, during the period February 1, 1959, through January 31, 1960 (which period is hereby determined to be a representative period for the purposes of such referendum), were engaged, in the State of Arizona and that part of the State of California, south of the 37th Parallel, in the production of Valencia oranges for market to determine whether such growers favor continuation of the said marketing agreement and order. Warren C. Noland and Edmund J. Blaine of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, are hereby designated as agents of the Secretary of Agriculture to perform, jointly, or severally, the following functions in connection with the referendum:

(a) Conduct said referendum in the manner herein prescribed:

(1) By giving opportunity for each of the aforesaid growers to cast his ballot, in the manner herein authorized, relative to the aforesaid continuance of the marketing agreement and amended order, on a copy of the appropriate ballot form. A cooperative association of such growers, bona fide engaged in marketing Valencia oranges grown in the aforesaid production area or in rendering services for or advancing the interests of the growers of such Valencia oranges, may vote for the growers who are members of, stockholders in, or under contract with, such cooperative association (such vote to be cast on a copy of the appropriate ballot form), and the vote of such cooperative association shall be considered as the vote of such growers.

(2) By determining the time of commencement and termination of the period of the referendum and by giving public notice, as prescribed in (a) (3) hereof, (i) of the time during which the referendum will be conducted, (ii) that any ballot may be cast by mail, and (iii) that all ballots so cast must be addressed to Warren C. Noland, Field Representative, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California, and the time such ballots must be received.

(3) By giving public notice (i) by utilizing available agencies of public information (without advertising expense), including both press and radio facilities in the State of Arizona and designated part of California; (ii) by mailing a notice thereof (including a copy of the appropriate ballot form) to each such cooperative association and to each grower whose name and address are known; and (iii) by such other means as said referendum agents or any of them may deem advisable.

(4) By conducting meetings of growers and arranging for balloting at the meeting places, if said referendum agents or any of them determine that voting shall be at meetings. At each such meeting, balloting shall continue until all of the growers who are present, and who desire to do so, have had an opportunity to vote. Any grower may cast his ballot at any such meeting in lieu of voting by mail.

(5) By giving ballots to growers at the meetings, and receiving any ballots when they are cast.

(6) By securing the name and address of each person casting a ballot, and inquiring into the eligibility of such person to vote in the referendum.

(7) By giving public notice of the time and place of each meeting authorized hereunder by posting a notice thereof, at least two days in advance of each such meeting, at each such meeting place, and in two or more public places within the applicable area; and, so far as may be practicable, by giving additional notice in the manner prescribed in paragraph (a) (3) hereof.

(8) By appointing such person or persons as are deemed necessary or desirable to assist said agents in performing their functions hereunder. Each person so appointed shall serve without compensation and may be authorized, by said referendum agents or any of them, to perform any or all of the functions set forth in paragraphs (a) (5), (6), (7), and (8) hereof (which, in the absence of such appointment of subagents, shall be performed by said referendum agents) in accordance with the requirements set forth; and shall forward to Warren C. Noland, Field Representative, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California, immediately after the close of the referendum, the following:

(i) A register containing the name and address of each grower to whom a ballot form was given;

(ii) A register containing the name and address of each grower from whom an executed ballot was received;

(iii) All of the ballots received by the respective referendum agent in connection with the referendum, together with a certificate to the effect that the ballots forwarded are all of the ballots cast and which were received by the respective agent during the referendum period;

(iv) A statement showing when and where each notice of the referendum posted by said agent was posted and, if the notice was mailed to growers, the mailing list showing the names and addresses to which the notice was mailed and the time of such mailing; and

(v) A detailed statement reciting the method used in giving publicity to such referendum.

(b) Upon receipt by Warren C. Noland of all ballots cast in accordance with the provisions hereof, he shall canvass the ballots and prepare and submit to the Secretary a detailed report covering the results of the referendum, the manner in which the referendum was conducted, the extent and kind of public notice given, and all other information pertinent to the full analysis of the referendum and its results; and shall forward such report, together with the ballots and other information and data, to the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C.

(c) Each referendum agent and appointee pursuant hereto shall not refuse to accept a ballot submitted or cast; but should they, or any of them, deem that a ballot should be challenged for any reason, or if such ballot is challenged by any other person, said agent or appointee shall endorse above his signature, on the back of said ballot, a statement that such ballot was challenged, by whom challenged, and the reasons therefor; and the number of such challenged ballots shall be stated when they are forwarded as provided herein.

(d) All ballots shall be treated as confidential. The Director of the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, is hereby authorized to prescribe additional instructions, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, to govern the procedure to be followed by the said referendum agents and appointees in conducting said referendum.

Copies of the text of the aforesaid marketing agreement and amended order may be examined in the Office of the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., and at the Western Marketing Field Office, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, 1031 South Broadway, Room 1005, Los Angeles 15, California.

In support of its favored-nation increased rate proposals, Atlantic states in effect that its proposed changes will not result in an excessive rate of return to Atlantic from its regulated business, but will assist it in obtaining a return commensurate with the risks inherent in the exploration, development, production, gathering and sale of natural gas; cites the favored-nation clauses of its contracts; and further states that such clauses were triggered by redetermined rates of 14.9444 cents per Mcf, plus 0.5 cents per Mcf for dehydration where applicable, which Texas Eastern has been paying subject to refund to other producers in the favored-nation area. Atlantic specifically mentions, among others, a redetermined rate of 15.44 cents per Mcf, provided by Supplement No. 13 to Shell Oil Company's FPC Gas Rate Schedule Nos. 4 and 5, respectively, which rate was based upon the average of the three highest prices paid by transporters of gas in the area specified by contract.

Texas Eastern had protested the above-mentioned 14.94 cents and 15.44 cents per Mcf redetermined rates at the time they were filed by the various producers, and has submitted a protest with respect to each of Atlantic's subject favored-nation increased rate proposals.

The proposed changes may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

[1] This order does not provide for the consolidation for hearing or disposition of the several matters covered herein, nor should it be so construed.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Chapter I), public hearings shall be held upon a date to be fixed by notices from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed increased rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements.

(B) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, each of the above-designated supplements is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until December 21, 1960, and thereafter until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Neither the rate schedules nor the supplements thereto involved in the above-proposed changes shall be changed until the period of suspension has expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(D) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR, 1.8 and 1.37(f)) on or before September 5, 1960.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 812-1300]

CENTURY INVESTORS, INC., ET AL.

Notice of Filing of Application for Order Extending Period of Exemption From Provisions of Act

JULY 20, 1960.

In the matter of Century Investors, Inc., Webster Investors, Inc., American Manufacturing Company, Inc.; (File No. 812-1300).

Notice is hereby given that American Manufacturing Company, Inc. ("American"), a Delaware corporation, has filed an application requesting that the sixty day exemption from the provisions of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act") provided under section 3(b)(2) of the Act be extended until the disposition by the Commission of American's pending application for exemption filed pursuant to section 3(b)(2) of the Act.

Century Investors, Inc. ("Century") and Webster Investors, Inc. ("Webster"), both Delaware corporations, registered under the Act as closed-end, non-diversified management investment companies, and American have previously filed a joint application pursuant to section 17(b) of the Act for an order of the Commission exempting from the provisions of section 17(a) of the Act certain transactions incident to a merger of Century, Webster and American, with American as the surviving corporation under the same name. American also filed its above-mentioned application pursuant to section 3(b)(2) of the Act for an order declaring that American is not now and will not be an investment company upon consummation of the merger.

The Commission on June 16, 1960, issued a notice of and order for hearing on the aforesaid applications (Investment Company Act Release No. 3049) which recited the facts pertinent to the requested orders, (which notice and order for hearing is incorporated herein by reference).

The section 3(b)(2) application was filed by American on June 2, 1960. Section 3(b)(2) of the Act provides that the filing of an application under that Section shall exempt an applicant for a period of sixty days from all provisions of the Act applicable to investment companies. It also provides that for cause shown the Commission by order may extend such period of exemption. American has requested an extension of the exemption period on the basis of a commitment that pending determination of its status under the Act, it will not, without prior permission of the Commission, engage in any transaction or take any action which would be prohibited to a registered investment company.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 2, 1960, at 12:30 p.m. submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule 0-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the showing contained in said application, unless an order for a hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

Applicant's attorney: Arthur M. Marshall, 145 State Street, Springfield 3, Mass. By application filed November 7, 1958, as amended, applicant sought a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing operations in interstate or foreign commerce, as a common carrier, by motor vehicle, over irregular routes, transporting: (1) New furniture, as described in Appendix II to the Report in Descriptions in Motor Carrier Certificates, 61 M.C.C. 209, crated and uncrated, from Morristown, Tenn., to points in Arkansas, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Nebraska, and Texas, materials and supplies used in the manufacture of new furniture, which materials and supplies were specifically described, for example, burlap, cord and twine, electric motors, fibre, etc., between specified cities in numerous states to Morristown, Tenn. PART 20—FROZEN DESSERTS; DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

Ice Cream, Ice Milk, Frozen Custard, Sherbet, Water Ices, and Related Foods; Order Establishing Standards of Identity

In the matter of fixing and establishing definitions and standards of identity for ice cream, frozen custard, ice milk, sherbet, water ices, and related foods:

After due notices published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, public hearings were held in the above-entitled matter in 1942, 1951, and 1952. Based upon evidence received at these hearings, the Commissioner of Food and Drugs, under authority delegated to him by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, published on March 26, 1958 (23 F.R. 1991) proposed findings of fact, conclusions, and proposed identity standards for these foods. After consideration of the exceptions and written arguments received, some of which were adopted in whole or in part and some of which were rejected, as is shown by marginal notations on the exceptions on file in the office of the Hearing Clerk, the Commissioner, pursuant to the authority provided in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701(e), 52 Stat. 1046, 1055, as amended 70 Stat. 919; 21 U.S.C. 341, 371 (e)), and delegated to him by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (25 F.R. 5611), and on the basis of reliable, probative, and substantial evidence in the whole record, orders the promulgation of the following findings of fact, conclusions, and definitions and standards of identity for the subject foods.

FINDINGS OF FACT[1]

1. Ice cream is the common and usual name of the frozen food made from cream or a mixture of milk and cream, or from a combination of dairy products, with or without water, having substantially an equivalent composition. The food is sweetened with sugar or other suitable sweetening agent and may contain natural or artificial flavoring or other food ingredients, such as cocoa, fruit, and nuts, to characterize it as a kind of ice cream. It may contain small amounts of added salt as seasoning. Substances described in later findings and often referred to as stabilizers are usually added to prevent formation of large ice crystals. Artificial coloring and certain other optional ingredients may be added. (R. 42–46, 82, 231–232, 397, 430, 528–529, 688, 800, 4834)

2. The usual household practice of preparing ice cream is to prepare it from sweet cream or a mixture of sweet milk and sweet cream. However, a large proportion of commercially produced ice cream is prepared from various dairy products, with or without water, so combined that in composition the mixture closely resembles cream or a mixture of milk and cream (see finding 3). When prepared for freezing, the sweetened dairy ingredient (with other ingredients used and with or without the addition of flavoring or other characterizing ingredient) is known in the trade as ice cream mix. Certain characterizing ingredients such as fruit may be, and frequently are, added while the mix is being frozen. (R. 230–233, 402, 671–672, 699, 1049, 2252, 5236)

3. Milk and cream are composed of certain proportions of water, milk fat, and other constituents commonly referred to as nonfat milk solids or serum solids. The nonfat milk solids include proteins, milk sugar, various minerals, and certain water-soluble vitamins. The dairy products other than milk and cream (referred to in finding 2) that are used and are suitable for use in making commercial ice cream contain milk fat or nonfat milk solids or both in varying proportions and may also contain added sweetening agents. Such dairy products are dried cream, concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, superheated condensed whole milk, dried milk, skim milk, concentrated (evaporated or condensed) skim milk, superheated condensed skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk (including sweetened condensed part skim milk), nonfat dry milk, liquid or condensed or dried sweet cream buttermilk (see findings 6), butter and butter oil. (Cream includes plastic cream and a so-called concentrated milk fat; butter oil includes milk fat prepared from milk, cream, or butter.) Combinations of two or more of these products may be used. Water is added if necessary. To produce the properties associated by consumers with ice cream, the proportions of the various products used in such combinations are so adjusted that the finished ice cream mix contains substantial amounts of both milk fat and nonfat milk solids. In recent years the proportion of nonfat milk solids to milk fat in ice cream has been generally increased, as compared with the proportion naturally present in cream or mixtures of cream and milk previously used as the dairy ingredient. The most important and expensive single constituent of ice cream, however, is milk fat, and ice cream cannot be made without a substantial proportion of this constituent. There is no evidence that any milk or milk product other than cow's milk or a cow's milk product is used in making ice cream. (R. 44, 46, 50, 402, 440, 532–533, 564, 696–697, 721–728, 732, 786, 1101, 4422, 5204, 5482–5491, 5909–5910, 5967, 5969, 6189, 6198, 6241, 6386, 6502–6504, 6913–6933, 6994–7013)

4. The fat of milk is sometimes separated from milk or from butter by processes that free it almost entirely from moisture and nonfat milk solids. Such fat from butter is usually referred to as butter oil. When prepared directly from milk or cream it may also be called dry butter or dry butterfat. Butter oil is the name commonly used to designate milk fat prepared from butter by processes which eliminate moisture and nonfat milk solids almost completely. Such a product can be prepared directly from milk or cream. (R. 5908, 5968, 6241, 6386, 6422, 6503, 6917, 6933, 7010–7013, 7445–7446, 9754)

5. A proposal was made to recognize as an optional ingredient of ice cream a product prepared from skim milk by the following process: The acidity of the skim milk is adjusted to about 0.06 percent. Then water is removed until the solids content reaches about 20 percent. To this concentrated skim milk a lactic acid starter is added, and the mixture is held at 70°–72° F. until the acidity reaches 1.5 percent. It is then spray-dried. No satisfactory explanation was given of how a product of such high acidity could be used in ice cream making without causing the mix to curdle during pasteurization, unless the cultured skim milk powder were to be used in an ice cream mix that was neutralized. In experimental batches of ice cream that were neutralized the use of the cultured product was said to offer a means of producing a distinctive culture flavor in ice cream. It cannot be concluded that these manipulations are necessary or desirable or that the use of such a product would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers. The abuses that might arise from neutralization of ice cream mixes are described in finding 37. (R. 7158–7180, 7210–7243)

6. Sweet cream buttermilk, in liquid or condensed or dried form, has substantially the same composition as the corresponding form of skim milk. Careful selection and handling of the product sold as sweet cream buttermilk are necessary to avoid some degree of souring. To be suitable for use in ice cream, the product is made from cream churned when it is fresh and sweet. No starter or neutralizer is used, and the resulting buttermilk is promptly used or is promptly evaporated or dried while it is still sweet. Such buttermilk, or the concentrated or dried product mixed with water to a total solids content of 8.5 percent, has a titratable acidity of not more than 0.17 percent, calculated as lactic acid. While there was evidence concerning the desirability of limiting the total bacteria count, this is impracticable at this time. (R. 276–277, 406, 626–628, 660–661, 989, 994, 1513–1514, 1517–1519, 1520–1530, 1532–1535, 1539–1546, 1548–1555, 1562–1563, 1570–1585, 1592–1606, 1607–1615, 1620–1622, 3064, 5469–5473, 5512–5527, 7023–7066, 10619–10623)

7. The tendency in recent years to use increasing amounts of nonfat milk solids in ice cream (see finding 3) has had the effect of improving the texture and, when the fat content is held at the same level, of enhancing the nutritive value of the ice cream. Lactose (milk sugar) constitutes about half or slightly more of the nonfat milk solids. It has a limited solubility in cold water, and when the nonfat milk solids of ice cream are raised to about 12 percent or above, the lactose tends to crystallize if the ice cream is held in storage. These crystals impart an undesirable grittiness known in the trade as sandiness. In order to incorporate larger amounts of nonfat milk constituents without danger of sandiness, several processes have been proposed. (R. 491–499, 668, 681–684, 906, 1819, 1844)

8. A product was proposed from which some of the lactose is removed from sweetened condensed skim milk by crystallization. The resulting product differs from sweetened condensed skim milk only in that it has a lower lactose content. It is a suitable ingredient for ice cream. (R. 491–499, 684)

9. Another product with less lactose proposed as an optional ingredient derived from skim milk is prepared by separating the casein from skim milk by the addition of a gum. Usually, calcium chloride is also added. The precipitated mass is collected and dried. The final product contains casein, gum, some calcium chloride if this salt is used to aid precipitation, and a part of the soluble constituents of the skim milk. The method of preparing this product also results in a very considerable loss of the vitamins and minerals of the original skim milk. Optional use of this product as an ingredient added to, but not in substitution for, required milk solids would help avoid sandiness and furnish some of the desired effects claimed for this ingredient. (R. 686–686, 728–729, 916, 1627–1650, 2206)

10. Other partially "delactosed" products were proposed as optional ingredients. These consisted of concentrated skim milks to which various enzymes had been added to hydrolyze the lactose in part to the more soluble sugars glucose and galactose. No exact description nor identification of the enzymes was furnished. It was stated that the enzyme was obtained by separating active enzymatic material from media prepared from milk and corn products on which a lactose-splitting yeast had been grown. Several yeasts are known to be capable of forming enzymes that hydrolyze lactose. Some are reported to form toxic products. The proponents of the recognition, as an optional ingredient of ice cream, of milk or skim milk treated with an enzyme prepared from a special lactose-splitting yeast did not name the yeast they used, as they considered this fact a trade secret. They did name a number of yeasts and implied that the yeast used was one of these. Feeding tests were reported on milk preparations in which the lactose had been in part hydrolyzed by an enzyme preparation from an unidentified yeast.

This testimony does not adequately identify the proposed optional ingredients. Accordingly, it is impossible to determine that their inclusion in ice cream would promote the interest of the consumer. (R. 6958–6989, 9405–9408, 15376–15397, 15412–15430, 21088–21140)

11. A number of products were offered as optional ingredients in ice cream which also fall in the category of casein compounds derived from the manipulation of skim milk. They were advocated to increase the solids content of ice cream without danger of sandiness. These caseinates were said to be prepared by the following basic procedure: The casein of skim milk is coagulated by the addition of an acid, usually hydrochloric, or by methods described in findings 8 and 9. The coagulated casein is separated from the other solids of the skim milk and is then treated with alkalizing reagents to yield products designated in the testimony as sodium caseinates, calcium caseinates, potassium caseinates, and ammonium caseinates. Excess alkali is washed out, and the resulting product is usually dried. These products consist mostly of casein or a compound of casein and the alkali used. They are suitable ingredients for addition to ice cream already having 20 percent total solids furnished by unaltered dairy ingredients. (R. 686–687, 927–932, 1640–1641, 2200, 7091–7098, 9351–9353, 9364–9399, 15600–15657, 15664–15668, 15677–15700)

12. The caseinates referred to in the previous findings of fact are derived by considerable manipulation of skim milk. Such manipulation leads to a product different from unaltered dairy ingredients. In the methods of preparation practically all the lactose and much of the minerals and vitamins present in skim milk are removed. To this extent, the expected nutritive value of the ice cream would be lessened if the caseinates were permitted to be substituted for the dairy ingredients. Witnesses who testified in the hearings said that the caseinates could be used in addition to the nonfat milk solids for the purpose of increasing the total solids content of ice cream without danger of sandiness. The use of sodium caseinate in ice cream is reported to result in a "wet ice cream" (see finding 38). The main use of caseinates has been as ingredients of special types of mixes, sold under trade names, for the preparation of some special types of frozen dessert. There is no need to manipulate the casein of milk for the commercial production of ice cream. Most of the caseinates are seldom used in the commercial preparation of ice cream. There was no evidence to justify the conclusion that substitution of these caseinates for the nonfat milk solids is in the interest of consumers of commercial ice cream. There is no justification for considering the caseinates as milk solids. The testimony does indicate that the caseinates may serve some useful purpose in increasing the protein value of ice cream if they are added to the permitted total milk solids. Use of such products in substitution for the nonfat milk solids of ice cream would not be in the interest of the consumer, but where these products are added to an ice cream mix already containing not less than 20 percent total milk solids, such ice cream could contain more solids without sandiness and would permit the attainment of the desirable qualities attributed to high-solids ice cream. (R. 7091–7098, 7645–7646, 9351–9353, 9364–9399, 11302–11303, 15600–15657, 15664–15668, 15677–15700)

13. There was testimony proposing as an optional ingredient a product said to be effective in combating sandiness in ice cream when high total solids are present. The testimony referred to this product sometimes as base-exchange treated milk and sometimes as ion-exchange treated milk. The precise treatment encompassed by either of these terms is not clear from the record, although mention was made of passage through sodium aluminum silicate as one method of preparation. There are other ion-exchange reagents the effects of which on milk were not discussed. No testimony was given proposing any limitation on what ion-exchange reagents might be used in preparing the proposed ingredient. In the one process discussed, approximately 20 percent of the calcium in the milk is replaced with sodium, approximately 20 percent of the phosphorus is also removed, and the acidity is reduced. It is not known what effects other ion-exchange reagents might produce in the milk. Lactose crystallization or sandiness in ice cream containing more than 12 percent of nonfat milk solids is claimed to be less likely when base-exchange treated milk is used. Evidence used to support this contention by the witnesses may be interpreted differently. Substantial testimony had been previously offered by other witnesses that sandiness occurs with high levels of serum solids and may be prevented by adding ingredients in which the lactose content has been lowered. The so-called base- or ion-exchange treated milk has had no lactose removed. The use of such milk is also claimed to improve whipping properties of the ice cream mix. Such a product has been used in widely sold ice cream mix concentrates for preparing a frozen dessert in home refrigerators, but it is doubtful that such a product would be of significant advantage to an ice cream manufacturer.

Neither the substitution of sodium for calcium nor the partial elimination of phosphorus will promote the interests of consumers of ice cream. The evidence does not show that the only effects on the milk are the exchange of sodium for calcium, reduction of phosphorus, and reduction of acidity. It is not established that use of base-exchange or ion-exchange treated milk will promote the interests of the consumers. (R. 7091–7106, 9351–9353, 9373, 9449–9461, Ex. 90)

14. A milk protein product proposed as an optional ingredient was referred to in the testimony as "solubilized whole milk protein." This product is essentially sodium caseinate with some of the minor protein fractions of the skim milk. The product is prepared by adding milk alkalizing ingredients to skim milk and heating the mixture. Hydrochloric acid is added in an amount sufficient to effect precipitation of the protein fractions. Alkali is then added to the precipitated curd to adjust the pH to approximately 6.8 or 6.7. The product is spray-dried. The resultant powder is said to have extensive water-holding properties. The product appears to be essentially a caseinate and may properly be classed as an optional ingredient for addition to ice cream mix containing not less than 20 percent total milk solids. (R. 6447–6459, 15660–15657, 15664–15668, 15677–15700) (R. 54–55, 237, 248, 400, 844, 1152, 3032; OP Ex. 2)

19. Various artificial food flavorings are also widely used to modify or characterize the flavor of ice cream. They may be added as such or as components of other ingredients. When so used that they do not create a misleading impression as to the presence of a natural ingredient or be prescribed as an optional ingredient, artificial food flavorings are suitable ingredients of ice cream. Consumers quite generally prefer natural over artificial flavorings and desire to know when artificial flavorings are present in ice cream. To the extent that accurate information can be conveyed to consumers by labeling on ice cream, label statements of the use of artificial flavorings are in the consumer's interest. Labels that comply with the requirements of the general provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act are "artificially flavored." "artificial flavoring added," with added artificial flavoring," or, if the artificial flavoring is not added as such but as a component of some other ingredient, "the statement "_____ artificially flavored," the blank being filled in with the name of such other ingredient. (R. 85–86, 416, 426–429, 1248, 1362–1384, 1391–1394, 1401–1402, 1963–1965, 1982, 1997, 2011–2012, 2903, 5095–5099, 5254, 21324–21326, 21371–21374; Ex. 413)

20. The kind of ice cream now produced in greatest quantity has a flavor derived from one or a combination of the substances vanilla beans (which are the tract of vanilla beans (which are the sources of the flavoring recognized by consumers as "vanilla"), and from artificial flavoring substances such as synthetically produced vanillin, which simulate vanilla flavor. Persons interested in the vanilla bean industry advocated that standards for ice cream should prescribe the type of flavor used and that for the food with the specified name "vanilla ice cream" the standard should require that only natural flavor from vanilla beans could be used. The notices of the hearing and the Commissioner of the evidence as submitted by other persons support establishing a standard for the food "ice cream" and standards for each of the many specific kinds of ice cream. Aside from being inadequately supported by the record, regulations setting separate specific standards for the different kinds of ice cream would be more complex and restrictive than a standard listing the characterizing ingredients and flavorings as optional ingredients. The purpose sought to be served by prescribing the flavoring ingredients was the prevention of misleading labeling. It is concluded that a preferable way to achieve this purpose, and one which will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, is to provide, in designating artificial flavoring for label declaration, that where the label names the food as "vanilla ice cream" or "vanilla flavored ice cream" no artificial flavoring is used, and to provide further that in any ice cream where both natural and artificial flavors are used, any representation made on the label that the ice cream contains natural flavoring shall be accompanied immediately and conspicuously by labeling to show that artificial flavoring is also used. (R. 84–85, 237, 538, 540, 1364, 1395, 4451–4452, 4469, 4462–4466, 4468, 4471, 4473, 4479, 4511–4513, 4517, 4521, 4527, 4532–4536, 4552–4553, 4566, 4576, 4587–4591, 4650, 4656, 4661, 4681–4683, 4688, 4710, 4713, 4728, 4730, 4756, 4782, 4789, 4801, 4912–4913, 4916–4917, 4943, 4952, 4971, 4980, 5092–5094, 11101–11119, 11122–11129, 11131, 11137, 15288, 15306, 15319, 15323; Ex. 228–232, 310)

21. Chocolate, various kinds of cocoa, the unpulverized residual material prepared by removing part of the fat from ground cacao beans, or mixtures of any two or more of these substances are used as characterizing ingredients of a kind of ice cream. These cacao ingredients may be added to the ice cream mix as added, with the same allowance for sugar added to the coconut ingredient as with other sweetened fruits. The use of coconut should be subject to the same minimum requirements for milk fat in the fruit ice cream as are required in the case of other fruits. (R. 11176–11266)

25. Substantial quantities of fruit must be added to ice cream to impart the definite fruit characteristics expected by consumers in a fruit type of ice cream. However, the evidence is insufficient to establish numerical minima for the content of the various fruits so used. (R. 58, 86, 188–192, 252–265, 269–271, 417–421, 1050–1059, 1091, 1097, 1105–1109, 1111–1113, 1123, 1144, 1147, 1152, 1161–1162, 1282–1286, 1304, 1330, 1365–1366; 1377, 1959–1960, 1973, 6936–6939; OPEx. 5; Govt. Ex. 8, 9, 10)

26. Properly prepared nuts are frequently used to characterize ice cream. The nuts used are sometimes roasted or cooked in butter or other food oil or fat and are sometimes preserved in a syrup. Substantial quantities of nuts must be added to ice cream to impart the definite characteristics expected by consumers in a nut-type ice cream. However, the record does not contain sufficient evidence to establish numerical minima for the contents of the various nuts so used. (R. 58–59, 86, 197, 241–242, 254–265, 271, 422–424, 545, 1060–1063, 1110, 1151, 1153, 1231–1232, 1282–1289, 1305, 1961–1963, 1978–1979, 1981, 2005, 2900, 2973–2974, 2994, 5095–5099, 5822, 5837, 5954–5955, 6193–6194; Govt. Ex. 8, 9, 10; OPEx. 5)

27. In addition to contributing sweetness, maple sugar, maple sugar, honey, brown sugar, malt syrup, dried malt syrup, malt extract in liquid or dry form, and molasses (other than blackstrap) are frequently used to characterize ice cream or modify its flavor, and are suitable for such use. A product somewhat similar to molasses but obtained in the process of refining crude sugar is known under the general term "refiner's syrup." There was evidence that some refiner's syrups are suitable for sweetening ice cream. In addition to sweetening, refiner's syrup may impart some flavor. There was no evidence that any designation of a kind of ice cream had ever contained a reference to refiner's syrup, but there is no reason to conclude that refiner's syrup cannot be used in a special type of ice cream without jeopardizing the consumer's interest. (R. 43, 243, 406, 693, 1714, 1730, 1733, 1948–1951, 5891, 6313–6375, 11306–11312, 11321–11324, 11332, 11334–11373, 15040–15103, 16114–15126, 15147–15222)

28. Malted milk is used, and is suitable for use, as a characterizing ingredient of ice cream. Although malted milk contains substantial quantities of milk solids, its use by ice cream manufacturers is solely as a characterizing ingredient and not as a source of milk fat or nonfat milk solids. (R. 894, 801–802, 936–938, 1653–1657, 11326–11327)

29. Candy, cakes, cookies, cooked cereals, and glaceed fruits also are used to characterize ice cream, and are suitable for such use. (R. 57, 59, 244–247, 424–425, 4626–4628)

30. Wines and distilled alcoholic beverages, including liqueurs, are used to characterize ice cream and are suitable for such use. (R. 59, 426–426, 1153, 1338–1343)

31. Eggs or egg yolks (liquid, frozen, or dried) are often used in small quantities in ice cream, both in the home and in commercial manufacturing plants. Their use commercially is said to facilitate whipping or the incorporation of air into the ice cream. When eggs or egg yolks are used in sufficient quantity they impart their color and flavor and create a frozen product different from ice cream and which is known as frozen custard (see finding 50). The egg ingredient should be added before the mix is pasteurized. The quantity of egg or egg yolk used in ice cream is such that the egg yolk solids in the finished ice cream are less than in frozen custard. (R. 56–58, 82, 87, 234, 397, 431–437, 691–692, 741–742, 932–936, 997–998, 4834–4836)

32. A number of different substances used in ice cream for the same general purpose may be grouped into the class commonly known to ice cream manufacturers as stabilizers. The practice of using such substances began many years ago with the addition to ice cream mix of small amounts of gelatin. Other substances were also found to be helpful in retarding the formation of large ice crystals in ice cream, particularly when the ice cream is stored for some time under conditions that cause it to undergo changes in temperature. Effects on the properties of ice cream other than retardation of ice formation can be obtained with some of the stabilizers now used. The capacity of an ice cream mix to incorporation of any of the citrus oils found in the skin of the fruit. Most of the flavoring materials in the citrus fruits are found in the oil of the peel. The citrus oils may be recovered separately and added back to the juice to improve the flavor of the citrus juices. Addition of the citrus oils will not be suitable in excess of the amount that would have been obtained if the peel from the whole fruit had been used. Fruits are usually sweetened before addition to ice cream, and for some types of ice cream (ripple, variegated, marbleized) the fruit and sugar mixture is thickened with pectin or one of the ingredients named in finding 32. The proportion of sugars to fruits varies, but the sugar content of mixtures usually ranges from 30 percent to 50 percent of the weight of the fruit. Sometimes prepared fruits have been acidulated or are acidulated before use. Citric and ascorbic acids are suitable for the acidulation of such fruits. Ascorbic acid is sometimes used in frozen fruit to reduce discoloration due to enzymatic oxidation. 24. Coconut in several forms is used to characterize ice cream. The coconut ingredient may be shredded, comminuted, or in particles of varying sizes intermediate between shreds and the very fine particles of comminuted coconut. The shredded form of coconut is often sweetened. The comminuted form imparts a greater proportion of coconut flavor to ice cream than the other forms. On a moisture-free basis, the flesh of the coconut contains a high proportion (usually over 60 percent) of a fatty oil. When comminuted coconut is added to an ice cream mix, this fatty oil becomes commingled with the milk fat of the mix. When shredded coconut is so used, most of the coconut oil remains in the shreds. It is possible, however, by chemical analysis to estimate the quantity of coconut oil in the mixture. Coconuts are sometimes considered a fruit, and for the purpose of an ice cream standard it is reasonable to classify coconut as a fruit and permit a reduction in milk fat in proportion to the weight of coconut variable. In some instances only male rats were used; in others there were combinations of males and females, but predominantly males. In the Kelcoloid experiments, some rats died early on the lowest level, (5 percent) fed; diarrhea was noted at times, but no attempt was made to establish whether the deaths were due to Kelcoloid or to ascertain the significance of the diarrhea. In the experimental feeding of Kelcoloid to chicks their growth was retarded at all levels used, but this was ascribed to the physical condition of the diet, without further experimental feeding using various quantities of the test substance in the diets and of diets prepared to have different consistencies. 34. Calcium sulfate has been used in conjunction with some stabilizers for the purpose of making ice cream stiffer, drier, and slower melting. There was considerable testimony that its use imparted desirable characteristics to ice cream drawn from counter freezers for cups, cones, and some novelties. When calcium sulfate is used it supplements the other stabilizers, and their combined weight need not exceed 0.5 percent of the weight of the finished ice cream. (R. 10428-10430, 10438-10469, 15434-15447, 15453, 15459-15463, 15469-15475, 15488, 15498, 15503-15535, 15556-15564)

35. A proposal was made that a propylene glycol solution of butylated hydroxyanisole, propyl gallate, and citric acid be permitted as an antioxidant for dairy ingredients used in ice cream, but before testimony on this substance was completed the proposal was withdrawn. (R. 21146-21287)

36. A proposal was made to make nordihydroguaiaretic acid (NDGA) and citric acid dissolved in propylene glycol optional ingredients of any of the dairy ingredients recognized in the definition and standard of identity adopted for ice cream, with limits of 0.005 percent for NDGA and 0.0025 percent for citric acid, calculated as percentages by weight of the butterfat (milk fat) content of such dairy product ingredients. The evidence indicated that in some instances where cream was frozen and stored for later use in ice cream, a type of off-flavor (referred to as oxidized flavor) developed in the cream, and that the development of this off-flavor could be prevented or retarded by adding the solution of NDGA and citric acid to the cream before freezing. Citric acid was added to have a synergistic effect on the NDGA; propylene glycol was merely a convenient solvent. It was said that sweetened condensed milk also developed oxidized off-flavors at times and that this could be prevented or retarded by the addition of NDGA to the sweetened condensed milk. There was also evidence of the development of off-flavors in fluid milk, but little connection was shown between such milk and ice cream. Although there are rather voluminous reports in the literature on the subject of so-called oxidized flavors in dairy products, there is little real proof that flavors so noted are due to oxidation.

There are definitions and standards of identity for cream and sweetened condensed milk issued under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (21 CFR, Part 18), and in neither standard is NDGA, citric acid, or propylene glycol listed as an optional ingredient. To provide in the standard for ice cream that NDGA, citric acid, and propylene glycol may be added to cream and sweetened condensed milk that are later to be used in ice cream would have the effect of amending the standards for cream and sweetened condensed milk or making separate standards for these foods for use in ice cream, without following the requirements of section 701 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. There was evidence concerning the pharmacological properties of NDGA, but in view of the finding of the inadequacy of the record as a basis for amending the standards for cream and sweetened condensed milk, no findings on evidence relative to pharmacological properties of NDGA will be made. (R. 13288-13371, 15567-15598)

37. Ice cream has traditionally been made from dairy ingredients that are fresh and sweet. Consumers, from their general knowledge of the composition of ice cream, would not expect the dairy ingredients used in ice cream to be otherwise. The development of lactic acid or souring in a dairy ingredient indicates that that dairy ingredient is not fresh, and consequently is not a proper ingredient in ice cream. Testimony was offered that neutralizing small amounts of developed lactic acid in souring milk would permit this milk to be used without the processing difficulties that are apt to

ids. It was also claimed that use of this product will enhance the whipping properties and the water-holding power of the protein in ice cream mixes.

The testimony shows that these various products have all had alkalies added to them and the effects claimed for these products are the same as those claimed by other witnesses who testified about direct addition by the ice cream manufacturers of these same alkalies for neutralization. The alkalies are discussed in finding 37 and their addition to ice cream directly or in admixture with other constituents is subject to the objections expressed in that finding.

The record contains conflicting testimony on the effect of alkalinized products in preventing sandiness caused by lactose crystallization. According to the testimony of competent investigators, the addition of calcium hydroxide and disodium phosphate to ice cream mix for the prevention of sandiness is not justified. The diversity in the testimony of record is such as to make unwarranted a finding of fact that NuMix or other alkali-treated products have significant effects on the formation of lactose crystals. (R. 44, 730, 3238-3280, 3557-3570, 3605-3616, 6564-6567, 7735-7880, 12366-12400, 12412-12438, 12444-12493, 12592-12603-12608, 12666-12669; Ex. 20, 24, 97)

40. Carotene (provitamin A) was proposed by a manufacturer of this substance as an optional ingredient of ice cream for the purpose of enhancing its nutritive value. The evidence does not establish that carotene is stable and retains its potency in ice cream. It is not shown that, even if carotene retains its potency in ice cream, the quantity of vitamin A it would contribute to such diets would be of any substantial significance; nor was it shown that carotene would otherwise serve a useful purpose in ice cream. To avoid confusing and misleading consumers, the fortification of foods with vitamins should be restricted to a few staple foods that are effective carriers of the particular vitamins deficient in the diet of a significant segment of the population that regularly consumes the foods to be fortified. The quantities of carotene suggested for addition to ice cream would be of no substantial nutritional significance and would tend to mislead consumers. (R. 3550-3561, 3571-3577, 4992-5012, 5041-5046; CFRC. 180) testimony in the record does not reveal sufficient facts to determine that the other uses of the mineral salts proposed as optional ingredients would be in the interest of consumers. (R. 624, 709-711, 745-763, 769-770, 809-822, 845-858, 869-874, 921-926, 960-977, 996-1000, 1790, 1876-1881, 2172, 2288-2296, 2496, 2520-2523, 3113-3160, 3182-3190, 3202-3205-3223, 5135, 5260-5267, 5332-5336, 5418, 5421, 5432, 6044-6045, 6121-6124, 6390-6391, 6438-6440, 6466-6473, 6482, 6484, 6498-6500, 6513-6519, 6570, 9766-9766, 12673-12712)

38. Several products have been made by adding alkalies to skim milk and concentrating the mixture or by first concentrating the skim milk and then adding the alkalies. The mixtures are dried to a powder and sold under various trade names with representations to ice cream manufacturers that use of the particular product will affect an ice cream in various desirable ways. The desirable effects claimed usually involve the adjustment of the viscosity of the mix, changing the whipping qualities, elevating the water-holding power of the protein, and increasing the quantity of nonfat milk solids in the mix without danger of sandiness.

There was testimony concerning a mixture of an alkali-treated dried skim milk and dried egg yolk, the claimed use of which would cause a change in the texture and whipping quality of the mix and permit a high overrun.

There was considerable testimony about a product sold under the trade name of Nutrimix. Witnesses for the manufacturer gave different information concerning the composition of the product. Some of the testimony indicates that skim milk is evaporated to either 40 percent or 30 percent solids, and calcium hydroxide is added to one portion of the condensed skim milk and disodium phosphate is added to a second portion. The two portions are blended into a mixture containing approximately 1 percent calcium hydroxide and 0.35 percent disodium phosphate on a dry-weight basis. The resultant mixture may be used in either liquid or spray-dried form. Sometimes magnesium hydroxide and sodium citrate may be used. The principal claim made for this product was that the likelihood of sandiness from crystallization of lactose would be reduced by using Nutrimix as an ingredient of ice cream with high nonfat milk solids. It was also claimed that use of this product will enhance the whipping properties and the water-holding power of the protein in ice cream mixes.

The testimony shows that these various products have all had alkalies added to them and the effects claimed for these products are the same as those claimed by other witnesses who testified about direct addition by the ice cream manufacturers of these same alkalies for neutralization. The alkalies are discussed in finding 37 and their addition to ice cream directly or in admixture with other constituents is subject to the objections expressed in that finding.

to hold incorporated air may be affected. The viscosity of the mix and of the melted ice cream may be increased. The use of some stabilizers may produce a smoothness suggestive of richness. Deception of consumers through use of some stabilizers appears possible; but aside from suggesting that a limit be set on the quantity of stabilizer used, the record affords insufficient basis for restricting the use of stabilizers to those that affect only ice formation. A limit of not more than 0.5 percent of stabilizing substance has long been in effect in many State standards, and this limit is generally regarded by ice cream manufacturers as reasonable. In addition to using a stabilizer in the ice cream mix, a stabilizing substance, including pectin, is sometimes added separately to the fruit ingredient.[1] A limit of 0.5 percent of pectin or other stabilizer is sufficient to include this additional use.

The following substances were, at one time or another prior to the hearing held in 1942, used as stabilizers: Gelatin, sodium alginate (often referred to as algin), extract of Irish moss, Irish moss, lecithin, psyllium seed husks, agar-agar, and several gums, including gum acacia, gum karaya, locust bean gum (carob bean gum), gum tragacanth. Guar seed gum has since been used. Dextrin is often used as a carrier for such stabilizers. A substance derived from oat flour and referred to as oat gum is also apparently effective as a stabilizer. Oat flour has some stabilizing properties, but such large quantities are needed that, when used alone, it is not a satisfactory stabilizer. There was testimony that oat flour has antioxidant properties, but no need for the use of such an antioxidant in ice cream was established. Pectin may be used as a stabilizing ingredient in the fruit component of some ice cream. Since 1941, a substance prepared from cotton linters by treating them with sodium hydroxide and then reacting with monochloracetic acid has been widely used as a stabilizer. The chemical name of the substance is sodium carboxymethylcellulose. It is often referred to by the rather misleading designation "cellulose gum." Pharmacological tests of this product were reported which indicated that it passed through the body without being absorbed. (R. 45, 53, 90, 437-439, 549-551, 691, 733-741, 805-806, 824-830, 1860, 2031-2038, 2040-2047, 2067-2073, 2079-2119, 2124-2188, 2190-2192, 2202, 2206-2223, 2240-2259, 2271-2276, 2336-2339, 2374-2382, 2468, 2485-2486, 2518, 2557, 2564, 2691-2717, 2735-2763, 2781-2773, 2775-2782, 2802-2824, 2832-2873, 3053, 3203, 4888-4890, 4912, 5895-5896, 6025-6027, 6066-6076, 6224-6225, 6267-6268, 6274-6275, 6370-6386, 6388-6394, 6436-6439, 6496-6496, 6526-6535, 6542-6549, 6566-6570, 6643-6945, 7314-7317, 7558-7559, 9466-9540, 9540-9584, 9588-9607, 9618-9621, 9644-9650, 9651-9658, 9668-9723, 9746-9752, 9764-9770, 9772, 9814-9822, 9830-9831, 9833-9834, 9857-9857, 9890-9891, 10020-10053, 10079-10131, 10158-10165, 10170-10173, 10194-10203, 10208-10213, 10423-10428, 10430-10437, 10600, 10693-10715, 10730-10734, 10758-10766, 10761-10762, 10814-10829, 10831-10834, 10840-10844, 10850-10852, 10854-11007, 11053-11057, 11089-11091, 11084-11086, 15104-15114, 15127-15145, 15222-15284, 15468-15482; Ex. 90, 91)

33. Another product, developed since 1942, which was proposed as a stabilizer in ice cream, is a propylene glycol ester of alginic acid, sold under the trade name of Kelcoloid. The sodium salt of alginic acid (see finding 32, sodium alginate) was the subject of testimony at the earlier hearing held in 1942. Limited testimony at that time concerning the pharmacological properties of sodium alginate indicated that it was suitable for use in foods. Later, in 1951, reports of feeding experiments with both the sodium alginate (in preparations having the trade names Darliold and Kelgin) and the alginic acid ester of propylene glycol (sold under the trade name Kelcoloid) were introduced into this record, and there was testimony about the experiments so reported. The reports of the completed experiments show that the experimental work was carried out in such a way that it is impossible to draw from the record reliable conclusions relative to the significance of the results. For example, the number of rats used in long-term experiments was so small that calculations of average life spans of control and experimental animals may be unreliable. In the experimental feeding of the product called Kelcoloid, rats of different breeds were used in some experiments, introducing an unnecessary

[1] Although this practice may be without deception when such fruit is used in ice cream, this finding has no application to thickeners added to fruit for other uses.

41. Many kinds of ice cream are colored. When so used they do not create a misleading impression regarding the presence of a natural ingredient or the amount of a natural ingredient present, colorings are suitable ingredients of ice cream. (R. 53–54, 56, 547–548, 614, 776–778, 1021, 1102–1103, 1119–1120, 1142–1144, 1148, 1183, 1244, 1958, 1970, 1975, 1993–1998, 2507, 3028, 4331, 4335, 4345)

42. To obtain uniformity of distribution of the components of ice cream mix and to disperse the fat particles so as to produce a better texture in the finished product, it is customary to heat the ice cream mix to a temperature of not less than 145° F. or above while the mix is being stirred and then to run it through a homogenizer. (R. 43, 530, 746–747)

43. The heating prior to homogenization is normally such that it pasteurizes the mix. Pasteurization reduces the danger of milk-borne diseases and increases the keeping quality of ice cream. Pasteurization is generally recognized as an essential step in the preparation of commercial ice cream, and consumers expect the protection from milk-borne diseases afforded by pasteurization. (R. 397, 534, 745)

44. The milk fat content of ice cream has been considered an important factor in the identity of this frozen food. A sufficient quantity of milk fat is necessary to impart certain properties to ice cream that serve to differentiate ice cream from less rich frozen foods, such as ice milk and sherbets. In the period 1900–1941 each State and the District of Columbia by legislation or regulation fixed minimum limits for milk fat in ice cream. In many cases the limits in a State have been changed once or oftener, reflecting changing conditions in the ice cream industry. Just prior to the beginning of World War II, the minimum requirements for milk fat in plain ice cream in the various States and the District of Columbia were as follows:

Minimum requirement of 8 percent milk fat: District of Columbia, Missouri, Rhode Island, Texas, West Virginia.

Minimum requirement of 10 percent milk fat: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Montana, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming.

Minimum requirement of 12 percent milk fat: Colorado, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah.

Minimum requirement of 13 percent milk fat: Wisconsin.

Minimum requirement of 14 percent milk fat: Nevada, New Hampshire, Vermont.

In all States ice cream with a milk fat content higher than the minimum required by the State law are manufactured and sold. A survey made in 1947 by the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers indicated that ice cream manufacturers indicated that about two-thirds of the so-called vanilla ice cream (including unflavored ice cream) made in the United States had a fat content of 12 percent or over. (R. 11398–11434; Ex. 135, 135A, 136, 137, 138, 139, 182, 415; Govt. Ex. 4)

In some areas the milk fat content of the formula found most profitable is around 10 percent and in other areas as 15 percent or higher. In either case, the total milk solids content is usually 20 percent or more. Ice cream having a fat content ranging from 10 percent to about 14 percent do not vary so greatly in their richness that they are readily distinguishable from each other by merely tasting. Particularly if the commodity of the melted ice cream is increased by use of a stabilizer or heat treatment of the mix, and ice cream manufacturers depend on consumer acceptance of a liking for a particular brand from continued use. When the fat content goes about 15 percent, however, an ice cream can be readily distinguished from ice cream with a fat content of around 10 percent.

Generally, the retail price of ice creams of a fat content higher than 15 percent is definitely more than that of ice cream, except that part of finding 1 on the name "ice cream" and that part of finding 31 limiting the egg yolk solids content of ice cream, are applicable to frozen custard. It is reasonable to provide that the minimum quantity of egg yolk solids prescribed for frozen custard or french ice cream may be lowered when ingredients are used to characterize such foods, in the same manner as provided for lowering fat content in ice cream. (See page references under finding 31; also R. 528–524, 589; Govt. Ex. 4)

51. A frozen product closely resembling ice cream but containing less milk fat than ice cream is defined by the laws of several States. In 1941, the laws of 14 States defined such a product as "imitation ice cream," and 10 of these States prohibited the sale of imitation ice cream. Twelve States had laws which, among other things, defined a frozen milk product containing less milk fat than ice cream as "ice milk." These laws prescribed restrictions designed to prevent deception of purchasers through the sale of ice milk. Investigation in 1941 of local sales of ice milk showed that ice milk could be easily passed off as ice cream.

Since 1941, the sale of frozen products resembling ice cream but having

52. Sherbet is a frozen food having a number of characteristics that distinguish it from ice cream. The most outstanding characteristics of ice cream, even of the fruit types, are the smoothness, texture, and richness in taste and the food values arising from a relatively high content of milk fat and nonfat milk solids; whereas, the principal characteristic of most sherbet arises from its content of fruit or fruit juice. Sherbet contains milk-constituent solids, but in quantities much less than does ice cream and these solids usually serve to impart to the frozen food no more than a slightly milky (not creamy) taste. Most States have standards or regulations limiting the milk fat and milk solids and requiring some acidity in sherbets, so as to enable consumers to distinguish sherbets from ice cream and ice milk. (R. 21-22, 69-70, 88, 398, 410, 4433, 530, 2504-2506, 4211, 4278-4279, 4834, 4914-4915, 5146-5147, 5249, 13064-13069, 13107-13112, 13159-13183, 21349-21368; Ex. 183, 184, 185, 186)

53. There are other significant differences between ice cream and sherbet. Sherbet has a tarter taste, due to its fruit content or to added acid or both; it is usually somewhat sweeter than ice cream, lower in total solids, and of somewhat coarser texture. (R. 22, 68-70, 200, 398, 530, 1991, 2834, 4196, 4198, 4212, 4221-4224, 4391-4392, 4834)

54. Small quantities of frozen foods that contain no fruit or fruit juice but that are characterized by mint, wine, chocolate, vanilla, tea, coffee, spices, ginger ale, or pistachio have at times been sold as sherbets. Some of these are asceristic tartness of sherbet. Such products can be made to resemble ice cream or ice milk; and to the extent that they are so made they tend toward deception of consumers. The name "sherbet," so generally implies a frozen food of fruity characteristics that it is likely to be misleading when applied to a nonfruity food. Such so-called sherbets containing no fruit nor fruit juice are very similar to ice milk, and it is concluded that they should comply with the standard for ice milk. (R. 73, 411-412, 4219, 4236, 4241-4244, 4249, 4297, 4304, 4834, 4914-4915, 5146-5147, 5249)

55. The findings with respect to the preparation of fruit ingredients for use in ice cream are applicable to fruit ingredients for use in sherbets. Screened or crushed tomato and rhubarb may be considered as fruits when used to characterize sherbets. The quantity of fruit used in sherbets by wholesale manufacturers varies widely. The International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers proposed as minimum limits for fruit or fruit juice in sherbets: 2 percent including the peel, in the case of citrus sherbets; 6 percent in the case of berry sherbets; and 10 percent in the case of other sherbets. Such limits will serve some useful purposes in the consumer's interest. The International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers also proposed that in addition to fruit there might be used in sherbets artificial fruit flavorings and natural food flavoring derived from fruit.

At present many manufacturers of sherbets add flavoring materials to enhance the flavor imparted by the actual fruit or fruit juice used. Such flavorings, if added without label declaration, are misleading to consumers who feel that sherbets should be characterized by fruit or fruit juice. The record shows that there is dissatisfaction with some sherbets the flavor of which has been described by dissatisfied consumers as "artificial." Where such flavorings are added to sherbets containing fruit or fruit juice, label statements of their use are in the consumer's interest. Except in the case of citrus fruits, where the oils in the peel are suitable for use in flavoring sherbets, the evidence does not support the conclusion that so-called natural food flavoring derived from fruit was what it purported to be. Most such flavorings contain materials derived from sources other than the fruit the name of which they bear. Use of any flavoring materials added to the fruit or fruit juice characterizing the particular sherbet should in the interest of consumers be declared on the label.

Where the flavoring material added consists in whole or in part of any artificial flavor, label statements that comply with the requirements of the general provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act are "artificially flavored," "artificial flavoring added," "with added artificial flavoring," or, if the artificial flavoring is not added as such but as a component of some other ingredient, the statement "_____ artificially flavored," the blank being filled in with the name of such other ingredient.

When the flavoring material added consists entirely of flavors other than artificial flavors, it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers for the label to bear the statement "flavoring added," "with added flavoring", or "_____ flavoring added," the blank being filled in with the name of the flavoring used. (R. 70-71, 270-271, 411, 417-418, 530, 543, 1960, 2504-2507, 3517-3518, 3081-3035, 4189-4190, 4192-4195, 4219, 4221-4222, 4246, 4261-4262, 4278-4279, 4289, 4295, 4303, 4333-4337, 4372, 4507, 5146-5147, 5917-5918, 5924-5931, 5972-5975, 6192, 6210-6223, 6243-6246, 6259-6266, 7426-7431, 9827-9828, 9840-9850, 11881-11882, 12788-12795, 12805-12876, 12904-12956; Ex. 180, 181)

56. Sherbet is frequently referred to as "milk sherbet," and this designation is used in many State laws defining the product. Some of the essential characteristics of fruit sherbet are imparted to it by its content of milk fat and nonfat milk solids. The milk-constituent solids of fruit sherbet are ordinarily obtained by adding unflavored ice cream mix, with or without cue or more of the dairy products specified in finding 3 as suitable for use in making ice cream. Sometimes milk is used alone or in combination with other dairy products. All the dairy ingredients found suitable for use in ice cream are also suitable for use in fruit sherbet, but the use of skim milk in any of its forms as the sole dairy ingredient would tend to mislead consumers. Milk solids are less important in ice cream. There was testimony that cheese whey gives sherbets certain desirable properties, enhancing the fruity characteristics, and such sherbets have been commercially distributed. Cheese whey is a suitable optional ingredient of fruit sherbet. Honesty and fair dealing in the interest of the consumer will be promoted by designating this ingredient for label declaration. Label statements that are informative to the consumer are "with added _____," the blank being filled in with the appropriate name "whey," "concentrated whey," or "dried whey." (R. 70, 72, 400-402, 440, 443A, 530, 4186-4187, 4214, 4295)

57. The quantity of milk-constituent solids necessary to characterize fruit sherbet is at least 2 percent by weight of the finished product. More than 5 percent of such solids tends to make the product resemble ice cream or ice milk, as does a quantity of milk fat above 2 percent. Maxims of not more than 5 percent total milk-constituent solids and not more than 2 percent total milk fat and minima of not less than 2 percent total milk-constituent solids and not less than 1 percent milk fat are reasonable limits to characterize fruit sherbet and to differentiate it from ice milk and water ice. (R. 440A, 4188, 4215-4217, 4236, 4261-4262, 4271-4272)

58. The sweetening agents that are used and are suitable for use in fruit sherbet are sugar, dextrose, invert sugar (as paste or sirup), corn sirup, glucose sirup, malt sirup, maltose sirup, and malt extract. The solids of such sirup and extract are also suitable for sweetening fruit sherbets. (R. 1786-1787, 1820, 1838, 1888, 1917, 1971, 4236)

60. Finding 32 is, in general, applicable to fruit sherbets, except that there is evidence indicating the use and suitability of egg white as a stabilizer for fruit sherbet. Pectin, in a quantity not more than 0.5 percent by weight, is also suitable for use for this purpose. (R. 70, 83, 439, 530, 2417, 2420-2421, 2430-2431, 2441, 2459-2460, 2478-2479, 2502, 4218, 4282-4285)

60. Most State laws defining sherbet are designed to prevent its manufacture in simulation of ice cream. One requirement of many such laws is that the acidity of the product be not less than 0.35 percent, calculated as lactic acid. The acidity of fruit sherbets averages about 0.5 percent to 0.6 percent. A minimum of 0.35 percent acidity, calculated as lactic acid, is a reasonable limit for fruit sherbet. (R. 22, 71-72, 2903-2904, 4257)

61. To reach the desired acidity, harmless acids may be added, in addition to fruit or fruit juice. Those generally used and suitable for use are citric, tartaric, lactic, and malic. Ascorbic acid is often an ingredient of the frozen fruit used. (R. 202-203, 207, 1976, 2006, 4197, 4223-4224, 4291-4292)

62. Salt and eggs or egg yolks are sometimes present in fruit sherbet as a result of the use of ice cream mix in its preparation. The quantity of egg yolk solids thus introduced is less than one-half of 1 percent. (R. 70, 400, 4211)

63. Much fruit sherbet is colored. When so used that they do not create a misleading impression as to the quantity of fruit or fruit juice present, colorings are suitable ingredients of fruit sherbet. The Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetics Act requires food (with exceptions not here applicable) containing artificial coloring to bear labeling stating that fact. (R. 70, 1960, 2504-3506, 4200, 4211, 4261)

64. The dairy ingredient of fruit sherbet is pasteurized and may be homogenized, either before or after addition of the fruit sherbet mix. Pasteurization of the dairy ingredient separately or pasteurization of the entire mix is generally recognized as an essential step in the preparation of commercial fruit sherbet, and consumers expect the protection afforded by pasteurization. (R. 73, 214, 396, 401)

65. The normal overrun in fruit sherbet is less than in ice cream. A requirement that the weight of fruit sherbet be not less than 6 pounds per gallon is effective in preventing the excessive incorporation of air and is a reasonable limit. (R. 60, 73, 430, 4278, 4290, 4366)

66. It is concluded that the name that should be prescribed for each kind of fruit sherbet is the word "sherbet," preceded by the common or usual name of the fruit or fruits from which the fruit ingredient used is obtained. When the names of two or more fruits are included, such names shall be arranged in order of predominance, if any, by weight of the respective fruit ingredients used. (R. 76-77, 12882-12883, 12903)

67. Most of the commercially produced water ices are characterized by their fruit flavor And are of the same composition as the correspondingly flavored commercial fruit sherbets, except that no dairy ingredient is used therein. These products are herein designated as "water ices." Some nonfruit-flavored water ices are produced, but the record contains insufficient evidence to determine what the composition and characteristics of each of such various products should be, and they are not included in the term "water ice." (R. 72-73, 398-399, 4237, 4278, 4365-4366, 21368-21374)

68. Findings 32, 55, 58, and 59 are applicable to water ices for which standards are established. (R. 72-73, 401)

69. To obtain the desired tartness, the acids specified in finding 61 are frequently used and are suitable for use in water ice. (R. 72-73, 212, 1234-1236)

70. Finding 63 and 65 are also applicable to water ice. (R. 72-73, 89, 1234, 1235)

71. The common and usual name of each kind of water ice is the word "ice" preceded by the common or usual name of the fruit or fruits from which the fruit ingredient used is obtained. When the names of two or more fruits are included, such names shall be arranged in order of predominance, if any, by weight of the respective fruit ingredients used. (R. 72-73, 401)

72. There are other frozen foods that differ from ice cream, ice milk, fruit sherbet, and water ice. They are not sold under these names but usually are referred to collectively as "frozen confections." These "frozen confections" are distinguishable from the frozen deserts for which standards are being established on this record. Such "confections" are frozen without stirring whereas ice cream, ice milk, fruit sherbets, and water ices are all stirred while being frozen. The deserts frozen without stirring are often referred to as "quiescently frozen confections." They are not sold in bulk but are purveyed to the consumer in in-mon of the testimony about surface-active agents referred to them by their trade names, and often such products are identical in composition, their trade names will be used here. A description of the methods of preparation and probable chemical composition of most of the substances referred to by trade names was furnished by their manufacturers. Otherwise, the composition of the various surface-active agents was unknown, and often these manufacturers have reliable information only as to the process of manufacture and not as to exact chemical identity. The methods of preparation and something of the chemical composition of various surface-active agents proposed as optional ingredients are summarized below:

Mono- and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids. These preparations usually consist of mixtures of monoglycerides and diglycerides and some unchanged triglycerides in about the proportion of 40 parts of monoglycerides, 40 parts of diglycerides, and 20 parts of a mixture of triglycerides in which a vegetable fat was used instead of milk fat. Such a product is usually made by heating a fatty substance such as lard or cottonseed oil (either of which may be hydrogenated) with glycerin, in the presence of a small amount of an alkali. Similar preparations containing larger proportions of the monoglycerides (sometimes as high as 90 percent) are sold under special names. Preparations containing more than 40 percent monoglycerides are usually made by a reaction between a fatty acid and glycerin. The monoglyceride is more effective as a surface-active agent than the diglyceride. (R. 6381–6383, 6385–6386, 10158, 13566–13585, 16699–16706, 16736–16756, 16777–16781)

Aldo 33. Aldo 33 is the trade name applied by Glyco Products Company to a mixture of mono- and diglycerides prepared from a reaction between hydrogenated lard and glycerin. Presumably an alkaline catalyst is used. Details of the method of preparation were not furnished. (R. 10778, 10785–10786)

S 1096. S 1096 is the trade designation applied by Glyco Products Company to a substance said to consist substantially of glyceryl monooleate. Details of the method of preparation were not furnished. (R. 10778, 10787)

S 1097. S 1097 is the trade designation applied by Glyco Products Company to a product similar to S 1096, except that it was said to contain from 4 percent to 5 percent of potassium oleate. Details of the method of preparation were not furnished. (R. 10778, 10788)

Drew Make MP. Drew Make MP is the trade name applied by E. F. Drew Company to a substance said to be a glyceride containing 1 mol of stearic acid and 3 mols of lactic acid. It was said to be made by heating under vacuum a mixture of tristearin with glycerin and lactic acid or by heating a mixture of glycerin and stearic acid and lactic acid under vacuum until all fatty acid is combined. (R. 11060–11090, 11092–11094)

Glyceryl Monostearate (Drew). This was said to be a mixture of mono- and diglycerides manufactured by the E. F. Drew Company and referred to as glyceryl monostearate. (R. 11067)

Span 60. Span 60 is the Atlas trade name for a substance prepared by a reaction, under controlled conditions, between sorbitol and commercial stearic acid. The crude product is deodorized and bleached.

Span 60 is said to consist mainly of sorbitan (sorbitol less 1 mol of water) monostearate. Upon saponification with an alkali, it will yield approximately 74 percent of fatty acids and 31 percent of polyhydric residue having a hydroxyl value in the range of 1,200 to 1,300.

Span 60 is a tan-colored, hard, waxy solid melting in the range of 49° C. to 56° C. It is insoluble in water but dispersible in warm water above its melting point. The manufacturing specifications for Span 60 are:

Acid number: 10 maximum.
Saponification number: 150–165.
Hydroxyl number: 235–255.
The water content should not be above 1 percent. There is some ash present but no data on quantity were furnished. In the bleaching process there is a small amount of mineral acid present, so that any soap that may be present is converted to fatty acid and an inorganic salt; and since this salt is insoluble in the ester, the filtration step (when used in preparing Span 60) tends to remove ash-forming substances. (R. 13837–13844, 16074)

Tween 60. Tween 60 is Atlas' trade name for a substance prepared by reaction, under controlled conditions, between sorbitol and commercial stearic acid and ethylene oxide. The ethylene oxide does not react with a Span to form a compound containing a definite number of mols of ethylene oxide, but forms a range of compounds of varying molecular weights having, on the average, for the Tween compounds with which we are concerned, compounds with about 1 mol of ethylene oxide to 1 mol of Span used. When small quantities of water are present in the Spans used for making Tweens, this water will react with ethylene oxide to form glycols, including ethylene glycol and diethylene glycol. There are probably small quantities of unreacted ethylene oxide in the crude Tween-type compound before deodorization and bleaching. This is said to be removed before steam is applied.

The polyol portions of different Tween-type compounds are not identical. The actual chemical structure of the polyols of Tween-type compounds is not known to chemists of the Atlas Powder Company. No satisfactory data concerning possible presence of ethylene glycol and diethylene glycol in Tween-type compounds were furnished.

Tween-type compounds can be separated from ice cream in an impure state and the quantity of oxyethylene determined in the products removed. This procedure would not distinguish one Tween from another or distinguish a Tween-type compound from a Myrj-type compound, which would also be removed if present, by the procedure used for separating Tweens. (R. 13846, 16078–16088, 16089–16091)

Myrj 52. Myrj 52 is Atlas' trade name for a substance prepared by a reaction, under controlled conditions, between commercial stearic acid and ethylene oxide. The reaction is planned to add 40 mols of ethylene oxide to 1 mol of stearic acid. The reaction product is deodorized with steam and bleached with hydrogen peroxide at 100° C.

Myrj 52 is a hard, brittle, waxy solid melting in the range of 42° C. to 47° C. It contains approximately 85 percent of oxyethylene units. Upon saponification with alkali it yields approximately 15 percent of fatty acid and 85 percent of polyhydric residue containing 99 percent oxyethylene and having a hydroxyl value of about 70. The manufacturing specifications for Myrj 52 call for:

Acid number: Not over 2.
Hydroxyl number: 25–45, inclusive.
Saponification number: 25–35.
Water content: Not given.

Myrj 52 contains some free fatty acid. What becomes of the unreacted ethylene oxide that may remain after termination of the reaction with stearic acid is not clear. Small amounts of ethylene glycol or diethylene glycol may get into the product from this and possibly other sources. The stearic acid used carries some impurities into the Myrj 52, including unsaponifiable matter in the fat from which the stearic acid was prepared. Although the theoretical composition of Myrj 52 calls for 40 mols of ethylene oxide, examination of an actual sample of the product indicated about 36 mols. (R. 13851, 16098, 16100, 17150–17154)

Myrj 45. Myrj 45 is the trade name applied by the Atlas Powder Company to a substance somewhat similar to Myrj 52 but containing 8 mols of ethylene oxide to 1 mol of commercial stearic acid. (R. 13967)

Emulgent 45 and 52. Emulgent 45 and 52 are trade names applied by the General Emulsifier Corporation to substances prepared for them which should be about the same products as Myrj 45 and 52. (R. 13965–13968)

E-4C3. E-4C3 is the trade designation applied by Process Chemicals Company to a substance prepared, under controlled conditions, by a reaction between polyethylene glycol 400–W and commercial stearic acid. The reaction is planned to give an end product consisting of a monostearate of the polyethylene glycol. The final products of reaction contain some uncombined reactants and impurities present in the starting materials. The testimony indicates the likelihood that the glycol used contains small quantities of ethylene glycol and diethylene glycol. The possibility that the glycol used may contain impurities consisting of products similar to aldehydes is suggested. (R. 9776–9809)

PEG 42. PEG 42 is the name applied by Glyco Products Company to a substance formed by a reaction of stearic acid with a polyethylene glycol or mixture of such glycols known by the trade name Carbowax 1500. A substance referred to as gray phosphoric acid was said to be used as a catalyst. Conditions dividually labeled packages. A proposal was advanced that a definition and standard of identity be prescribed for these articles under the name "frozen confections." The composition and characteristics of these articles are so varied that no blanket requirements sufficiently definitive to be of substantial significance to consumers is presently practicable. (R. 552, 553, 557, 597–598, 6383, 6183)

73. There was a limited amount of testimony showing that in some parts of the country there were being sold frozen products resembling ice cream in taste and appearance but differing from ice cream in that instead of milk fat they contained a vegetable fat. Such products were designated with fanciful names. No proposal was made to include vegetable fats as optional ingredients of ice cream or to adopt a definition and standard of identity for frozen foods resembling ice cream but in which a vegetable fat was used instead of milk fat. (R. 10339–10341, 10348, 10350, 21411, 21416–21417, 21419–21428, 21497–21499)

74. Testimony at the first phase of these hearings in 1942 indicated that a recent development in the manufacture of ice cream was the addition of a surface-active agent to the stabilizing ingredient. This new ingredient was often called an emulsifier or emulsifying agent. At that time, the only combination of stabilizer and surface-active agent described was a mixture of mono- and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids and gelatin. No evidence explaining the effect of mono- and diglycerides alone on the properties of ice cream was presented. (R. 2118–2121, 2128–2160, 2186–2190)

75. Since 1942, there has been an increase in the number of surface-active agents used in the manufacture of ice cream. There was voluminous testimony in the later hearings in support of proposals to make surface-active agents optional ingredients. This was to the effect that the use in ice cream mix of from 0.1 to 0.2 percent of surface-active agents caused ice cream to come from the freezers in a slightly stiffer and "drier" state. The properties of ice cream to which manufacturers apply the terms "wet" and "dry" are difficult to describe and apparently difficult to measure objectively, but some objective tests designed to show the effect of surface-active agents were described and the results reported. These suggested that surface-active agents might cause the homogenization of the mix to be more effective by aiding in the division of the fat into minute particles. Some possible shortening of the time required for freezing was indicated. Surface-active agents are said to aid in producing smoother ice cream. They also are said to have an effect on the physical properties of ice milk and sherbet but not to the same extent as on the physical properties of ice cream. (R. 6027–6036, 6041–6043, 6077–6120, 6248–6249, 6382–6386, 6488–6492, 6521–6525, 6570–6584, 6586, 6888, 7317–7321, 8105–8108, 9488–9490, 9542–9544, 9563, 9591, 9598–9600, 9603, 9617–9618, 9654–9655, 9737–9738, 9758, 9771–9772, 9815–9816, 9819–9820, 9834–9835, 9854, 9858–9864, 10133–10139, 10144–10147, 10150–10152, 10166–10168, 10250–10332, 10338–10339, 10359–10368, 10384–10388, 10403–10406, 10472–10507, 10518–10535, 10559–10575, 10586–10597, 10606–10609, 10631–10637, 10655–10656, 10668–10690, 10727–10731, 10732–10734, 10744–10745, 10763, 11005–11021, 11034–11037, 11039–11043, 11057–11058, 11071–11095, 11686–11689, 16112–16125; Ex. 5, 97–104)

76. Several types of synthetically prepared surface-active agents are used in stabilizing preparations sold to ice cream manufacturers and are thus incorporated into ice cream, ice milk, sherbets, etc. A few ice cream manufacturers buy surface-active agents directly from the primary manufacturers. Mono- and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids were accepted as food ingredients prior to this hearing. The other surface-active agents are substances in which a commercial fatty acid is combined with a polyhydric alcohol other than glycerin. These polyhydric alcohols are synthetic substances that the human body does not utilize as food. The pharmacological properties of such surface-active agents cannot be predicted from their chemical composition, but their pharmacology into question. There was a large amount of testimony about the composition and properties of several surface-active agents manufactured by the Atlas Powder Company. Similar (if not identical) preparations are to some extent manufactured, or may at any time be manufactured, by other companies. Since

Acid number: Not over 2.
Hydroxyl number: 66–83, inclusive.
Saponification number: 44–60, inclusive.
Water content: 2½ percent to 3 percent.
(R. 13845–13847)

Spans. Span 60 and the other compounds grouped under the class name of Spans are not chemical entities but each is a mixture of several compounds. For example, Span 60 will contain some unreacted sorbitol or sorbitol anhydrides or both, some unreacted fatty acids, reaction products of catalysts and fatty acids, and esters of varying degrees of dehydration and fatty-acid content. The fatty acids will consist mainly of one acid, but appreciable amounts of related fatty acids will be present. The commercial grade fatty acids commonly used will also introduce some unsaponifiable matter from the fats from which they are prepared. There are some sorbite (sorbitol less 2 mols of water) esters as well as sorbitan esters and some dianhydrides and tri-esters. Spans contain small quantities of moisture and some ash. The ash results from neutralization of the alkaline catalysts that are not entirely removed in the manufacturing process. Spans may also contain traces of nickel used as a catalyst in preparing sorbitol. Whether Spans may at times contain some reducing sugars is not analytically clear. There is no analytical method available at the present time for accurately identifying the polyol portions of Span compounds and no method for detecting Spans in ice cream. (R. 13846, 16067, 16076–16078)

Tweens. The compounds grouped under the class designation of Tweens are not chemical entities but are mixtures of several compounds. Since they are prepared by reactions between Spans and ethylene oxide, they contain the for controlling the reaction were not described. (R. 10795–10803)

S 1109, S 1193. S 1109 and S 1193 are designations applied by Glyco Products Company to substances said to be formed by a reaction between polyethylene glycol 400–W and glyceryl trioleate. The term "glyceryl trioleate" was used to describe an oil such as cottonseed oil or corn oil. The reaction is said to be catalyzed by a small amount of potassium hydroxide. Conditions necessary to bring about a reaction between these products were not described nor was there a satisfactory explanation of what substances are present after the reaction is completed. (R. 10780, 10799, 10804–10808)

Dri Freeze. Dri Freeze is the trade name applied by the E. F. Drew Company to a substance said to be a monoester of 400 polyoxyethylene glycol and stearic acid. The glycol and stearic acid, in definite proportions, are said to be heated together under vacuum to cause a reaction between them to take place. No description of the method for removing any impurities was given. Presumably this substance is similar to Myrj 45 in composition, if the reaction takes place as planned. (R. 11079–11080)

Analytical methods for the determination of polyhydric-alcohol emulsifiers in frozen desserts are not furnished.

77. The complex chemistry of the polyhydric-alcohol type of surface-active agents, their method of manufacture, the presence of impurities, and their relationship to substances known to be toxic all combine to draw into question the safety of these materials for use in foods so widely consumed in substantial quantities as are these frozen desserts. The voluminous record establishes that the polyhydric-alcohol type of surface-active agents are substances that are not generally recognized, among experts qualified by scientific training and experience to evaluate their safety, as having been adequately shown through scientific procedures or through experience based on common use in food to be safe for their intended use. They are "food additives," within the meaning of the food additives amendment of 1958. Before they can be used lawfully in frozen desserts, petitions must be filed to supply information required by section 409 of this amendment, and regulations will have to be established. This record does not contain the needed information and will not support the establishment of regulations or exemptions. (See findings 76 and 78 of the proposed order (23 F.R. 1991).) Petitions have been filed for polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan monooleate and polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan tristearate and extensions of the March 6, 1960, effective date have been granted for polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan monooleate and polyoxyethylene (20) sorbitan tristearate, in frozen desserts (other than water ices).

78. Mono- and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids are known to be present in small quantities in fats and oils used for food purposes; they are formed to some extent when some foods containing triglycerides are cooked; in metabolic tests, utilizing small test animals, mono- and diglycerides appear to be metabolized and furnish approximately the same energy as triglycerides; and in the process of the human metabolism of triglycerides, mono- and diglycerides are formed, to some extent at least, from triglycerides before absorption of the triglycerides occurs.

An experiment reported by one investigator, in which rats did not do well on a diet containing a preparation said to be high in monoglyceride, was not considered by him to give an accurate indication of the properties of the monoglyceride. That the preparation fed had become rancid before use and the effects noted were due to rancidity appears possible. From the data available on the subject at the present time, mono- and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids appear suitable for incorporation in foods containing substantial quantities of triglycerides. (R. 13564–13585, 16678–16688, 17882–17885, 17898, 17913–17918, 17932–17933, 18017–18020, 18026–18028, 18034–18037, 18063–18066; Ex. 239, 243, 248–255, 260–264, 346, 347, 360–361, 364)

Conclusion. Upon consideration of the whole record and the foregoing findings of fact, it is concluded that it will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to fix and establish the definitions and standards of identity hereinafter set forth for the following foods: Ice cream, frozen custard, french ice cream, french custard ice cream; ice milk; fruit sherbet; and water ices.

AUTHORITY: §§ 20.1 to 20.5 issued under sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055; 21 U.S.C. 371. Interpret or apply sec. 401, 52 Stat. 1046, as amended; 21 U.S.C. 341.

§ 20.1 Ice cream; identity; label statement of optional ingredients.

(a) Ice cream is the food prepared by freezing, while stirring, a pasteurized mix composed of one or more of the optional dairy ingredients specified in paragraph (c) of this section, sweetened with one or more of the optional sweetening ingredients specified in paragraph (d) of this section. One or more of the optional characterizing ingredients specified in paragraph (b) of this section and one or more of the optional ingredients specified in paragraphs (d) (5) to (10) may be used to characterize the ice cream. One or more of the optional caseinates specified in paragraph (e) and one or more of the optional ingredients specified in paragraph (f) of this section may be used, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth. Coloring may be added. The mix may be seasoned with salt, and may be homogenized. The kind and quantity of optional dairy ingredients used, as specified in paragraph (c) of this section, and the content of milk fat and nonfat milk solids therein, are such that the weights of milk fat and total milk solids are not less than 10 percent and 20 percent, respectively, of the weight of the finished ice cream; but in no case shall the content of milk solids not fat be less than 6 percent, except that when one or more of the bulky optional ingredients as specified in paragraph (b) (3) to (8), inclusive, of this section, are used, the weights of milk fat and total milk solids (exclusive of such fat and solids in any malted milk used) are not less than 10 percent and 20 percent, respectively, of the remainder obtained by subtracting the weight of such optional ingredients, modified as prescribed below, from the weight of the finished ice cream; but in no case is the weight of milk fat or total milk solids less than 8 percent and 16 percent, respectively, of the weight of the finished ice cream. The optional caseinates specified in paragraph (e) of this section are not deemed to be milk solids. In calculating the reduction of milk fat and total milk solids from the use of bulky optional ingredients, chocolate and cocoa solids used shall be considered the bulky ingredients of paragraph (b) (3) of this section. In order to make allowance for additional sweetening ingredients needed when bulky ingredients are used, the weight of chocolate or cocoa solids may be multiplied by 1.5; the weight of fruit or nuts used may be multiplied by 1.4; and the weight of partially or wholly dried fruits or fruit juices may be multiplied by appropriate factors to obtain the original weights before drying and this weight multiplied by 1.4. The finished ice cream contains not less than 1.6 pounds of total solids to the gallon and weighs not less than 4.5 pounds to the gallon. Any artificial flavoring in any chocolate, cocoa, confectionery, or other ingredient used is an optional ingredient of the finished ice cream.

(b) The optional characterizing ingredients referred to in paragraph (a) of this section are:

(1) Ground spice, ground vanilla beans, infusion of coffee or tea, or any natural food flavoring.

(2) Any artificial food flavoring.

(3) Chocolate or cocoa, which may be added as such or as a suspension in sirup, and which may contain disodium phosphate or sodium citrate in such quantity that the finished ice cream contains not more than 0.2 percent by weight of disodium phosphate or sodium citrate. For the purposes of this section, the term "cocoa" means one or any combination of two or more of the following: Cocoa, breakfast cocoa, low-fat cocoa, and the unpulverized residual material prepared by removing part of the fat from ground cacao nibs.

(4) Mature fruit or the juice of mature fruit, either of which may be fresh, frozen, canned, concentrated, or partially or wholly dried. The fruit may be whole, shredded, or comminuted; it may be sweetened, thickened with pectin or with one or more of the ingredients named in paragraph (f) (2) of this section, subject to the restriction on the total quantity of such substances in ice cream prescribed in that paragraph, and it may be acidulated with citric or ascorbic acid. The fruit is prepared by the removal of pits, seeds, skins, and cores, where such removal is usual in preparing that kind of fruit for consumption as fresh fruit. In the case of fruit or fruit juice from which part of the water is removed, the substances contributing flavor volatilized during water removal may be condensed and reincorporated in the concentrated fruit or fruit juice. In the case of the citrus fruits the whole fruit, including the peel but excluding the seeds, may be used, and in the case of citrus juice or concentrated citrus juice, cold-pressed citrus oil may be added in an amount not exceeding that which would have been obtained if the peel from the whole fruit had been used. For the purposes of this section, the flesh of the coconut shall be considered a fruit.

(5) Nut meats, which may be roasted, cooked in an edible fat or oil, or preserved in sirup, and which may be salted.

(6) Malted milk.

(7) Confectionery. For the purposes of this section, the term "confectionery" means candy, cakes, cookies, and glaceed fruits.

(8) Properly prepared and cooked cereal.

Water may be added, or water may be evaporated from the mix. The sweet cream buttermilk and the concentrated sweet cream buttermilk or dried sweet cream buttermilk, when adjusted with water to a total solids content of 8.5 percent, has a titratable acidity of not more than 0.17 percent, calculated as lactic acid. The term "milk" as used in this section means cow's milk.

Such ingredients may be added in admixture with dextrin.

(3) Monoglycerides or diglycerides or both from the glycerolysis of edible fats. The total weight of such ingredient is not more than 0.2 percent of the weight of the finished ice cream.

(g) (1) The name of the food is "ice cream." Where the artificial flavoring constitutes the predominant flavor of any one of the principal flavoring ingredients, the label shall bear as the sole characterizing statement for that ingredient, "artificial _____ flavor," the blank being filled in with the common or usual name of the flavor simulated; e.g., "artificial vanilla flavor."

(5) Whenever a characterizing ingredient is used with an artificial flavor which does not simulate the principal flavor, the label shall include the statement "artificial flavor added" or "artificial _____ flavor added," the blank being filled in with the common or usual name of the flavor simulated; e.g., "chocolate, artificial flavoring added," "chocolate, artificial vanilla flavor added."

§ 20.2 Frozen custard, french ice cream, french custard ice cream; identity; label statement of optional ingredients.

Frozen custard, french ice cream, french custard ice cream conforms to the definition and standard of identity, and is subject to the requirements for label statement of optional ingredients, prescribed for ice cream by § 20.1, except that one or more of the optional egg ingredients permitted by § 20.1(f)(1) are used in such quantity that the total weight of egg yolk solids therein is not less than 1.4 percent of the weight of the finished frozen custard: Provided, however, That when the ingredients named in § 20.1(b) (3) through (8), inclusive, are used the content of egg yolk solids may be reduced in proportion to the bulky ingredient or ingredients added, under the conditions prescribed by § 20.1(a) for reduction in milk fat and total milk solids; but in no case is the content of egg yolk solids less than 1.12 percent.

Title 3—THE PRESIDENT

NATIONAL DAY OF PRAYER, 1960

By the President of the United States of America

A Proclamation

WHEREAS by the grace of God we live in a good land where each citizen can enjoy the blessings of liberty; and

WHEREAS our forebears did establish in this land a Nation whose law defends and whose spirit ever nourishes that liberty; and

WHEREAS the Congress, by a joint resolution approved April 17, 1952 (66 Stat. 64), sought to remind our citizens of this heritage by providing that the President "shall set aside and proclaim a suitable day each year, other than a Sunday, as a National Day of Prayer, on which the people of the United States may turn to God in prayer and meditation":

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby set aside Wednesday, the fifth day of October 1960, as a National Day of Prayer; and I call upon my countrymen to observe it, remembering:

First, that it is not by our strength alone, nor by our own righteousness, that we have deserved the abundant gifts of our Creator;

Second, that the heritage of a faith born of hope and raised in sacrifice lays upon its heirs the high calling of being generous and responsible stewards in our own and among the kindred nations of the earth;

Third, that in this time of testing we shall ever place our trust in the keeping of God's commandments, knowing that He who has brought us here requires justice and mercy in return;

And finally, that as we lift our thankful hearts to Him, we will see clearly the vision of the world that is meant to be and set our hearts resolutely toward the achievement of it.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this twenty-second day of July in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and sixty, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eighty-fifth.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

Secretary of State.

WHEREAS it appears that it would be in the public interest to add to the Arches National Monument certain contiguous lands on which outstanding geologic features of great scientific interest are situated, and certain other lands adjacent to the monument which are essential to the proper care, management, and protection of the objects of scientific interest situated on such lands and on lands now comprising a part of the monument; and

WHEREAS it appears that it would also be in the public interest to exclude from the monument certain lands in the southeast section thereof, contiguous to the Salt Wash escarpment, which are used for grazing and which have no known scenic or scientific value:

Warning is hereby expressly given to all unauthorized persons not to appropriate, injure, destroy, or remove any feature of this monument and not to locate or settle upon any of the lands thereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Title 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter I—Civil Service Commission

PART 25—FEDERAL EMPLOYEES PAY REGULATIONS

Subpart B—General Compensation Rules

Subpart B is revised to read as follows:

Sec.
25.101 Scope.
25.102 Definitions.
25.103 General provisions.
25.104 Special provisions.
25.105 Special adjustments in minimum pay rate of the class.

Authority: §§ 25.101 to 25.105 issued under sec. 1101, 46 Stat. 971; 5 U.S.C. 1072.

§ 25.101 Scope.

(a) Applicability. This subpart applies to each officer or employee covered by the Classification Act.

(b) Entitlement. This subpart and the provisions of Title VIII of the Act shall be applied in fixing or adjusting rates of basic compensation of employees covered by subsection (a).

§ 25.102 Definitions.

As used in this subpart, and in making compensation adjustments upon change in type of appointment, employment status, or position of the employee, words and terms are defined as follows:

(a) "Act" or "Classification Act" means the Classification Act of 1949, as amended.

(b) "Area" is a geographical subdivision which can be described in terms of boundaries, such as the metropolitan limits of a city, the area within 20 miles of the city limits, a county, several counties, or a State.

(c) "Demotion" is the reduction of an employee while continuously employed from one Classification Act grade to a lower Classification Act grade, with or without reduction in compensation, or from a higher rate paid under authority other than the Classification Act to a lower rate within a Classification Act grade.

(d) "Existing rate of basic compensation" is the rate received immediately prior to the effective date of a transfer, promotion, repromotion, demotion, or step increase.

(e) "Higher grade" is any General Schedule grade above the last previous General Schedule grade or its equivalent held by the employee.

(f) "Highest previous rate" is the highest rate of basic compensation previously paid to a Federal civilian employee occupying a position in any branch of the Federal Government (executive, legislative, or judicial), or in the municipal government of the District of Columbia, or in a mixed ownership corporation, irrespective of whether or not such position was subject to the pay schedules of the Classification Act. An employee's highest previous rate shall be computed in accordance with § 25.103 (c).

(g) "Location" is a specific place of employment within an area, such as a particular shipyard or airbase.

(h) "New appointment" is the first appointment, regardless of the tenure of appointment, as a Federal civilian officer or employee.

(i) "Promotion" is the advancement of an employee while continuously employed from one Classification Act grade to a higher Classification Act grade, or from a lower rate paid under authority other than the Classification Act to a higher rate within a Classification Act grade.

(j) "Rate of basic compensation" means the compensation fixed by law or administrative action for the position held by an officer or employee.

(k) "Reassignment" is a change without promotion or demotion, from one position to another position, while serving continuously in the same agency.

(l) "Reemployment" is any employment including reinstatement, or any other type of appointment, after a break in Federal service of at least one full workday.

(m) "Repromotion" is the advancement of an employee while continuously employed from one Classification Act grade to a higher Classification Act grade formerly held by the employee or to a higher intermediate grade, or from a lower rate paid under authority other than the Classification Act to a higher rate within a Classification Act grade, based on the highest previous rate paid to the employee.

(n) "Transfer" means a change of position by an employee from one branch of the Government to another or from one agency to another, without a break in service of a full workday.

§ 25.103 General provisions.

(a) New appointments. All new appointments shall be made at the minimum rate of the grade to which the employee is appointed. Where the minimum rate for a class of positions is increased under § 25.105, new appointments to those positions shall be made at the new minimum rate for that class.

(b) Position or appointment changes. (1) Subject to the mandatory requirements of paragraph (g) of this section and § 25.104, an employee who is reemployed, transferred, reassigned, promoted, repromoted or demoted, may be paid at any scheduled rate for his grade which does not exceed his highest previous rate. If the employee's highest previous rate falls between two scheduled rates of his new grade, he may be given the higher rate. If the employee's existing rate of basic compensation is less than the minimum scheduled rate of the new grade, his compensation shall be increased to the minimum rate.

(2) An employee whose type of appointment is changed in the same position may continue to be paid at his existing rate or may be paid at any higher scheduled rate for his grade which does not exceed his highest previous rate; and if his highest previous rate falls between two scheduled rates of his grade, he may be given the higher rate.

(c) Computation of highest previous rate. The highest previous rate must be based on a regular tour of duty at such rate (1) under an appointment not limited to 90 days or less, or (2) for a continuous period of not less than 90 days under one or more appointments without a break in service. If such highest previous rate was earned in a Classification Act position, it shall be increased by any subsequent amendments to the Classification Act pay schedules. If such highest previous rate was earned in a position not subject to the Classification Act, this rate shall be computed as follows: The actual rate earned at the time of such service shall be converted to the equivalent per annum rate under the Classification Act as of the time of such service; where there was no exact equivalent per annum rate under the Classification Act, the next higher Classification Act rate shall be considered an equivalent; where the rate thus determined falls within two or more grades under the Act, the rate in the grade which gives the employee the maximum benefit shall be used; the equivalent Classification Act rate thus determined shall be converted to the current rate for such step and grade and shall be the employee's highest previous rate.

(d) Agency classification action. Where an agency regrades a position to a grade higher than the one to which the position had been classified by Commission action, and where subsequent to the regrading, the Commission again classifies the position to the grade which it had originally assigned the position, the rate attained by the employee in the higher grade may not be used as his highest previous rate.

(e) Pay-fixing—longevity steps. After an employee has met the eligibility requirements for one or more longevity step increases, an agency may, at its discretion, use such longevity steps to fix an employee's rate of compensation at a comparable longevity step in any grade which is not higher than the grade in which the employee earned such longevity step increase(s).

(f) Simultaneous actions. When a position or appointment change and entitlement to a higher rate of pay occur at the same time, the higher rate of pay shall be considered the employee's existing rate of basic compensation. If the employee becomes entitled to two pay benefits at the same time, the changes shall be processed in the order which gives him the maximum benefit.

(g) Conversion actions. Where an employee occupies a position not subject to the Classification Act, and the employee together with his position is initially brough under the Act pursuant to a Reorganization Plan or other legislation, an Executive Order of the President, or a decision of the Civil Service Commission under section 203 of the Act, the employee's rate of basic compensation shall be determined as follows:

(1) If the employee is receiving a rate of basic compensation less than the minimum scheduled rate of the grade in which his position is placed, his compensation shall be increased to the minimum rate.

(2) If the employee is receiving a rate of basic compensation equal to a scheduled rate of the grade in which his position is placed, his compensation shall be fixed at such scheduled rate.

(3) If the employee is receiving a rate of basic compensation at a rate between two scheduled rates of the grade in which his position is placed, his compensation shall be fixed at the higher of the two rates.

(4) If the employee is receiving a rate of basic compensation in excess of the maximum scheduled rate of the grade in which his position is placed, and there is no provision of law which entitles him to retain such rate, he shall be paid the maximum scheduled rate for his grade.

§ 25.104 Special provisions.

(a) Promotions and transfers. The requirements of section 802(b) of the Act apply in repromotion actions and in transfers involving promotions between Classification Act grades.

(b) Classification decisions. When a classification decision is made effective retroactively under Part 36 of the Commission's regulations, corrective personnel action affecting the employee concerned shall be treated as a cancellation or correction, as the case may be, of the original action of demotion and the employee concerned shall be entitled to retroactive pay in accordance with the terms of the corrective action.

§ 25.105 Special adjustments in minimum pay rate of the class.

(a) The minimum rate shall be increased only to the extent believed necessary to produce sufficient additional appointees.

(b) The agency that initiates a request for an increased minimum rate shall be responsible for submitting complete supporting data including, on the specific request of the Commission, a survey of the prevailing entrance rates paid by non-Federal employers in the area. Information and data obtained from private firms in the course of a salary survey shall be available only to the agencies concerned in evaluating the data.

(c) The Federal activity which has employees in the specific occupational class or classes included in the new minimum rate shall adjust the basic compensation of its current employees to the new minimum rate on the effective dates established by the Commission. This adjustment shall not be regarded as an equivalent increase in compensation for step increase purposes. Pay of employees who are receiving basic compensation at a rate equal to or above the new minimum rate shall not be affected.

(d) Both the Commission and the agencies shall be responsible for initiating action to discontinue or revise a specially authorized minimum rate whenever the increased rate is no longer needed to meet recruitment needs. When a special increased minimum rate is discontinued or reduced, the pay of employees on the rolls in positions affected by the decision shall not thereby be reduced.

(e) A statutory revision of the compensation schedule for the General Schedule in the Act shall automatically change the entrance rate for new hires to the nearest step rate of the new schedule which does not result in a decrease in the new minimum rate prescribed by the Commission under the authority of section 803 of the Act.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION,
[SEAL] MARY V. WENZEL,
Executive Assistant to the Commissioners.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 292a.51 is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.51 Certificate of need.

(a) Issuance by Secretary of Defense. No mortgage covering property at a military installation shall be insured unless the Secretary of Defense, or his designee, shall have certified to the Commissioner that the housing is necessary to provide adequate housing for civilians employed in connection with a research or development installation of one of the military departments of the United States or a contractor thereof, and that there is no present intention to substantially curtail the number of such civilian personnel assigned or to be assigned to such installation. Such certification shall be conclusive evidence to the Commissioner of the need for such housing.

(b) Issuance by Administrator of National Aeronautics and Space Administration. A mortgage may be insured under this subpart secured by property which is intended to provide housing for a person employed or assigned to duty at a research or development installation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and which is located at or near such installation, where such installation was a research or development installation of one of the military departments of the United States (on or after June 13, 1956) before its transfer to the jurisdiction of such Administration. The mortgage shall not be insured, however, unless the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, or his designee, shall have certified to the Commissioner that the housing is necessary to provide adequate housing for civilian or military personnel employed or assigned to duty in connection with a research or development installation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration or a contractor thereof, and that there is no present intention to substantially curtail the number of such personnel assigned or to be assigned to such installation. Such certification shall be conclusive evidence to the Commissioner of the need for such housing.

2. Section 292a.52 is amended to read as follows:

§ 292a.52 Employment status certificate.

(a) Certificate by Secretary of Defense. No mortgage covering property at a military installation shall be insured unless the Secretary of Defense, or his designee, has issued a certificate indicating that the mortgagor: (1) Requires housing; (2) is, on the date of the certificate, a civilian employee at a research or development installation of one of the military departments of the United States, or contractor thereof, at a research or development installation; and (3) is considered by the military department to be an essential, nontemporary employee at such date. Such certificate shall be conclusive evidence to the Commissioner of the employment status of the mortgagor and of the mortgagor's need for housing.

(b) Certificate by Administrator of National Aeronautics and Space Administration. An employment status certificate shall be required in connection with a mortgage secured by property which is intended to provide housing for a person employed or assigned to duty at a research or development installation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and which is located at or near such installation, where such installation was a research or development installation of one of the military departments of the United States (on or after June 13, 1956) before its transfer to the jurisdiction of such Administration. No mortgage shall be insured unless the Administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, or his designee, has issued a certificate indicating that the mortgagor: (1) Requires housing; (2) is, on the date of the certificate, a civilian employee or one of the military personnel assigned to duty at a research or development installation of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, or is an employee of a contractor thereof, who is employed at such research or development installation; and (3) is considered by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to be an essential, nontemporary employee at such date. Such certificate shall be conclusive evidence to the Commissioner of the employment status of the mortgagor and of the mortgagor's need for housing.

2. Paragraph (a) of § 9.12 shall be amended as follows: The word "certification" appearing in the last sentence shall be changed to "certificates".

These amendments shall become effective August 12, 1960.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 21st day of July 1960.

JAMES P. MITCHELL,

1. In order to conform the heading of § 8.1 to the preferable one stated in the table of contents as it appeared in 25 F.R. 1543, the heading of 29 CFR 8.1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 8.1 Purpose and authority.

2. In order to simplify its text, 29 CFR 8.2(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 8.2 Scope and responsibility.

(a) The responsibility for compliance with the regulations in this Part 8 is placed on the "employer" as defined in 29 CFR 8.3(c).

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

3. In order to take advantage of the precision afforded by the definition in 29 CFR 8.3(j), 29 CFR 8.3(c) is amended by deleting the word "services" and substituting the word "employments" so that paragraph (c) will read as follows:

(c) The term "employer" means an employer any of whose employees are employed, in whole or in part, in ship repair or related employments as defined in this section within the Federal Maritime jurisdiction on the navigable waters of the United States, including dry docks and marine railways.

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

4. In order to make 29 CFR 8.7 available for the substance of a new section, the present 29 CFR 8.7 is renumbered 29 CFR 8.8.

5. In order to provide for notification of serious accidents in time for an investigation of their causes before the circumstances have changed substantially, a new 29 CFR 8.7 is provided to read as follows:

§ 8.7 Notification of accidents resulting in fatalities or serious injuries.

Within 48 hours after the occurrence of an accident causing the death of an employee or resulting in an employee's admission to a hospital as a bed patient, the employer shall file a copy of Bureau of Employees' Compensation Form US—202 (approved by Budget Bureau No. 44–R 887.2) with the Field Safety Consultant of the Bureau of Labor Standards serving the area where the accident occurred (in addition to such filing as is required by 20 CFR 31.3) unless prior thereto and as soon after the accident as feasible the employer has given oral or written notice of the accident to the person in charge of such office in sufficient detail to permit the accident to be identified readily.

6. In order to correct a typographical error the reference in 29 CFR 8.31(d)(1)(ii) to § 8.36(e) is amended to refer to § 8.36(e), so that as amended 29 CFR 31(d)(1)(ii) will read as follows:

§ 8.31 Ventilation and protection in welding, cutting, and heating.

* * * * *

(d) Inert-gas metal-arc welding. (1) * * *

* * * * *

(ii) Helpers and other employees in the area not protected from the arc by screening as provided in § 8.36(e) shall be protected by filter lenses meeting the requirements of § 8.31 (a) and (c). When two or more welders are exposed to each other's arc, filter lens goggles of a suitable type meeting the requirements of § 8.31 (a) and (c) shall be worn under welding helmets or hand shields to protect the welder against flashes and radiant energy when either the helmet is lifted or the shield is removed.

7. In order to correct an inadvertence the reference in 29 CFR 8.33(b) to "paragraph (c) (1) and (2) of this section" is amended to refer to § 8.31(c) (1) and (2), so that as amended 29 CFR 8.33(b) will read as follows:

§ 8.33 Welding, cutting and heating in way of preservative coatings.

* * * * *

(b) When welding, cutting or other heating must be done in locations inaccessible to removal of preservatives containing toxic materials, the precautions specified in § 8.31(c) (1) and (2) shall be taken.

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

8. In order to correct a typographical error, the heading of paragraph (c) Manifolds of § 8.35 is amended to read: (e) Manifolds.

9. In order to eliminate the requirement of labeling hoses otherwise distinguishable and to make it clear that separate hoses for fuel and oxygen are required, 29 CFR 8.35(f)(1) is amended to read as follows:

§ 8.35 Gas welding and cutting.

* * * * *

(f) Hose. (1) Fuel gas hose and oxygen hose shall be easily distinguishable from each other. The contrast may be made by different colors or by surface characteristics readily distinguishable by the sense of touch. Oxygen and fuel gas hoses shall not be interchangeable. A single hose having more than one gas passage, a wall failure of which would permit the flow of one gas into the other gas passage, shall not be used.

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

10. In order to extend 29 CFR 8.45 to graving docks and add certain technical detail, 29 CFR 8.45 is revised to read as follows:

§ 8.45 Access to and guarding of dry docks.

(a) A gangway, ramp, or permanent stairway of not less than 20 inches walking surface, of adequate strength, maintained in safe repair and securely fastened, shall be provided between a floating dry dock and the pier or bulkhead.

(b) Each side of such gangway, ramp or permanent stairway, including those which are used for access to wingwalls from dry dock floors, shall have a railing with a midrail. Such railings on gangways or ramps shall be approximately 42 inches in height; and railings on permanent stairways shall be not less than approximately 30 nor more than approximately 34 inches in height. Rails shall be of wood, pipe, chain, wire, or rope and shall be kept taut at all times.

(c) Railings meeting the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section shall be provided on the means of access to and from the floors of graving docks.

(d) Railings approximately 42 inches in height, with a mid-rail, shall be provided on the edges of wingwalls of floating dry docks and on the edges of graving docks. Sections of the railing may be temporarily removed where necessary to permit line handling while a vessel is entering or leaving the dock.

(e) When employees are working on the floor of a floating dry dock where they are exposed to the hazard of falling into the water, the end of the dry dock shall be equipped with portable stanchions and 42-inch railings with a midrail. When such a railing would be impractical or ineffective, other effective means shall be provided to prevent men from falling into the water.

11. In order to correct a typographical error the reference in 29 CFR 8.54 to § 8.31(b)(4) is amended to refer to § 8.31(b)(3), so that the amended 29 CFR 8.54 will read as follows:

§ 8.54 Work in confined or isolated spaces.

When any work is performed in a confined space, except as provided in § 8.31(b)(3), or when an employee is working alone in an isolated location, frequent checks shall be made to ensure the safety of the employees.

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

12. In order to correct an inadvertence, paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 8.62 are designated paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 8.63.

13. In order to correct an inadvertence by reversing the 30° and 60° bridle or basket hitch columns in tables G–3 and G–5 and to provide certain additional detail in table G–6, tables G–3, G–5, and G–6 in 29 CFR 8.63 are amended in accordance with the tables which appear below.

14. In order to provide a minimum distance between the work rests and grinder wheel and in order to clarify certain nomenclature, 29 CFR 8.74(b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 8.74 Abrasive wheels.

* * * * *

(b) Floor and bench mounted grinders shall be provided with work rests which are rigidly supported and readily adjustable. Such work rests shall be kept a distance not to exceed ⅛ inch from the surface of the wheel.

(44 Stat. 1444, as amended, 72 Stat. 835; 33 U.S.C. 941)

15. In order to conform the heading of § 9.1 to the preferable one stated in the table of contents as it appeared in 25 F.R. 1565, the heading of 29 CFR 9.1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 9.1 Purpose and authority.

16. In order to simplify its text and conform its structure to the comparable provision concerning ship repair (29 CFR 8.2), 29 CFR 9.2 is amended to read as follows:

§ 9.2 Scope and responsibility.

(a) The responsibility for compliance with the regulations of this part is placed upon "employers" as defined in § 9.3(c) of this part.

(b) It is not the intent of the regulations of this part to place additional responsibilities or duties on owners, operators, agents or masters of vessels unless such persons are acting as employers, nor is it the intent of these regulations to relieve such owners, operators, agents or masters of vessels from responsibilities or duties now placed upon them by law, regulation or custom.

17. In order to make 29 CFR 9.7 available for the substance of a new section, the present 29 CFR 9.7 is renumbered 29 CFR 9.8.

18. In order to provide for notification of serious accidents in time for an investigation of their causes before the circumstances have changed substantially, a new section § 9.7 is provided to read as follows:

§ 9.7 Notification of accidents resulting in fatalities or serious injuries.

Within 48 hours after the occurrence of an accident causing the death of an employee or resulting in an employee's admission to a hospital as a bed patient, the employer shall file a copy of Bureau of Employees' Compensation Form US—202 (approved by Budget Bureau No. 44–R 887.2) with the Field Safety Consultant of the Bureau of Labor Standards serving the area where the accident occurred (in addition to such filing as is required by 20 CFR 31.3) unless prior thereto and as soon after the accident as feasible the employer has given oral or written notice of the accident to the person in charge of such office in sufficient detail to permit the accident to be identified readily.

19. In order to make compliance with the recommendations of the International Labor Office mandatory, 29 CFR 9.12(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 9.12 Gear certification.

(a) The employer shall not use the ship's cargo handling gear until he has ascertained that the vessel has a current and valid cargo gear register and certificates indicating that the cargo gear has been tested, examined and annealed in accordance with (1) the requirements of International Labor Organization Convention No. 32, and (2) the recommendations of the International Labor Office concerning the procedures to be followed in testing, examining and annealing cargo gear, which are contained in Appendix I of this Part 9. The forms of registers and certificates shall be essentially in accordance with the sample forms.

20. In order to exempt safety hooks from the limitation on the use of hooks generally in 29 CFR 9.42(b), paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 9.42 Beam and pontoon bridles.

* * * * *

(b) Bridles for lifting hatch beams or strongbacks shall be equipped with toggles, shackles, or other safe devices. Toggles, when used, shall be at least one inch longer than twice the longest diameter of the holes into which they are placed. Hooks, other than safety hooks, may be used only when they are hooked into the standing part of the bridle.

21. In order to correct an inadvertance by reversing the 30° and 60° bridle or basket hitch columns in tables G–3 and G–5 and to provide certain additional detail in table G–6, tables G–3, G–5, and G–6 in 29 CFR 9.63 are amended in accordance with the tables which appear below.

22. In order to correct a typographical error, the heading of Form No. 3 in Appendix I of 29 CFR Part 9 is amended to read as follows:

Executive Order No. 5036

All land within 100 feet of a center line extending South 36° West from corner No. 4 of U.S. Survey No. 1334 for a distance of approximately 3,300 feet; thence South approximately 600 feet to the outlet of a small unnamed lake, and all land lying within one quarter of a mile from the shore of said lake, excepting such part as may be included within the said U.S. Survey No. 1334 upon which patent has issued.

The tract described contains approximately 20 acres.

2. Any lands released from the withdrawal made by Executive Order No. 5036 which are within the boundaries of the Tongass National Forest shall at 10:00 a.m. on August 27, 1960, be open to such forms of appropriation as may by law be made of national forest lands.

3. Subject to any existing valid rights and the requirements of applicable law, the public lands are hereby opened to settlement and to filing of applications, selections, and locations in accordance with the following, the unsurveyed lands being opened to filing of such applications, selections, and locations as may by law be made for unsurveyed lands:

Title 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 13477; FCC 60-886]

PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

Minimum Operating Requirements of Broadcast Stations

1. On April 22, 1960, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rule Making (FCC 60-421) instituting rule making in this proceeding on a proposal to change the minimum operating requirements for standard broadcast stations to enable daytime only stations to sign-off the air at 6 p.m. It was also proposed to revise the requirements for notification to the Commission in the event of operation stoppages of standard, FM or television broadcast stations because of technical difficulties so as not to require notification when the off-the-air period is of such short duration that the minimum hour requirements for operation can still be met by a station. Additionally, it was proposed to require notification of resumption of operation in all cases requiring notification of operation stoppages.

2. No comments opposing the aforementioned proposals were received. The National Association of Broadcasters and The Scranton Times, licensee of standard broadcast Station WEJL, Scranton, Pennsylvania, filed comments supporting all proposals. Comments were also received from Milam Broadcasting Company, licensee of standard broadcast Station KMIL at Cameron, Texas, endorsing the proposal to permit daytime only stations to sign-off the air at 6 p.m. The New Orleans Television Corporation, which operates Television Station WVUE pursuant to special temporary authorization at New Orleans, Louisiana, filed comments supporting the proposed changes in notification requirements with respect to operation stoppages.

3. The comments received on the proposal to amend § 3.71 of the rules by placing operation after 6 p.m. on an optional basis insofar as daytime standard broadcast stations are concerned substantiate our conclusion that this relaxation in the rules would be beneficial to both the Commission and daytime broadcasters and would be in the public interest. In the past the Commission has been advised by numerous daytime only stations that they find it a hardship and economically unfeasible to meet the present minimum requirement for operation after 6 p.m. during the months when their specified local sunset time falls after 6 p.m. Daytime only stations have also informed of their difficulty in acquiring an audience for their programs after 6 p.m., since listeners during the greater part of the year are not accustomed to receiving a daytime station after 6 p.m., and their listening habits are not easily changed, particularly when the required minimum operation for a few months after 6 p.m., changes from month to month, as, the interval between 6 p.m. and local sunset increases or decreases. These reports are corroborated by the comments received in this proceeding. While we have found these reasons good cause for waiving § 3.71 of the rules to permit daytime only stations to sign-off the air at 6 p.m., during the months when their specified local sunset time falls after 6 p.m.—75 or more such waiver requests are acted upon yearly—a rule change making operation after 6 p.m. permissive for daytime only stations would obviate the necessity for these waiver requests, lessen our administrative workload and the paperwork of daytime stations, and is believed to be warranted.

4. We also believe it desirable to relax the present requirement in §§ 3.71, 3.261 and 3.651 of the rules which respectively requires standard, FM and television licensees to notify the Commission in writing of every operation stoppage due to technical difficulties so as to make such notification unnecessary for technical failures of such short duration that the minimum hour requirements for operation can still be met. A record of each operation stoppage because of technical difficulties must be kept in a station's operating log, and we consider this to be sufficient information for the Commission's purposes with respect to those brief operation stoppages which do not make it impossible for a station to adhere to the minimum operation requirements. To best serve the Commission's purposes however, we believe that, in addition to receiving notification of each operation stoppage which makes it impossible for a station to adhere to minimum operation requirements, we should subsequently be notified when operation is resumed. The revised provisions relating to notification in §§ 3.71, 3.261 and 3.651 below therefore provide for such notification also.

5. Authority for the adoption of the amendments herein is contained in sections 4(i) and 303 (c) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. The amended provisions of §§ 3.71; 3.261 and 3.651 respecting notification requirements are procedural in nature. The amendment to § 3.71 which enables daytime only stations to sign off the air at 6 p.m. is of practical utility now to those daytime only stations whose specified local sunset time falls after 6 p.m. In these circumstances, we find good cause for making the amendments effective prior to the 30-day publication period prescribed by section 4(c) of the Administrative Procedure Act.

7. In the light of the foregoing: It is ordered, That, effective July 28, 1960, §§ 3.71, 3.261 and 3.651 of the Commission's rules are amended as set forth below, and this proceeding is terminated.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U.S.C. 154. Interprets or applies sec. 303, 48 Stat. 1082, as amended; 47 U.S.C. 303)

Adopted: July 20, 1960.

Released: July 25, 1960.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
BEN F. WAPLE,
Acting Secretary.

1. Section 3.71 is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.71 Minimum operation schedule.

(a) All standard broadcast stations are required to maintain an operating schedule of not less than two-thirds of the total hours they are authorized to operate between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m., local standard time, and two-thirds of the total hours they are authorized to operate between 6 p.m. and midnight, local standard time, on each day of the week except Sunday: Provided, however, That stations authorized for daytime operation only need comply only with the minimum requirement for operation between 6 a.m. and 6 p.m.

(b) In the event that causes beyond a licensee's control make it impossible to adhere to the operating schedule in paragraph (a) of this section or to continue operating, the station may limit or discontinue operation for a period of not more than 10 days, without further authority of the Commission. However, the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be immediately notified in writing if the station is unable to maintain the minimum operating schedule and shall be subsequently notified when the station resumes regular operation.

2. Section 3.261 is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.261 Time of operation.

(a) All FM broadcast stations will be licensed for unlimited time operation. A minimum of 36 hours per week during the hours of 6 a.m. to midnight, consisting of not less than 5 hours in any one day, except Sunday, must be devoted to the FM broadcast operation; time devoted to operations conducted pursuant to a Subsidiary Communications Authorization (see §§ 3.293 to 3.295) shall not be included in meeting this 36-hour broadcast requirement.

(b) In the event that causes beyond a licensee's control make it impossible to adhere to the operating schedule in paragraph (a) of this section or to continue operating, the station may limit or discontinue operation for a period of not more than 10 days, without further authority of the Commission. However, the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be immediately notified in writing if the station is unable to maintain the minimum operating schedule and shall be subsequently notified when the station resumes regular operation.

3. Section 3.651(a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.651 Time of operation.

(a) (1) All television broadcast stations will be licensed for unlimited time operation. Each such station shall maintain a regular program operating schedule as follows: Not less than 2 hours daily in any five broadcast days per week and not less than a total of 12 hours per week during the first 18 months of the station's operation; not less than 2 hours daily in any 6 broadcast days per week and not less than a total of 16 hours, 20 hours and 24 hours per week for each successive 6-month period of operation, respectively; and not less than 2 hours in each of the 7 days of the week and not less than a total of 28 hours per week thereafter.

(2) "Operation" includes the period during which a station is operated pursuant to temporary authorization or during program tests, as well as during the license period. Time devoted to test patterns, or to aural presentations accompanied by the incidental use of fixed visual images which have no substantial relationship to the subject matter of such aural presentations, shall not be considered in computing periods of program service.

(3) In the event that causes beyond a licensee's control make it impossible to adhere to the operating schedule in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph or to continue operating, the station may limit or discontinue operation for a period of not more than 10 days, without further authority of the Commission. However, the Commission and the Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located shall be immediately notified in writing if the station is unable to maintain the minimum operating schedule and shall be subsequently notified when the station resumes regular operation.

Use of Microwave Frequencies

1. On August 6, 1959, the Commission released a Notice of Proposed Rule Making and a Supplemental Notice of Proposed Rule Making covering technical standards to govern, during the interim until such time as rules are promulgated on a regular basis, the granting of applications for the use of microwave frequencies above 952 Mc for private communications systems, excluding broadcasters. The original date for filing comments herein, August 24, 1959, was extended to September 24, 1959, pursuant to a request therefor filed by Electronics Industries Association (EIA). Thereafter, by Order released September 1, 1959, the Commission denied a request filed by General Telephone Service Corporation (General) to extend the period of time in which to file comments in this proceeding until at least 20 days following final action on a petition for reconsideration of the Commission's Report and Order in Docket No. 11866, which it expected to file or any other petition which might be filed. Subsequently, by Order dated September 30, 1959, in Docket No. 11866, in connection with a request for a stay in that proceeding, the Commission also denied requests of General and others that the Commission defer action on the rule making proceeding herein until at least 30 days following final action by the Commission on pending requests for reconsideration in that proceeding. Timely comments were received from thirty parties.

2. In its comments on the instant rule making proposal filed on September 24, 1959, EIA requested that the proposal as to bandwidth be held in abeyance until such time as the EIA Engineering Ad Hoc Committee, which was then studying the problem, could complete its work and make recommendations. In a letter dated and filed January 19, 1960, EIA filed its recommendations concerning bandwidth specifications for use of microwave frequencies by private communications systems. By Order released January 27, 1960, the Commission extended the time for filing comments and accepted such filing. Such Order further provided that interested parties could file comments or replies within a period of twenty days from date of release of such Order. At the request of certain parties, this time was subsequently extended until April 1, 1960.

3. The time for filing comments has now expired. All comments filed in this proceeding have been carefully considered and will be discussed according to subject matter as set forth hereinafter and will not be identified in all cases by the proponents thereof.

4. Review of comments, particularly those received from existing licensees of private microwave systems,[1] indicate some apprehension that the proposed standards would, upon adoption, be applied to all equipment then in operation. These parties generally stated that the equipment now used in existing systems would not meet the standards set forth in the proposed rules, particularly with respect to tolerances, and urged that such equipment and systems be exempted from such standards until such time as harmful interference is encountered. Alternatively, some suggested that they be permitted to use their present equipment during a specified period sufficient to amortize the cost thereof. It was also suggested by some that the Commission should authorize, on a case-by-case basis, additions or modification to existing systems using equipment that does not meet the proposed standards during such period.

5. Most of the parties who filed comments indicated their support for some technical standards governing the granting of applications for private microwave systems. Some, however, suggested that the Commission should defer standards for the so-called "microwave mobile bands", i.e., 2450–2500, 6525–6575, and 10550–10700 Mc, until some future time when more data are known concerning operations therein. It was suggested by most of those who commented thereon, that no standards should be set at this time for operations using frequencies above 16000 Mc. EIA stated that, in general, it supports immediate adoption of adequate technical standards, followed by periodic review and revision to meet the demands placed upon the private microwave spectrum. Several of the parties indicated general agreement with the EIA proposal, which is discussed more fully hereinafter, although certain of these parties suggested modifications or alternatives to such proposal. A few parties, however, argued that the proposed standards were unrealistic and unwarranted. Their comments were apparently related to the problems involved with converting existing equipment to meet the proposed standards rather than with the design and production of new equipment.

6. In its January 19, 1960, submittal, EIA recommended that the Commission adopt the concept of "channel bandwidth", which was defined as "An authorized band of frequencies which includes allowances for necessary bandwidth plus transmitter frequency tolerance." Using such definition, it further recommended channel bandwidths standards as follows:

Frequency band (Mc)	Channel bandwidth
	For adoption in Docket 13083	5 years after adoption, Docket 13083
952.0–952.6	100 kc	100 kc
952.6–960.0	[1] 100 kc	[1] 100 kc
1850–1990	[2] 8 Mc	[2] 8 Mc
2110–2200	[2] 8 Mc	[2] 8 Mc
2450–2500	(3)	(3)
2500–2700	[2] 8 Mc	[2] 8 Mc
6525–6575	(3)	(3)
6575–6875	20 Mc	[2] 10 Mc
10550–10700	(3)	(3)

[1] Additional channel bandwidths may be authorized upon a factual showing of need therefor; however, bandwidths in excess of 500 kc will not be authorized.
[2] Additional channel bandwidths may be authorized upon a factual showing of need.
[3] To be specified in the authorization.

7. Comments were received from eleven parties in reference to the above-described EIA proposed bandwidth standards. Most of the comments on channel bandwidths were generally favorable. However, three parties stated that a strict set of sandards should not be established at this time, and two other parties expressed concern that the standards, if adopted, would have an adverse impact on existing equipment. The Association of American Railroads (AAR) stated that it supported EIA in reference to the channel bandwidths in Column 1 as proposed for adoption in Docket 13083 but that the standards listed in Column 2 which referred to channel bandwidth "5 years after adoption of Docket 13083" should not be included in any rules or regulations because the railroads propose to use microwave systems capable of transmitting 600 voice circuits, medium-high to high speed facsimile, high speed data, and television, and that, in its opinion, the channel bandwidths necessary for these purposes will exceed the limits shown in Column 2.

8. With a few exceptions, there was general agreement as to the proposed power and beamwidth. Several parties suggested that power for the 952–960 Mc band be increased from 3 watts up to 30 watts in order to accommodate long distance control-repeater circuits. EIA and certain other parties requested that provision be made for a beamwidth of 4 degrees in the 12200–12700 Mc band in lieu of 2 degrees as proposed. The National Committee for Utilities Radio (NCUR) suggested beamwidths considerably narrower than those proposed with the notation that they should apply in critical and congested areas only. Some parties urged that provision should be made for omnidirectional antenna systems for traffic control system. EIA and Motorola suggested that the frequency band 952.0–952.6 Mc be made available for such systems using power up to 100 watts. NCUR also requested omnidirectional antenna systems in bands above 10,000 Mc and in the 6525–6575 and 6575–6875 Mc bands on an engineered, case-by-case basis for capacitor and street light control and off-peak load control.

9. In their comments on bandwidths set forth in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making, Scatter Communications, Inc., an organization engaged in design and installation of communications systems, stated that the bandwidths, as proposed, impose discriminatory and unnecessary restrictions upon 2 KMC wideband systems when compared with 7 KMC and 10 KMC wideband systems. It stated that it is possible to achieve channel capacity of 600 channels in the 6575–6875 Mc band with a 10 Mc bandwidth but only 240 channels in the 2110–2200 Mc where the proposed bandwidth was limited to 4 Mc. The State of Minnesota, Department of Highways, stated that it had made a six months engineering study for a proposed Statewide Communications system using frequencies in the 952–960 Mc band with 25 watts output power and a bandwidth of 700 kc to provide as many as ten voice channels. It was claimed that such system would use "type accepted" microwave equipment and would replace control and repeater equipment now operating in the 72–76, 154–160, and 453–459 Mc bands. It was claimed that the 2000 and 6000 Mc bands were unsatisfactory because many more repeater stations would be required. The Commission was urged not to adopt the proposed standards for the 952–960 Mc band but to "consider retaining those standards by which Operational Fixed operation is permitted under Part 10 of the rules."

10. By far, the bulk of the comments were directed toward the proposed frequency tolerances. In authorizations now being made, the Commission is requiring a frequency tolerance of 0.005 percent for the 952–960 Mc band and 0.05 percent for all higher bands. The Commission proposed that the tolerance for the 952–960, 1850–1990, 2110–2200, and 2500–2700 Mc bands be reduced to 0.0005 percent; 6525–6575 and 6575–6875 Mc bands reduced to 0.005 percent; and higher bands reduced to 0.05 percent.

[1] As used herein, the term "private microwave systems" is meant to exclude broadcasters.

11. Motorola supported the Commission's tolerance proposal for the range 952–3000 Mc, stating that the transmitter frequency tolerance and antenna beamwidth proposed in the Docket are within the state of the art. EIA and General Electric also supported the proposed tolerance for the 952–960 Mc band, stating that such tolerance was within the state of the art, but EIA suggested a more lenient tolerance for the higher bands as shown in the table below. EIA further claimed that, while tolerances as proposed can be obtained technically, it is economically infeasible to do so at the present time. General Electric, while indicating its support of the EIA proposal, suggested a general frequency tolerance of 10 percent of the bandwidth employed.

12. EIA suggested that the Commission adopt progressively restrictive tolerance criteria which would be respectively applicable now, one year after adoption of rules, five years after adoption of rules, and ultimately, as follows:

TOLERANCE (PERCENT)

Frequency band	Now	1 year after adoption	5 years after adoption	Ultimate
952.0–952.6	0.0005	0.0005	0.0001	0.0001
952.6–960	.0005	.0005	.0001	.0001
1850–1990	.05	.02	.01	(4)
2110–2200	.05	.02	.01	(4)
2450–2500	(5)	(5)	(5)	(4)
2500–2700	.05	.02	.01	(4)
6525–6575	(5)	(5)	(5)	(4)
6575–6875	.05	.03	.01	(4)
10550–10700	(5)	(5)	(5)	(4)
12200–12700	.1	.1	.05	(4)
Above 16000	(5)	(5)	(5)	(5)

[4] Dependent upon final channel bandwidth.
[5] To be specified in authorization.

While, as indicated above, the user groups generally opposed the tolerance standards proposed by the Commission as being too restrictive, it is clear that such opposition stems principally from their concern that existing equipment would be rendered obsolete.

13. In a comment filed by the Canadian Marconi Company, which claimed to have invested substantial amounts in the design and production of broadband FM multichannel radio relay equipment, it was argued that the proposed standards deviate radically from the CCIR recommendations,[3] with respect to frequency tolerance and bandwidth, which are internationally accepted as the basis for multichannel radio relay equipment design. It was pointed out that the CCIR recommended frequency tolerance for the 1850–1990 and the 2110–2200 Mc bands is 0.03 percent and there is no restriction on the bandwidth, whereas Docket No. 13083 proposes a frequency tolerance of 0.0005 percent for both bands with a bandwidth limitation of 8 Mc for the 1850–1990 Mc band and 4 Mc for the 2110–2200 Mc band. It was further claimed that the proposal herein discriminates strongly against manufacturers of broadband FM multichannel radio relay systems having capacity in excess of 120 channels or capacity for high speed data transmission.

14. As noted above, EIA has suggested that technical standards for so-called "microwave mobile bands", viz., 2450–2500, 6525–6575, 10550–10700 Mc, not be adopted at this time in order to allow for maximum development of many portable and mobile services. Likewise, they requested deferral of technical standards for the bands above 16000 Mc.

15. The Joint Council on Educational Television (JCET) and the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) in a joint filing, claimed that the Report and Order in Docket No. 11866 did not adequately provide for educational television needs, thereby making it technically impossible to comment productively upon the technical details of the proposed standards. In Docket No. 11866, these organizations had requested the allocation of a block of frequencies 500 Mc wide below 10000 Mc and preferably between 3000 and 6500 Mc. In their comments herein, they requested the Commission to adopt technical standards governing the grant of applications for the use of microwave frequencies for private communications systems which would accommodate such proposed educational use. It was stated that a bandwidth of approximately 20 Mc is necessary in order "to provide a service of adequate quality for the transmission of the educational television programs proposed."

16. In considering the comments filed herein, we desire at the outset to emphasize that the proper development of the microwave spectrum requires that orderly and systematic procedures and proper technical criteria be applied at the earliest practicable time in the issuance of authorizations for private microwave systems. Authorizations for private microwave systems in certain cases have been made during the past several years, mostly on a developmental basis. The technical specifications for such equipment and systems have been set forth in each authorization. The experience thus gained has proved invaluable to us in formulating appropriate standards and criteria. It is significant, we think, that most of the comments herein support the view that some technical standards should be adopted. The standards proposed herein govern the licensing of equipment used in private microwave systems only during the interim until such equipment and systems are licensed on a regular basis. As such, this proceeding constitutes the first step in assuring the development of microwave systems in an orderly and effective manner.

17. We do not at this time propose to make the standards adopted herein applicable to existing equipment or systems. Thus, any transmitting equipment now authorized (including antennas), or for which an authorization is issued based upon an application which is filed prior to the effective date of this Report and Order, may be used by the licensee, his successors or assigns in business, provided the operation of such equipment does not result in harmful interference to another station which is operating in accordance with these standards. In case of interference, the licensee will be required to take whatever corrective measures are necessary to alleviate the interference. On and after the effective date of this Report and Order, all equipment authorized for use in private microwave systems, except as provided above, must comply with these technical standards.

18. We turn, then, to the comments filed jointly by the Joint Council of Educational Television (JCET) and the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) concerning the need for microwave frequencies for educational television operations and also to the comments filed by the various parties herein concerning omnidirectional antenna systems. Basically, the question as to frequencies to be allocated for educational television purposes is a matter to be decided in Docket No. 11866 and is not within the scope of the proceedings here. Since both JCET and SREB have filed a petition for reconsideration in the latter docket, their request will be disposed of in connection with that proceeding. Similarly, the Commission in its Report and Order in Docket 11866, stated that omnidirectional antenna systems would substantially curtail the use which may be made of microwave frequencies because a frequency used in such a system could not be used in the same area by another licensee. It was further provided therein that authorizations for such systems would be made on a case-by-case basis, on a showing of exceptional and unique circumstances, using frequencies above 16,000 Mc. Thus, this, too, is a matter which goes to the basic policy determination in Docket 11866 and is, therefore, beyond the scope of the instant proceeding. The action taken herein on these matters, of course, is without prejudice to any action which may be taken in Docket 11866, or in any subsequent rule making proposal on this matter.

19. As shown above, and except for the proposals relating to omnidirectional antenna systems and for the "microwave mobile" bands, there was general agreement as to the powers and beamwidths proposed. It was suggested that the power should be increased to 30 watts in the 952–960 Mc band in order to accommodate longe-range control-repeater circuits, and that the beamwidth in the 12 KMC band be increased from 2° to 4° in order to facilitate development of equipment in this band. We believe that the public interest will be served by permitting, during this interim period, 30 watts power in the 952–960 Mc band and 4° beamwidth in the 12 KMC band. The increase in beamwidth from 2° to 4° will permit the use of parabolic reflectors of smaller physical size, avoid the need for extremely rigid bracing usually required to prevent "twisting" in high winds, and in general

[3] International Radio Consultative Committee, VIII Plenary Session, Warsaw, 1956. Recommendation No. 145:
1.5. In band G (500 Mc/s–10,500 Mc/s): for wide-band radio relay systems the tolerance should be 0.05 percent for the next several years and 0.03 percent thereafter:
2. That the above tolerances are applicable to those stations which might cause international interference or which are used in international services; aid in the handling and installation of the equipment.

20. With respect to the proposal of EIA concerning bandwidth, it is noted that the recommendations agree substantially with the Commission's proposal for the bands 952–960 Mc and 1850–1990 Mc., but in the higher bands EIA has recommended wider limits. According to available information, the bandwidths proposed by the Commission are within the present state of the art and no showing to the contrary has been made by any of the parties to this proceeding. In view of this, and in view of the provision made herein to permit existing systems to continue to utilize authorized equipment under certain circumstances until harmful interference is caused, and because of the time interval preceding the effective date of the Report and Order herein, we believe that the public interest would be served by the adoption of the bandwidths as set forth in the Appendix attached hereto. Accordingly, as a general rule, we will issue authorizations in accordance with the bandwidths specified in the Appendix attached hereto. However, consideration will be given, on a case-by-case basis, to requests for additional adjacent channels, except in the 2110–2200 Mc band, based upon a complete and specific factual showing of unique or unusual circumstances, apart from economic considerations, requiring such additional channels. The band 2110–2200 Mc is expected from the latter flexibility in view of the fact that it is shared with common carrier services under rules which absolutely restrict bandwidth to a maximum of 5 megacycles. Bandwidth limits will apply to necessary or occupied bandwidth, whichever is greater. Spacing between assignable frequencies will be made equal to the maximum values as shown for bandwidth. By specifying separate values for frequency tolerance and bandwidth it is not necessary to use the EIA concept of "channel bandwidth".

21. This brings us to the comments of the Highway Department of the State of Minnesota, and other parties, concerning broadband operations in the microwave bands. Part 10 of the Commission's Rules does not contain technical standards for microwave equipment nor has the Commission type accepted any such equipment for use in private microwave systems. With respect to authorized bandwidth, the Commission has followed a strict policy of not authorizing bandwidths in excess of 500 kc in the 952–960 Mc band. Persons who have need for high capacity systems will be expected to operate in the higher microwave bands where more frequency space generally is available. Conversely, those who have need for a low capacity system which can be accommodated in a 500 kc bandwidth or less will be expected to operate in the band 952–960 Mc. Thus, we feel that the public interest will be served better by making provision generally for wider bandwidths of emission in the higher microwave bands.

22. The question of tolerances presents a more complex problem. It is evident that the thrust of the comments on this point has been directed to the argument that the proposed tolerances are economically infeasible at this time. EIA and Motorola both assert that the proposed tolerance of 0.0005 percent is within the state of the art for the 952–960 Mc band and Motorola states that 0.0005 percent is within the state of the art for the bands up to 3000 Mc. Data on file in the Commission disclose that certain of the microwave equipment now being manufactured meets the proposed tolerances in those bands.

23. At the present time, as shown in the Report and Order in Docket No. 11866, there are relatively few private radio stations in operation using frequencies above 890 Mc. In view of this fact and since the standards herein are of an interim nature, we feel that it would be appropriate for some relaxation of the proposed standards for tolerances in the bands above 960 Mc. Thus, the tolerance for the bands 1850–1990, 2110–2200, 2500–2700, 6525–6575, and 6575–6875 Mc will be reduced to 0.02 percent. The tolerance for the 12000 Mc band remains at 0.05 percent, as proposed, and tolerances in the bands above 16000 Mc will be specified in each authorization.

24. We have noted the suggestions that technical standards should not now be adopted for the so-called "microwave mobile" bands or for the grant of authorizations above 16000 Mc. While it is true that the nature and usage in the "microwave mobile" bands may be varied and may present some unique and novel problems, we believe that some broad and liberal criteria are desirable for such operations in order to provide general guidelines and yet afford a certain amount of protection. The same considerations also hold true with respect to authorizations for private microwave systems above 16000 Mc. Accordingly, in the absence of any specific data showing that such standards will limit or preclude developments in such bands, we are adopting the standards as proposed except for frequency tolerance and except for the beamwidth in the 10550–10700 Mc band where it has been increased to 4° to be consistent with our action in the 12200–12700 Mc band. In the case of frequency tolerances, we are of the opinion that specific frequency tolerances should not be adopted except for the 6525–6575 Mc band as it appears that the tolerance requirement will probably be similar to that in the contiguous band 6575–6875 Mc.

25. There remains only the question raised by Canadian Marconi as to whether the proposed standards are in accordance with the CCIR recommendations. We may quickly dispose of this matter by noting that the CCIR recommendations are considered to be minimum specifications and do not preclude the establishment of stricter specifications. Thus, the more strict technical specifications herein are not inconsistent with such recommendations. In nearly all cases, the Commission's technical specifications for radio transmitting equipment are more stringent than those internationally required or recommended.

26. The adoption of the standards hereinafter ordered are not intended to resolve or affect in any manner the issues raised in the pending requests for reconsiderations in Docket No. 11866.

Accordingly, in view of the foregoing: It is ordered, This 20th day of July 1960, that, effective January 1, 1961, the technical standards covering the grant of private microwave systems using frequencies above 952 Mc, as shown below, are adopted and the appropriate service rules governing the several Safety and Special Radio Services are amended to conform therewith, the formal codification of such changes to be accomplished by subsequent order of the Commission.

[Docket No. 13273; FCC 60–899]

PART 10—PUBLIC SAFETY RADIO SERVICES

Miscellaneous Amendments

In the matter of amendment of Part 10 of the Commission's rules, so as to establish a medical emergency radio service; provision of additional assignable frequencies for the use of licensees in the Police, Fire, and Highway Maintenance Radio Services; revision of the classes of persons who are eligible for licensing in the Special Emergency Radio Service and the deletion of certain frequencies assignable to licensees in the Special Emergency Radio Service; Docket No. 13273.

1. The Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the above-entitled matter sought comments on the Commission's proposal to dispose of 69 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band and 6 frequencies in the 42–50 Mc band. These frequencies had already been allocated to Part 10, Public Safety Radio Services in Docket No. 11990, but had not been specifically made available to any public safety group or groups. This Notice was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 9481; November 25, 1959) inviting comments by February 1, 1960 (which date was later extended to March 1, 1960) either in support of, or in opposition to, the proposals contained therein. The Notice also provided that for a period of 30 days after the deadline for submitting such comments, interested parties might file reply comments. These dates have all passed and an unusually large number of comments have been submitted for Commission consideration.

2. The Notice of Proposed Rule Making endeavored to effect several modifications with respect to Part 10 of the Commission's rules, other than the disposition of the 75 frequencies referred to in paragraph 1. However, the latter was the key issue involved, and most comments directed themselves to that segment of the Notice. In this regard, the Commission proposed: (a) To establish a Medical Emergency Radio Service utilizing 13 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band and 4 frequencies in the 42–50 Mc band; (b) to make available 5 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band to the Special Emergency Radio Service; (c) to make available 10 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band to the Highway Maintenance Radio Service; (d) to make available 25 frequencies in the 162–162 Mc band to the Police Radio Service; and finally (e) to make available 16 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band and 2 frequencies in the 42–50 Mc band to the Fire Radio Service. With respect to this last assignment, it was proposed that one frequency from each band be designated for use as an intersystem or "mutual aid" frequency by the Fire Radio Service similar to that employed by users in the Police Radio Service. For the reasons set forth below, it is not necessary at this time to consider the proposals contained in the Notice of Proposed Rule Making which do not pertain to the disposition of frequencies.

3. Many of those filing comments recommended that additional frequencies be made available to the Local Government Radio Service. While the Notice did not propose to make any additional frequencies available to this service, such comments have been considered as germane to this proceeding by the Commission since they present a partial solution to the problem of overcrowding on the frequencies available to the Public Safety Radio Services. The key issue faced by the Commission in this Docket is how to accommodate, with the limited number of frequencies now under consideration, the increased needs of those who presently are eligible under the various subparts of Part 10, as well as those whose activities would seem to make them deserving of inclusion under Part 10. It does not appear that either of these objectives can be fully attained. Relative needs must be assessed, and frequencies made available only after there has been a clear-cut showing that under existing circumstances a particular Public Safety group cannot function effectively. The facts presented by those filing in this Docket have been persuasive in establishing some justification for additional frequencies, but the demand exceeds the available supply. Hence, it is obvious that every Public Safety Service cannot be assigned all the frequencies requested. It is further apparent that in the absence of other factors those services whose needs were essentially unchallenged by other Public Safety users must be accorded some priority in the assignment of the 75 frequencies under consideration.

4. In this regard, the comments received with respect to the proposal to make available frequencies to the Police and Fire Radio Services were virtually without exception in support of the proposal. The proposed Medical Emergency Service engendered considerable opposition as did the contemplated assignment to the Highway Maintenance Radio Service and the Special Emergency Radio Service. It should be pointed out that there were also substantial numbers of comments submitted which supported adoption of each of the proposals. It is manifest, however, that these segments of the Docket will require additional consideration before a proper determination may be reached. Many of these matters will be disposed of in a later Report and Order. Of course, should the Commission conclude that establishment of a Medical Emergency Service would be in the public interest, a further Notice of Proposed Rule Making will be required which will set forth specific rules to govern this service, and on which interested parties will be afforded the opportunity to comment.

5. The filings of both the International Municipal Signal Association (IMSA) and the Associated Police Communications Officers, Inc. (APCO) specifically contain requests that in the event all portions of the Docket cannot be disposed of expeditiously, those proposals which affect their respective services should be the subject of immediate action to alleviate their pressing needs. On this point, IMSA stated:

> In the event any delay may occur regarding a decision on whether or not this new Service [Medical Emergency Service] should be established due to Comments filed by interested parties, it is respectfully urged that the proposals concerning the allocations to the Fire Radio Service be considered separately from the proposal for the establishment of this new Service so that the allocation of these additional frequencies will not be held up pending the determination of this other matter.

APCO in raising the same point commented:

> Because of the pressing need for additional frequency assignments, APCO also respectfully requests that prompt and expedited action be taken with respect to the police service . . . and possibly other established public safety services . . . even if the current proceeding and the questions relating to the establishment of a new medical emergency service cannot be concluded fully within a reasonably short time. APCO believes that such action is warranted by the current needs of the police service.

6. It should be pointed out that the absence of similar requests by the other Public Safety users was not the controlling factor in the Commission's determination to act now, only on those proposals affecting the Police and Fire Radio Services. As indicated in paragraph 4, supra, the filings by these groups clearly demonstrate a compelling need for additional frequencies immediately. Since their showings were virtually uncontroverted and, in fact, were generally supported by most of the comments, it would appear that prompt action as to their proposals is justified and is in the public interest.

Proposed Police Frequency Assignment. 7. The Wisconsin Chapter of APCO and the Washington State Patrol requested that all the presently unassigned frequencies located between existing police frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band be assigned to the Police Radio Service. APCO has sought 40 channels for police which it claims still "• • • would leave that service with serious frequency inadequacies." It is the APCO position that to assign the 25 frequencies proposed immediately would be acceptable as a stop-gap measure, but that the other 15 frequencies should be authorized in a later Report and Order. Most other interested parties who commented on this phase of the Notice of Proposed Rule Making concurred with the Commission's proposal to make available 25 frequencies to this service. For the reasons stated previously the Commission does not intend to authorize the 15 additional frequencies requested for use in the Police Radio Service at this time. This should not be construed to mean that the Commission will make available still further frequencies to this service in a subsequent Report and Order. Of course, the converse is also true; however, it must be noted that the assignment of 25 out of a total number of 69 available frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band to a single service represents a relatively high percentage. In addition, Section 10.252 of the Commission's Rules provides that after October 31, 1963, police frequencies may no longer be used for fire communications. It is anticipated that this will relieve to some extent the present overcrowding on police frequencies.

8. The sole disagreement among the various police users who filed comments concerned the number of frequencies which should be made available for state police organizations only. California Public Safety Radio Association, Inc., and the Associated Public Communications Officers, Inc., of California typified the view of those who advocated that none of these additional frequencies should be reserved for states. As the latter stated: "We cannot concur in any thinking which would add even more additional frequencies for exclusive state operation at the expense of the local law enforcement authorities until such time as the state police licensees can show that they are making as full use of their frequencies as the local law enforcement agencies are." Supporters of this position point out that counties presently operating police systems on low-band frequencies should be given the opportunity to shift to the 150 Mc band to avoid "skip" interference.

While the California State Communications Advisory Board proposed that the entire 25 frequencies be earmarked for state police only, the general consensus was that approximately 50 percent should be so reserved. In this regard, the fact that most of those filing comments in behalf of police users represented state organizations must be recognized. After examination of the record in this Docket and of the frequencies now available for this service, it is the Commission's opinion that 6 frequencies should be set aside for use by state police. Although this is a somewhat smaller number than that urged by many of the comments, it seems to be adequate when it is realized that the remaining frequencies will also be available to states, albeit not on an exclusive basis.

9. Some comments filed by police users requested that the frequencies selected for assignment to this service be chosen so as to permit the establishment of wide-area radio systems. However, to assign "split-channel" frequencies with this wide separation would give rise to frequency coordination problems since such assignments would have to be located between primary frequencies now available to other services. On balance, these serious difficulties which would then be created would transcend the advantages of facilitating large area operations. Hence, the Commission has endeavored to select frequencies for assignment to the Police Radio Service which will provide a one megacycle separation for such operations but has decided against wider separation assignments. It should be noted that judicious selection of an existing and a new frequency may well afford opportunity for wider separation.

Proposed Fire Frequency Assignment. 10. In its comment supporting the Commission's proposal to assign 16 frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band to the Fire Radio Service, IMSA points out that in addition to present overcrowding on existing frequencies many new fire systems will have to be established by October 31, 1963, when fire communications will no longer be able to be transmitted on police frequencies. Currently, there are no "split-channel" frequencies available to this service in this band, and those operating in the lower bands are experiencing severe "skip" interference. Frequencies in the 152–162 Mc band are more suitable for fire communications than the lower frequencies since fire departments are generally somewhat localized in their scope of operation and jurisdiction. Frequencies below 50 Mc give a transmitting range which often is in excess of fire needs, and they have the added disadvantage of bringing in unwanted signals.

The American Municipal Association did not oppose the proposed assignment to the Fire Radio Service but did question whether usage of present frequencies was sufficient to warrant additional channels. However, the comment further stated: "Admittedly, during a catastrophe or during multiple alarms in nearby areas some possible congestion on a present Fire Radio Service could frequently develop." This situation may also be said to exist potentially when radio is needed to aid in any fire-fighting activity. It is true that the frequency of utilization of radio by fire departments may be less than in some other service; however, when radio is required interference-free communications are essential. Otherwise, the value of radio becomes minimal. Thus, based on the frequencies now available to the Fire Radio Service and the interference level existing thereon, it appears that the public interest requires the assignment of additional frequencies to this service.

11. The Commission proposed, and the comments generally supported, the establishment of "mutual aid" or intersystem frequencies to enable adjacent fire departments to intercommunicate where cooperation and coordination is required in fighting a fire. Currently this intercommunication is available only where a group of fire radio licensees elect to operate on common base-mobile frequencies. This results in unnecessary interference and does not provide adequately for large systems which want to operate independently and still coordinate with other areas when the situation requires it. The Police Radio Service has effectively solved this problem under the intersystem concept: designation of particular frequencies solely for this purpose. In its comment, APCO enthusiastically recommends that this principle be adopted in the Fire Radio Service.

Some comments favored continuation of the present system rather than designation of specific frequencies for intercommunication. However, for the reasons stated above, the Commission is of the opinion that use of a particular frequency for this purpose will best serve the needs of the service. After examination of present assignments, the Commission has selected the frequencies 45.88 Mc and 154.280 Mc as the intersystem frequencies. Both of these frequencies are, of course, "split-channel" frequencies and will be available only after an applicant has complied with the requisite frequency coordination procedures. To enable the frequency 154.280 Mc to be used to the fullest, the Commission is proposing not to assign the frequencies 154.265 Mc and 154.295 Mc at this time (i.e., the frequencies 15 kc from this intersystem frequency). These frequencies will be tagged as "reserved," and after October 31, 1963, when frequency coordination on the "split channels" can be effectuated by an appropriate committee letter, these frequencies will be made available to applicants in the Fire Radio Service.

12. A few comments by fire radio users requested that the "split channels" be assigned to this service so that large area operation might be conducted. This requires wide frequency separation. (See paragraph 9, supra.) To provide for this, the Commission would have had to assign fire channels between frequencies allocated to other Public Safety Services. This would have introduced serious frequency coordination problems, and in many areas fire radio applicants might have been unable to obtain consent from these adjacent channel users. The net result might be that to all intents and purposes some of these interspersed split frequencies might prove to be unavailable. Instead the Commission has determined that all the frequencies to be assigned to the Fire Radio Service should be comprised of "split channels" located between existing fire radio assignments. This will create a solid block of fire frequencies and should greatly minimize the task of applicants in obtaining frequency coordination since fire radio applicants will need to seek consent only from existing fire radio users rather than from licensees in other services. It should be noted that a majority of the comments favored this "block type" frequency assignment. Wherever possible both in the balance of this Docket and in similar proceedings, the Commission will follow this policy.

13. Many comments question the need of assigning two frequencies in the 40 Mc band to the Fire Radio Service. In particular, certain users in the Highway Maintenance Radio Service have pointed out that these low-band frequencies are more suitable for their wide area operations than for fire-fighting activities. Of course, one such frequency has been designated, supra, for intersystem communications; however, it would appear advisable to withhold action on the disposition of the other 40 Mc frequency until a later Report and Order to reassess the possibility that it might be better assigned to another service.

14. The Commission wishes to point out that the frequencies made available herein to both Police and Fire Radio Services are located either 15 kc or 30 kc from existing primary channels. As such, the required frequency coordination which applicants will have to submit to obtain one of these frequencies will be that procedure which now applies to the assignment of "split-channel" frequencies. In essence this means that applicants for 30 kc "split channels" will have to comply with the provisions of §§ 10.255(h)(20) and 10.305(g)(11). Applicants for 15 kc "splits" will have to comply with requirements identical to those which are now applicable to the Local Government Radio Service as set forth in § 10.555(g)(5)(iii) in addition to the requirements of the above sections. It should be further noted, however, that certain primary channels are now available for mobile operation only. Hence, applicants seeking authorizations on channels within plus or minus 30 kc of these primaries will not be required to coordinate with existing users who are operating mobile systems only on such primary channels.

15. As mentioned previously, considerable support for additional assignments to the Local Government Radio Service has been placed on the record. The Notice of Proposed Rule Making did not contemplate any such assignments.

The Commission is, however, cognizant of the fact that there is a scarcity in the number of frequencies available in most areas, and in some locations all channels are currently in use, thus precluding new assignments. To alleviate this situation, the Commission intends to issue a Notice of Proposed Rule Making in the near future proposing to split certain frequencies between 150.8 Mc and 152 Mc and to make these split channels resulting therefrom available to the Local Government Radio Service.

Authority for the amendments set forth in the attached Appendix is contained in sections 4(i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

Therefore, it is ordered, That effective September 1, 1960, Part 10 be amended as set forth below.

STANDARD BROADCAST TRANSMITTERS

Single Lever for Allowable Noise and Hum

In the matter of amendment of § 3.40 of the Commission's rules to specify a single level for allowable noise and hum in standard broadcast transmitters, Docket No. 13689.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Section 3.40(a)(6) of the Commission's rules reads as follows:

(6) The carrier hum and extraneous noise (exclusive of microphone and studio noises) level (unweighted r.s.s.) is at least 50 decibels below 100 percent modulation for the frequency band of 150 to 500 cycles and at least 40 decibels down outside this range.

3. Measurements to determine compliance with the requirements of this paragraph of the rules are directly affected by the bandwidth of the measuring instrument. In the case of random noise, which is uniformly distributed throughout the frequency spectrum, the noise power measured will be directly proportional to the bandwidth of the measuring instrument. If hum or other discrete frequency noise components are present the measured noise level will depend on whether the bandwidth accepted by the measuring instrument includes these frequencies.

4. In order to minimize the need for complex measuring equipment and to permit more uniformity in making measurements to determine compliance with the Commission's rules, it is proposed to amend § 3.40(a)(6) to read as follows:

(6) The carrier hum and extraneous noise (exclusive of microphone and studio noises) level (unweighted r.s.s.) is at least 45 decibels below 100 percent modulation for the frequency band of 30 to 20,000 cycles.

This proposal, which represents a compromise of existing specifications, will insure acceptable transmitter performance while providing for measurement procedures which are more in keeping with accepted practice.

5. Pursuant to applicable procedures set out in § 1.213 of the Commission's rules, interested parties may file comments on or before August 22, 1960, and reply comments on or before September 1, 1960.

6. Authority for the adoption of the amendment proposed herein is contained in sections 4(i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

7. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.54 of the Commission's rules, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: July 20, 1960.

Released: July 22, 1960.

[Docket No. 13690; FCC 60-898]

LAND TRANSPORTATION RADIO SERVICES

Base Stations in the Taxicab Radio Service

In the matter of amendment of Part 16, Land Transportation Radio Services, to redefine eligibility and to specify permissible locations of base stations in the Taxicab Radio Service, Docket No. 13690.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule-making in the above-entitled matter.

2. The Commission proposes to amend its rules governing the Taxicab Radio Service to specify (1) that application for station authorization in that service may be made by any person who undertakes to provide taxicab service to the public in a given area, regardless of whether actually providing that service or actively preparing to provide that service, and (2) that, except under certain specified conditions, a base station in the Taxicab Radio Service may be located only within the area in which the licensee is regularly permitted to both pick up and discharge passengers in the operation of the taxicab transportation service, or if there is excessive signal strength outside such areas, the Commission may impose restrictions on the license to limit the effective communication service area.

3. The purpose of the first amendment described above is to clarify both the intent of the present rules of the Commission and existing application procedure. It has come to the attention of the Commission that some municipalities or other governmental authorities require that an applicant for a franchise or permit to operate a taxicab business be a licensee of this Commission and be fully equipped to dispatch his cabs by radio, before he may operate his taxicabs. It also appears, that in many other cases, persons starting in the taxicab business need to have their radio authorizations in hand before purchasing the taxicabs, in order to have firm information as to the radio frequencies which should be provided in any equipment to be factory installed. In either case, the issuance of such station authorizations in advance of actual taxicab operation has been considered permissible in the past under the existing provisions of the rules; however, considerable misunderstanding has existed on this matter and the presently proposed amendment is intended to clarify this situation. At the same time, it will be clearly set forth in the rules that when an authorization is issued under the preceding circumstances, the station(s) involved may not be operated for other than test purposes until such time as the associated taxicabs are actually being used to provide a taxicab transportation system in the area involved.

4. The second proposed amendment is designed to aid the Commission in correcting situations which have become more critical in recent years due to the rapid expansion of metropolitan areas and the increased use of radio by the taxicab industry. In addition, it serves to emphasize the intention of the Commission when it originally established the Taxicab Radio Service; i.e., to provide for the use of radio to facilitate the furnishing of adequate taxicab transportation facilities to the general public. In some instances taxicab companies operating in and around contiguous communities have either so constructed their base stations that the signals therefrom blanket the several communities involved or have attempted to locate their base stations so as to obtain additional communication range outside the areas primarily served by the taxicab transportation system. In other cases the station licensees have attempted to fill in "dead spots" in their local coverage areas, caused by buildings or other terrain factors, by the use of higher power or antennas although such complete coverage is frequently impossible. Such base station operation has invariably resulted in increased interference to other licensees, due either to the mere placement of the base station in an area served by such other licensee or due to the additional power and/or antenna height or directional characteristics which might be necessary to provide communications throughout the desired area. While the frequencies available for use by stations in the Taxicab Radio Service are shared without distinction between all licensees and the avoidance of unnecessary interference between such stations is the immediate responsibility of all the licensees involved, the Commission believes that the most effective use of radio as it relates to this service may be obtained by limiting the effective communication area of a base station, insofar as is practicable, to the area in which the associated taxicabs may both pick up and discharge passengers in their normal operations. Provision is made in the proposed amendment, however, for the placement of a base station outside such area when unavoidable, under conditions designed to assure that potential interference to other licensees caused by such placement is held to a minimum.

5. Authority for the proposed amendments, which are set forth below, is contained in sections 4(i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

6. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein, and any persons desiring to support this proposal may file with the Commission on or before September 1, 1960, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Replies to such comments may be filed within ten days from the last day for filing original comments. No additional comments may be filed unless (1) specifically requested by the Commission or (2) good cause for the filing of such additional comments are established. The Commission will consider all comments filed hereunder prior to taking final action in this matter provided that, notwithstanding the provisions of § 1.213 of the rules, the Commission will not be limited solely to the comments filed in this proceeding. If comments are submitted warranting oral argument, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given.

7. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.54 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, and comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: July 20, 1960.

Released: July 25, 1960.

[SEAL] BEN F. WAPLE,
Acting Secretary.

1. It is proposed to amend § 16.401 to read as follows:

§ 16.401 Eligibility.

(a) The following persons are eligible to hold authorizations to operate radio stations in the Taxicab Radio Service:

(1) Persons regularly furnishing or undertaking to furnish to the public in a given area a for-hire, non-scheduled, passenger land transportation service, not operated over a regular route or between established terminals.

(2) A non-profit corporation or association organized for the purpose of furnishing a private radiocommunication service solely to persons who are actually engaged in the activity set forth under subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Each application for authority to operate radio stations in the Taxicab Radio Service shall be accompanied by a statement in detail sufficient to indicate clearly the applicant's eligibility under paragraph (a) of this section and the geographical area in which the land transportation service by taxicab is provided or proposed. An applicant may comply with this requirement by submitting, but is not limited to, a showing that he has received, or that he has pending an application for, a franchise, certificate or other formal authority from the appropriate local regulatory agency or agencies to operate taxicabs in the area concerned.

(c) No station authorized pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be operated for other than test purposes until the associated taxicabs are in fact regularly engaged in furnishing the transportation service specified in paragraph (a)(1) of this section.

2. A new § 16.407 is proposed to be added, to read as follows:

§ 16.407 Limitations on base stations.

(a) Base stations in the Taxicab Radio Service will be authorized to be established or relocated only at locations within the respective areas in which the associated taxicabs are permitted to both pick up and discharge passengers. Exceptions to the above may be made, however, when an applicant submits a showing, satisfactory to the Commission, (1) that the location of the base station within such area is prohibited or restricted and (2) that the proposed location outside such area will not result in a material increase in radio interference to other taxicab operations.

(b) When it appears that the emissions of a base station in the Taxicab Radio Service might result in excessive signal strength outside the area in which the taxicabs associated with that base station are permitted to both pick up and discharge passengers, or when it appears that the emissions of such a base station do in fact cause unnecessary interference to other stations outside such area, the Commission in its discretion may specify limitations on the station power and antenna height, and may place such other restrictive terms on the station authorization as may appear necessary to limit the effective communication service area of the base station to the area served by the associated taxicabs.

AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Lockheed 188 Aircraft

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator, (§ 405.27, 24 F.R. 2196), notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration a proposal to amend Part 507 of the regulations of the Administrator to include an airworthiness directive requiring lavatory tank ground drain valve seal replacement on certain Lockheed 188 aircraft to preclude ice formation from leaky valves. Incidents of damage to property on the ground have occurred due to falling ice and safety of the aircraft can also be affected by ice formation.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Dockets Section of the Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. All communications received on or before August 29, 1960, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in light of comments received. All comments submitted will be available, in the Docket Section, for examination by interested persons when the prescribed date for return of comments has expired. This proposal will not be given further distribution as a draft release.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a), 601 and 603 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 752, 775, 778; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423).

In consideration of the foregoing, it is proposed to amend § 507.10(a) (14 CFR Part 507), by adding the following airworthiness directive:

Lockheed. Applies to 188 aircraft Serial Numbers 1002, 1004 through 1102, 1104 through 1120, and 2001 through 2013.

Compliance required by November 15, 1960.

Leaking lavatory tank ground drain valves have permitted drainage to the exterior surface of the aircraft in flight, resulting in ice formation which came off and struck the stabilizer. Since such ice formation is hazardous to aircraft in flight and to persons on the ground, all lavatory tank ground drain valves must be modified to incorporate LAC seal No. 636238-1 or equivalent.

(LAC 88/SB-407 covers the intent of this change.)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 22, 1960,

B. PUTNAM,
Acting Director, Bureau of Flight Standards.

TECHNICAL STANDARD ORDERS FOR AIRCRAFT MATERIALS, PARTS, PROCESSES, AND APPLIANCES

Airborne Radar Altimeter Equipment

Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (§ 405.27, 24 F.R. 2196) notice is hereby given that the Federal Aviation Agency has under consideration a proposal to amend Part 514 of the regulations of the Administrator by adopting a new Technical Standard Order. This Technical Standard Order will establish minimum performance standards for airborne radar altimeter equipment for use on civil aircraft of the United States engaged in air carrier operations.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Docket Section of the Federal Aviation Agency, Room B-316, 1711 New York Avenue NW., Washington 25, D.C. All communications received on or before September 12, 1960, will be considered by the Administrator before taking action on the proposed rule. The proposals contained in this notice may be changed in light of the comments received. All comments submitted will be available, in the Docket Section, for examination by interested persons when the prescribed date for return of comments has expired. This proposal will not be given further publication as a draft release.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of sections 313(a) and 601 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 (72 Stat. 753, 775; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421).

In consideration of the foregoing it is proposed to amend Part 514 as follows:

By adding the following § 514.73:

§ 514.73 Airborne radar altimeter equipment (for air carrier aircraft)—TSO–C67.

(a) Applicability—(1) Minimum performance standards. Minimum performance standards are hereby established for airborne radar altimeter equipment which is to be used on civil aircraft of the United States engaged in air carrier operations. New models of airborne radar altimeter equipment manufactured for use on civil air carrier aircraft on or after the effective date of this section shall meet the minimum performance standards as set forth in Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics' Paper entitled "Minimum Performance Standards for Airborne Radar Altimeter Equipment Intended for Determining Pressure Gradients and Operating Within the Radio Frequency Band of 420–460 Megacycles," (Paper 73–60/DO–103)[1] dated April 12, 1960. Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics' Paper 100–54/DO–60[1] which is incorporated by reference in and thus is a part of Paper 73–60/DO–103 has been amended by Paper 256–58/EC–366. This amendment is also a part of the minimum performance standards. Exceptions, additions, and substitutions to these standards are covered in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.[2]

(2) Exceptions. (i) Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics' Paper 100–54/DO–60, and amendment Paper 256–58/EC–366 dated November 13, 1958, outline environmental test procedures for equipment designed to operate under three environmental test conditions as specified therein under Procedures A, B, and C. Only airborne radar altimeter equipment which meets the operating requirements as outlined under Procedure A or Procedure B of Paper 100–54/DO–60, as amended, is eligible under this section.

(ii) The vibration values specified below may be used for equipment designed exclusively for installation on the instrument panel of aircraft in lieu of those specified in Paper 100–54/DO–60 as amended. No shock mounting shall be used during the conduct of this test if the vibration values specified below are used, Amplitude: 0.01" (0.02" total excursion).

Frequency: Variable 10–55 c.p.s.
Maximum Acceleration: 1.5 g.

(iii) Equipment which is designed exclusively for installation on the instrument panel of aircraft need not be subjected to the shock requirements outlined in Paper 100–54/DO–60 as amended.

(iv) Indicating instruments which are a part of the system, but which are not designed exclusively for installation on the instrument panel of aircraft, may also be tested to the vibration requirements specified in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, and need not be subjected to the shock requirements outlined in Paper 100–54/DO–60 as amended.

(b) Marking. (1) In addition to the markings specified in § 514.3, equipment which has been designed to operate over the environmental conditions outlined in Procedure A of RTCA Paper 100–54/DO–60, as amended, shall be marked as Category A equipment. Equipment which has been designed to operate over the environmental conditions outlined in Procedure B of this same paper shall be marked as Category B equipment. Equipment which has been designed exclusively for installation on the instrument panel of aircraft and which meets only the amended vibration requirements outlined above shall be identified with the letters I.P. following the category of equipment, such as CAT. A—I.P.

(2) Each major component of airborne radar altimeter equipment (antenna, power supply, etc.) shall be identified with at least the manufacturer's name and TSO number.

(c) Data requirements. (1) The manufacturer shall maintain a current file of complete design data.

(2) The manufacturer shall maintain a current file of complete data describing the inspection and test procedures applicable to his product. (See paragraph (d) of this section.)

(3) Six copies each, except where noted, of the following shall be furnished to the Chief, Engineering and Manufacturing Division, Bureau of Flight Standards, Federal Aviation Agency, Washington 25, D.C.

(i) Manufacturer's operating instructions and equipment limitations.

(ii) Installation procedures with applicable schematic drawings, wiring diagrams, and specifications. Indicate any limitations, restrictions, or other conditions pertinent to installation.

(iii) One copy of the manufacturer's test report.

(d) Quality control. Airborne radar altimeter equipment shall be produced under a quality control system, established by the manufacturer, which will assure that each equipment is in conformity with the requirements of this section and is in a condition for safe operation. This system shall be described in the data required under paragraph (c)(2) of this section. A representative of the Administrator shall be permitted to make such inspections and tests at the manufacturer's facility as may be necessary to determine compliance with the requirements of this section.

(e) Previously approved equipment. Airborne radar altimeter equipment approved by the Administrator prior to the effective date of this section may continue to be manufactured under the provisions of its original approval.

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 22, 1960.

WILLI FARNER ET AL.

Order Denying Export Privileges

In the matter of Willi Farner, also known as Willi Farner Moser, Grenchen, Switzerland, and Sagrera 44–58 Barcelona, Spain; Farner-Werke A.G., Grenchen, Switzerland; Alexander Botez, also known as A. B. Gamboa, and as Alexander Botez Gamboa, and as Allessandro Donici Botez, Boite Postale 21, Poste Grange Canal, Geneva, Switzerland; respondents; Case No. 273.

Willi Farner, also known as Willi Farner Moser, of Grenchen, Switzerland and Barcelona, Spain, Farner-Werke A.G., also of Grenchen, Switzerland, and Alexander Botez, alias A. B. Gamboa, Alexander Botez Gamboa, and Allessandro Donici Botez, of Geneva, Switzerland, the respondents herein, were charged by the Director, Investigation Staff, Bureau of Foreign Commerce of the United States Department of Commerce, with having violated the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, in that, as alleged, among other things, they participated in ventures involving unauthorized transshipments and diversions of electronic goods exported from the United States. They have been subject to a temporary order denying all export privileges to them since August 11, 1958 (23 F.R. 6270, August 14, 1958; 23 F.R. 7145, September 16, 1958). They appeared herein by attorney, admitted certain of the charges but pleaded mitigating circumstances, and denied all other charges.

In accordance with the practice, the case was referred to the Compliance Commissioner, who has reported that the evidence supports findings of violation and has recommended that the respondents be denied export privileges so long as export controls remain in effect.

Now, after considering the entire record consisting of the charges, the evidence submitted in support thereof, the answers, evidence and brief submitted on behalf of respondents, and the Report and Recommendation of the Compliance Commissioner, I hereby make the following findings of fact:

1. At all times hereinafter mentioned, the respondents Willi Farner, Farner-Werke A.G., and Alexander Botez, the last being known also as A. B. Gamboa, Alexander Botez Gamboa, or Allessandro Donici Botez, were engaged in the import and export business in Switzerland, and the respondent Willi Farner had also an address in Barcelona, Spain, where he was known as Willi Farner Moser.

2. During the years 1955, 1956, and 1957, the said respondents, for the purpose of supplying numerous commodities being obtained by or on behalf of purchasers known by them to be engaged in the importation of such commodities into Communist China, proceeded to purchase such commodities from suppliers in the United States or from an exporter in England, who, in turn, purchased the same from suppliers in the United States.

3. Commodities so purchased were delivered by the respondents to persons in Switzerland, who, thereafter, acting independently with the knowledge of the respondents or by utilizing facilities available to the respondents, caused the commodities so purchased and originally exported from the United States to be diverted and transshipped to Communist China contrary to and in violation of the export licenses pursuant to which they had been exported from the United States.

4. Among the commodities so acquired by the respondents were six trademarked signal generators together with spare tubes and instruction manuals, exported from the United States in February, April, and May 1957; another trademarked signal generator together with spare tubes and instruction manual, exported from the United States in January 1957; a trademarked polar recorder and precision square rooter together with spare tubes, exported from the United States in May 1957; a trademarked electronic frequency meter with spare tubes plus an optical tachometer pickup, two tachometer generators, an accessory meter, and a cable assembly together with instruction manuals for each instrument, exported from the United States in February 1957; and two radio interference-field intensity meters with numerous accessories and spare tubes, exported from the United States in January 1957.

5. In order to induce the sale and exportation to them of the commodities mentioned in Finding 4 hereof, respondents stated and represented or caused to be stated and represented on various export control documents required by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce that the said commodities were to be used in Spain and that Spain was the country of ultimate destination.

6. Said export control documents were submitted to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in support of applications for validated export licenses to permit the exportation of the commodities from the United States.

7. Also in January, February, and March of 1956, but not shown by the evidence herein to be connected with acquisitions for the purpose of supplying the Communist purchasers, respondents purchased from sources in the United States and caused to be exported from the United States two microwave signal generators with tubes and accessories, two Universal power bridges and ten bolometers with three sets of spare tubes, and one spectrum analyzer with a set of spare tubes.

8. In order to induce the sale and exportation to them of the commodities mentioned in Finding 7 hereof, because they were the subject of representations by the respondents that they would be used in Switzerland, and in accordance with regulations of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, respondents obtained from a department of the Government of Switzerland three Swiss Import Certificates upon representations to that Government that they would import the said commodities into Switzerland.

9. In support of applications for validated export licenses to permit the exportation of said commodities from the United States, respondents caused to be submitted to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce the said Swiss Import Certificates and three BFC Consignee-Purchaser Statements in which they had represented or caused to be represented that the said commodities were to be imported into Switzerland as the country of final destination.

10. In reliance on the representations so made and contained in the various documents submitted, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, in due course, issued validated export licenses authorizing the exportation of the commodities mentioned in Finding 4 to Spain and in Finding 7 to Switzerland, and all the said commodities thereafter were exported from the United States pursuant to said licenses.

11. The representations made by the respondents setting forth the end use and ultimate destination of the commodities mentioned in Finding 4 hereof were false and known by them to be false at the time when they made such representations. They made such representations for the purpose of inducing the Bureau of Foreign Commerce to issue the validated export licenses permitting the exportation of the said commodities to them because they well knew that if the true destination of the goods, Communist China, were known to the exporters in the United States or to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, applications for export licenses would not have been submitted or, if submitted, would not have been granted.

12. The representations made by the respondents as to ultimate use and destination, both in Spain and in Switzerland, were continuing representations, and respondents had certified to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce that, prior to any disposition of the goods contrary thereto, they would send a supplemental statement showing any intended change in facts or intentions to the exporter in the United States from whom the goods were being acquired.

13. Respondents, without notifying any American exporter or the Bureau of Foreign Commerce and without authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, caused the commodities mentioned in Findings 7 and 8 hereof to be transshipped from Switzerland to Spain without authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce.

14. The transshipments both to Spain and to Communist China were made or caused to be made by respondents after receipt by them of invoices and bills of lading on which had been endorsed destination control notices prescribed by the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, which notices gave them additional knowledge and warning that the goods covered by such documents had been exported from the United States pursuant to export licenses restricting their ultimate delivery to particular countries and that diversion to other places was contrary to United States law.

15. During the course of an investigation concerned with the ultimate disposition of the Commodities which had been licensed for exportation to Spain and in response to inquiries by the American Consul in Barcelona, Spain, acting on behalf of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, the respondent, Willi Farner, represented and stated to him that certain of the equipments which had been obtained by the respondents for importation into Spain actually had been imported into that country, but in making the said statement, Farner well knew that it was false and intended to mislead the American consul in his investigation and that the equipments mentioned by him in fact had not been imported into Spain.

16. In the Consignee-Purchaser Statement which respondents caused to be submitted to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in support of the application for the license to export the polar recorder, square rooter and spare tubes, they represented that a particular company in Barcelona, Spain, was the purchaser thereof and Farner, after executing the said statement naming "Willi Farner Moser" as ultimate consignee, executed as well the portion of that statement entitled, "Certificate of Purchaser," caused to be endorsed thereon the name of the company represented as "purchaser," and signed the name of one of the managers of said company thereon.

17. By so signing the name of the manager of the company represented as "purchaser," Farner represented and made it appear to the Bureau of Foreign Commerce that the purchaser of the goods described therein was a person or entity other than himself and that the commodities were being acquired independently by the represented company for ultimate sale to a Willi Farner Moser in Spain, when, in fact, the respondents actually were purchasing such commodities directly and without the intervention of the represented company and, to the extent that the name of the represented company appeared at any stage in the transaction, it appeared only as a device or screen to lessen the apparent connection of the respondents to this particular exportation. This objective was furthered as well by the use by Farner of the name Willi Farner Moser (as distinguished from Willi Farner) when describing the "ultimate consignee."

And from the foregoing, I have concluded that the respondents Willi Farner, Farner-Werke A.G., and Alexander Botez:

A. Knowingly made and caused to be made false statements, representations and certifications to, and concealed and caused to be concealed material facts from, the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, directly and indirectly, in connection with the preparation, submission, issuance and use of export control documents, in connection with effecting exportations from the United States and their re-exportation, transshipment and diversion, and in the course of an investigation instituted under the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, all in violation of Sections 381.2 and 381.5 of the Export Regulations.

B. Bought, received, sold, disposed of, and caused to be transported and forwarded exportations from the United States, knowing that with respect to such exportations violations of the Export Control Law, regulations and licenses, had occurred, were about to, and were intended to occur, in violation of §§ 381.2 and 381.4 of the Export Regulations.

C. Without authorization of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, knowingly disposed of, diverted, and caused to be transshipped and re-exported commodities to persons and destinations and for uses, contrary to the terms, provisions and conditions of export control documents, prior representations, notifications of prohibition against such actions, and the Export Control Law, regulations, and licenses issued thereunder, in violation of §§ 381.2 and 381.6 of the Export Regulations.

D. Used and caused to be used export control documents for the purpose of and in connection with facilitating and effecting exportations and re-exportations of U.S. commodities which were not in accord with the terms, provisions, and conditions of said documents, in violation of §§ 381.2 and 381.8 of the Export Regulations.

In his report the Compliance Commissioner considered at length objections on the part of the respondents to the use against them of classified material to which they were not allowed access and to the prosecution of this proceeding against them because, as claimed by them, it had been their intention from the beginning to smuggle most of the goods involved into Spain, and BFC officials, with knowledge of that intention, had issued validated export licenses authorizing the exportations of the goods to Spain. As to the first objection, they claimed that constitutional rights and principles of due process were being violated and, as to the second, they claimed that since BFC employees had been aware of their smuggling intention, BFC ought not to be permitted to prosecute them for not delivering the goods to Spain. The Compliance Commissioner made a careful review of the legal questions thus presented and overruled these objections.[1] In making his recommendation that the respondents be denied all export privileges so long as export controls are in effect, he said:

> • • • The conduct of the respondents in providing very strategic electronic materials to an organized gang operating over a long period of time in the business of procuring and transshipping strategic commodities for Communist Chinese purchasing agencies was most harmful to the export control program, the carrying on of our foreign policy, and our national security. In a case such as this there is no reason whatsoever to make any disposition other than a complete denial of export privileges for all of the respondents so long as export controls shall be in effect. This is my recommendation. • • •

Having concluded that the recommended action is fair, just, and necessary to achieve effective enforcement of the law, it is hereby ordered:

I. The temporary denial order dated August 11, 1958 (23 F.R. 6270, August 14, 1958; 23 F.R. 7145, September 16, 1958) hereby is made permanent. So long as export controls shall be in effect, the said respondents, their agents, servants, and employees, be, and they hereby are denied all privileges of participating, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, in any exportation of any commodity or technical data from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada, whether such exportation heretofore or hereafter has been completed. Without limitation of the generality of the foregoing denial of export privileges, participation in an exportation is deemed to include and prohibit participation, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) as a party or as a representative of a party to any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated license, or resorting to a procedure permitted by any General License, or the utilization of any export control document, (c) in the receiving, ordering, buying, selling, using, or disposing in any foreign country of any commodities in whole or in part exported or to be exported from the United States, and (d) in storing, financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of such exports from the United States.

II. Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the respondents, but also to any person, firm, corporation, or business organization with which they now or hereafter may be related by affiliation, ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade in which may be involved exports from the United States or services connected therewith.

III. Without prior disclosure to, and specific authorization from the Bureau of Foreign Commerce, no person, firm, corporation, partnership, or other business organization, whether in the United States or elsewhere, shall, on behalf of or in any association with any respondent, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity, (a) apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any such prohibited activity or (b) order, receive, buy, use, sell, dispose of, finance, transport, or forward any commodity heretofore or hereafter exported from the United States. Nor shall any person do any of the foregoing acts with respect to any such commodity or exportation in which any respondent may have any interest of any kind or nature.

NEW YORK UHF-TV TEST

Notice of Conference

JULY 21, 1960.

At the request of the Commission, Congress has authorized a $2,000,000 study to be made during fiscal years 1961 and 1962 to ascertain the technical and economic feasibility of utilizing UHF channels to provide satisfactory television coverage to the New York City TV market area. The information is designed to supplement that which was gathered by the Television Allocations Study Organization and to carry forward a recommendation of TASO.

The project will be under the direction of the Commission's Chief Engineer, and for this purpose a UHF–TV Project Unit is being established. The project work will be done principally on a contract basis and those who are prepared to perform various phases of the project under contract should inform the Chief Engineer, so that they may be considered.

So that the Commission can be assured that the study includes as many facets of the problem as are reasonable and that the work may benefit from the active participation of the TV industry, an advisory committee consisting of members from all interested parts of the industry is desired. Representatives of the National Association of Broadcasters, the Electronic Industries Association, the Association of Maximum Service Telecasters, the Institute of Radio Engineers, the Joint Technical Advisory Committee, the Joint Council on Educational Television, the Television Allocations Study Organization, the Association of Federal Communications Consulting Engineers, and others, are invited to participate.

For the purpose of the test, it is proposed to construct a high powered UHF–TV station on the Empire State Building, the site of the existing VHF–TV stations. Another station will be located within about 15 miles of the first on a separate channel to study any improvement which might be obtained with the simultaneous broadcasting of a single program by two stations on two different frequencies. Transmissions with horizontal polarization will be used generally, but for a part of the time, one station will use circular polarization so that comparative observations and measurements can be made. An investigation will be made into UHF improvements in TV receivers, and any practical improvements which are immediately available will be incorporated in receivers to be installed at various points within the service area of the stations. Measurements will be made throughout the service area inside buildings, on roof tops, at street level, and other locations where TV reception may be desired, and correlated with observations of picture quality on the above receivers.

In order to discuss the plans for the project and formulate the membership of an Industry Advisory Committee to aid on this study, interested persons are invited to attend a conference at 10:00 a.m. in Room 7134, New Post Office Building, Washington, D.C., on July 29, 1960.

Adopted: July 20, 1960.

CALOJAY ENTERPRISES, INC.

Order Designating Application for Hearing on Stated Issues

In re application of Calojay Enterprises, Inc., Indianapolis, Indiana, Docket No. 13685, File No. BPH–3013; req. 105.7 Mc, #289; 4.641 kw.; 160 ft., for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 20th day of July 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned and described application;

It appearing that except as indicated by the issues specified below, the instant applicant is legally, technically, and otherwise qualified, but may not be financially qualified to construct and operate the instant proposal; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the Commission, in a letter dated June 17, 1960, and incorporated herein by reference, notified the applicant and any other known parties in interest, of the grounds and reasons for the Commission's inability to make a finding that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity; and that a copy of the aforementioned letter is available for public inspection at the Commission's offices; and

It further appearing that the Commission's letter of June 17, 1960, advised the applicant that the proposal to operate 60 hours per week with eight department employees at an estimated cost of operation during the first year of $10,200 did not appear to be realistic and that a detailed showing in support of the estimate should be submitted; that the applicant's reply dated June 27, 1960, stated that the three parties to the applicant would work for a salary of $1.00 per year each until the station would show a net profit, that three other members of the staff would work on a part-time basis; but that substantial questions obtain as to whether the station can be operated as proposed, by three parties to the applicant (when apparently two of the parties will continue full-time employment elsewhere) and three part-time employees; whether, therefore, the applicant's estimated cost of operation, $10,200 per year, is realistic and, if not, whether the applicant has sufficient funds to construct and operate the proposed station; and

It further appearing that after consideration of the foregoing and the applicant's reply, the Commission is still unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity; and is of the opinion that the application must be designated for hearing on the issues specified below:

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the instant application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the applicant's staffing plans and estimated annual cost of operation for the proposed station are realistic, and, if not, whether the applicant is financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

2. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced, pursuant to the foregoing issue, whether the instant application should be granted.

It is further ordered, That to avail itself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant, pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

Released: July 25, 1960.

It further appearing that the Commission's letter of June 8, 1960, advised the applicant that it could not be determined that sufficient funds were available for construction and operation of the station; that the applicant's reply dated June 24, 1960, fails to clear up the questions concerning the availability of funds and operating plans for the proposed station, the applicant's balance sheet fails to show cash or liquid assets available over and above those needed to meet current expenditures and commitments, the loan commitment for $10,000 fails to show the security to be posted for the loan, nor does the lender's balance sheet appear to show cash or liquid assets available in an amount to cover the loan; and

It further appearing that after consideration of the foregoing and the applicant's reply, the Commission is still unable to make the statutory finding that a grant of the application would serve the public interest, convenience, and necessity; and is of the opinion that the application must be designated for hearing on the issues specified below:

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the instant application is designated for hearing at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether the applicant is financially qualified to construct and operate the proposed station.

2. To determine in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issue, whether the instant application should be granted.

It is further ordered, That to avail himself of the opportunity to be heard, the applicant pursuant to § 1.140 of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall, within 20 days of the mailing of this order, file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

TOT INDUSTRIES, INC., ET AL.

Memorandum Opinion and Order Amending Issues

In re applications of Tot Industries, Inc., Medford, Oregon, Docket No. 13436, File No. BPCT-2641; Radio Medford, Inc., Medford, Oregon, Docket No. 13437, File No. BPCT-2655; Medford Telecasting Corporation, Medford, Oregon, Docket No. 13438, File No. BPCT-2697; for construction permits for new television broadcast stations (Channel 10).

1. The Commission has for consideration a petition to enlarge issues filed on April 8, 1960, by Medford Telecasting Corporation, together wtih pleadings filed in response thereto.

2. Medford Telecasting seeks to have the issues enlarged to include a determination of the location of the Grade A and B contours of the applicants; a comparison of the areas and populations within such contours which might be expected to receive service; and, in the event it be established that any applicant would serve areas and populations not served by its competitors, a determination of the number of services presently available to such areas and populations.

3. Actual service to areas and populations is a factor of comparative significance if it can be demonstrated by acceptable engineering evidence. While evidence as to the location of Grade A and B contours projected in the manner prescribed by the rules is no more than a measure of service potential entitled to little weight in the absence of supplementary confirming evidence,[1] and subject to being overridden by evidence showing such projected contours to be inaccurate in a given case,[2] a party offering such evidence to prove predicated service is entitled to have it accepted for what it is worth.[3] Therefore, we will grant Medford Telecasting's request to enlarge the issues to permit a showing of the location of the parties Grade A and Grade B contours. In connection with such showing we note that, pursuant to § 3.684(f) of the rules, with respect to each of the applicants the terrain along at least one radial precludes the utilization of the prediction method and a supplemental showing must be made. While the Commission recognizes the difficulties of determining prospective coverage along such radials and, for the purpose of processing the applications was able to accept showings of the type made by the applicants, the establishment of contours along such radials for comparative purposes, as a minimum, will necessitate the submission by each applicant of a complete showing pursuant to all the provisions of § 3.684(f) of the rules. Such showings should be accompanied by engineering analyses setting forth the techniques utilized in predicting the contours, and, in instances where the conventional method prescribed by the rules is, pursuant to such rules, inappropriate, demonstrate the practical reliability of the technique used.

4. Assuming the parties are able to predict their full A and B contours with sufficient accuracy, they will be afforded an opportunity to lend greater significance to such showing by demonstrating the areas within such contours which may be expected to receive actual service, and, after establishing the actual population distribution in such areas, by relating the predicted coverage within the predicted contours to such distribution, as well as showing the number of television facilities presently providing service to such areas and populations.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the petition to enlarge issues filed by Medford Telecasting Corporation on April 8, 1960, is granted in substance; that the existing Issue No. 4 is renumbered Issue No. 7; and the issues in this proceeding are enlarged as follows:

(4) To determine the location of the proposed Grade A and B contours of the applicants in this proceeding.

(5) To determine, on a comparative basis, the areas and populations within the respective Grade A and B contours which may reasonably be expected to receive actual service from the applicants' proposed stations.

(6) In the event the proof under Issues (4) and (5) above shall show that any or all of the applicants will bring actual service to areas and populations not served by either or both of its competitors, to determine the number of television services, if any, presently available to such areas and populations.

Adopted: July 20, 1960.

VALLEY TELECASTING CO. AND CENTRAL WISCONSIN TELEVISION, INC.

Order Designating Applications for Consolidated Hearing on Stated Issues

In re applications of Valley Telecasting Company, Wausau, Wisconsin, Docket No. 13687, File No. BPCT-2709; Central Wisconsin Television, Inc., Wausau, Wisconsin, Docket No. 13688, File No. BPCT-2738; for construction permits for new television broadcast stations.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D.C., on the 20th day of July 1960;

The Commission having under consideration the above-captioned applications, each requesting a construction permit for a new television broadcast station to operate on Channel 9, assigned to Wausau, Wisconsin; and

It appearing that the applications of Valley Telecasting Company and Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. are mutually exclusive in that operation by both applicants as proposed would result in mutually destructive interference; and

It further appearing that pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, Valley Telecasting Company and Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. were advised by letters that their applications were mutually exclusive, of the necessity for a hearing and of all objections to their applications, and were given an opportunity to reply; and

It further appearing that in the prehearing letter to Central Wisconsin Television, Inc., the Commission raised a question with respect to a possible violation of the spirit of § 3.636(a)(1) of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the reply to the Commission to the section 309(b) letter, the Commission is of the view that the above question raised with respect to the proposal of Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. should be explored within the framework of comparative issue "6(a)" as specified herein, rather than as an issue with respect to § 3.636(a)(1) of the Commission's rules; and

It further appearing that Valley Telecasting is the permittee of WIRM (TV), Channel 8 in Iron Mountain, Michigan, and that in the event its application were to be granted, the Grade B field intensity contour of the proposed station would overlap the Grade B field intensity contour of WIRM (TV) by approximately 8 miles; and that applicant is licensee of WFRV (TV), Channel 5 in Green Bay, Wisconsin, and that in the event the subject application were to be granted, the Grade B field intensity contour of the proposed station would overlap the Grade A field intensity contour of WFRV (TV) by approximately 17 miles and the Grade A field intensity contour of the proposed station would overlap the Grade B field intensity contour of WFRV (TV) by approximately 32 miles; and

It further appearing that Valley Telecasting Company has requested a waiver of § 3.613(a) of the Commission's rules to locate the main studio outside Wausau, and has shown good cause for the requested waiver; and

It further appearing that Valley Telecasting Company amended its application in response to the above-mentioned 309(b) letter to show proposed financing for the construction and initial operation of the proposed station in the total amount of approximately $163,000 by submitting a loan agreement showing the availability of $200,000, and, therefore, Valley Telecasting Company is now financially qualified; and

It further appearing that upon due consideration of the above-captioned applications, the amendments thereto, and the replies to the above letters, the Commission finds that pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, a hearing is necessary; that Valley Telecasting Company is legally and financially qualified to construct, own and operate the proposed television broadcast station, and is technically qualified except as to issue "3" below; that Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. is legally qualified to construct, own and operate the proposed television broadcast station, and is technically so qualified except as to issue "5" below.

It is ordered, That pursuant to section 309(b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-captioned applications of Valley Telecasting Company and Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding at a time and place to be specified in a subsequent order, upon the following issues:

1. To determine whether a grant of the application of Valley Telecasting Company would be consistent with the provisions of § 3.636(a)(1) of the Commission's rules, in view of the overlap of the area to be served by the proposed station with the area served by WFRV (TV) in Green Bay, Wisconsin, and WIRM (TV) in Iron Mountain, Michigan.

2. To determine whether a grant of the application of Valley Telecasting Company would result in an undue concentration of control of broadcast stations and hence be contrary to the provisions of § 3.636(a)(2) of the Commission's rules, and inconsistent with the public interest, convenience and necessity, in view of the applicant's operation of two television broadcast stations in Green Bay, Wisconsin (WFRV (TV)), and in Iron Mountain, Michigan (WIRM (TV)).

3. To determine whether the proposed antenna system and site of Valley Telecasting Company would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

4. To determine whether Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. is financially qualified to construct, own and operate the proposed television broadcast station.

5. To determine whether the proposed antenna system and site of Central Wisconsin Television, Inc. would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

6. To determine on a comparative basis which of the operations proposed in the above-captioned applications would better serve the public interest, convenience and necessity in light of the significant differences between the applicants as to:

(a) The background and experience of each bearing on its ability to own and operate the proposed television broadcast station.

(b) The proposals of each with respect to the management and operation of the proposed television broadcast stations.

(c) The programming service proposed in each of the above-captioned applications.

7. To determine, in the light of the evidence adduced pursuant to the foregoing issues, which of the applications, if either, should be granted.

It is further ordered, That the issues in the above-entitled proceeding may be enlarged by the Examiner on his own motion or on petition properly filed by a party to the proceeding and upon a sufficient allegation of facts in support thereof, by the addition of the following issue: To determine whether the funds available to the applicants will give reasonable assurance that the proposals set forth in the applications will be effectuated.

It is further ordered, That to avail themselves of the opportunity to be heard Valley Telecasting Company and Central Wisconsin Television, Inc., pursuant to § 1.140(c) of the Commission's rules, in person or by attorney, shall within twenty (20) days of the mailing of this order file with the Commission, in triplicate, a written appearance stating an intention to appear on the date fixed for the hearing and present evidence on the issues specified in this order.

The above-named respondents have tendered for filing proposed changes in presently effective rate schedules for sales of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission. The proposed changes are designated as follows:

[1] The stated effective dates are the first day after expiration of the required statutory notice or the requested effective date, whichever is later.

[2] The rate of Pan American Petroleum Corp. (Operator), et al., is at a pressure base of 14.65 psia. The other rates are at a pressure base of 14.65 psia.

[3] Or until one day after the rate suspended in Docket No. RI60-449 is made effective, whichever is later.

[4] The first possible effective date of Rand Morgan's proposed revenue-sharing increased rate is December 9, 1960, the first day on which the purchaser's resale rate (suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-449) may become effective.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, Skelly Oil Company (Skelly) states that its contract was negotiated at arm's length and cites the increased resale rate of its purchaser, which is in effect subject to refund in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-30. Skelly supports that resale rate by noting the purchaser's elimination of favored-nation provisions from the resale contract and by stating that the periodic price provisions in the resale contract are common in long-term contracts and are beneficial to buyer and seller.

In support of its proposed revenue-sharing increased rate, Rand Morgan (Morgan) cites the revenue-sharing provisions in its contract and the increased resale rate of its purchaser, which is suspended in the proceeding in Docket No. RI60-449 until December 9, 1960, and until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act. Morgan also states that the proposed rate is necessary to provide a fair return and is below other prices in the area.

In support of its proposed favored-nation increased rate, Pan American Petroleum Corporation (Operator), et al. (Pan American) cites the pricing provisions in its contract, which it states was negotiated at arm's length, and also cites a triggering rate increase. Pan American states that denial of the rate would be unfair and confiscatory. In support of its proposed periodic increased rate, Pan American Petroleum Corporation (Pan American) cites the pricing provisions of its contract, which it states was negotiated at arm's length, cites increases reflected in Bureau of Labor Statistics reports, and cites prices in recent contracts in the area. Pan American also states that the increased rate is insufficient to offset increases in costs of drilling wells or offset the effects of inflation.

In support of their proposed favored-nation increased rate, K. D. Owen, et al. (Owen) cite the pricing provisions of their contract and cite a triggering rate increase. Owen also states that the contract was negotiated at arm's length and the pricing provisions were a major consideration for the long-term of the contract.

In support of their proposed redetermined increased rate, I. J. Huval, et al. submit a price redetermination agreement and state that this is their first proposed rate increases.

The changes in rates and charges so proposed may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, or otherwise unlawful.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause exists for waiving the 90-days-maximum notice limit of § 154.94 (b) of the Commission's regulations under the Natural Gas Act and for permitting the filing of Supplement No. 5 to Morgan's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon hearings concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes and that the above-designated supplements be suspended and the use thereof deferred as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) The 90-days-maximum notice limit of § 154.94(b) of the Commission's regulations under the Act is waived and the filing of Supplement No. 5 to Morgan's FPC Gas Rate Schedule No. 1 is permitted.

(B) Pursuant to the authority of the Natural Gas Act, particularly sections 4 and 15 thereof, the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and the regulations under the Natural Gas Act (18 CFR Ch. I), public hearings shall be held upon dates to be fixed by notices from the Secretary concerning the lawfulness of the several proposed changes in rates and charges contained in the above-designated supplements.

(C) Pending hearings and decisions thereon, each of the above-designated supplements is hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until the date indicated in the above "Rate Suspended Until" column, plus footnotes thereto, and thereafter until such further time as it is made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(D) Neither the supplements hereby suspended nor the rate schedules sought to be altered thereby shall be changed until these proceedings have been disposed of or until the periods of suspension have expired, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

(E) Notices of intervention or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37(f) on or before September 8, 1960.

[Order No. 222]

CHANGES IN RATES REFLECTING CONTINUANCE OF LOUISIANA GAS SEVERANCE TAX

Order Providing for the Acceptance of Changes in Rates Reflecting the Continuance of the Louisiana Gas Severance Tax [1]

JULY 22, 1960.

In accordance with the effect of recently enacted Louisiana Legislation,[2] which continues the current Louisiana gas-severance tax in effect until June 30, 1964, the Commission deems it expedient and in the public interest to facilitate the filing of changes in rate schedules which reflect the continuation of such tax for independent producers' jurisdictional sales of natural gas to United Gas Pipe Line Company (United) and do not otherwise change the presently effective rate.

A number of the independent producer Louisiana suppliers of United have letter agreements with United, regarding the Louisiana gas-severance tax reimbursements, which expire on July 31, 1960. To encourage early filings and to provide for an effective date of August 1, 1960, for such changes, the Commission considers it appropriate and in the public interest to waive the 30-day notice requirements under § 154.98 of the Commission's regulations and to allow such an effective date for those changes received by the Commission prior to September 1, 1960.

Any such change accepted for filing shall be subject to all orders issued in suspension proceedings, including those listed below without excluding any other applicable suspension proceedings, involving the particular rate schedule and supplements thereto; and the acceptance for filing shall not change, modify, or amend such proceedings in any manner. Each of the independent producers submitting filings will be notified, by a letter from the Secretary, of the Commission's acceptance of such changes as hereinafter provided.

The Commission finds:

(1) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission should: (a) Provide for the form of filing of the aforementioned changes and waive the 30-day notice requirements; (b) allow such changes to take effect as of August 1, 1960, provided such changes are received by the Commission prior to September 1, 1960; (c) notify of the acceptance of the filing by notice from the Secretary; and (d) provide that the acceptance of such filings shall be subject to all orders issued in suspension proceedings involving the particular rate schedule and supplements thereto and shall not change, modify, or amend such proceeding in any manner.

(2) As such changes in rate schedule will not otherwise affect the current rate level, it will only be necessary for independent producers to submit a single page statement attached to the executed letter agreement with United Gas Pipe Line Company setting forth the following data in lieu of the requirements of § 154.94(e) of the Commission's regulations: (a) Name of independent producer seller and rate schedule designation; (b) the present total effective price in cents per Mcf at the measured pressure base (psia) with the base rate and the provisions for tax reimbursement, gathering charge, dehydration charge and other components thereof shown separately together with a statement that such rate will continue without change under the attached agreement. In addition to this information, any deductions from the total rate should also be noted.

The Commission orders: Changes in rate schedules that reflect the continuation of the Louisiana gas-severance tax and do not otherwise change the presently effective rate may be filed in accordance with the findings of this order.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

GRADES

§ 51.880 U.S. Fancy Table Grapes.

"U.S. Fancy Table Grapes" consists of bunches of well developed grapes of one variety (except when designated as assorted varieties) which are well matured, fairly uniform in appearance and well colored. The berries shall be firm, firmly attached to capstems, and shall not be weak, shriveled at capstems, shattered, split, crushed or wet, and shall be free from decay, waterberry, sunburn and Almeria Spot, and shall be free from damage caused by scarring, discoloration, heat, mildew, other diseases, freezing, insects or mechanical or other means.

(a) Bunches. The bunches shall be fairly well filled but not excessively tight. They shall also be free from injury caused by shot berries, dried berries or other defective berries or by the trimming away of defective berries, and each bunch shall weigh not less than one-half pound.

(b) Stems. The stems shall be well developed and strong, shall not be dry and brittle and shall be free from mold and free from damage caused by mildew or freezing. The Almeria variety shall have stems which are mature. The Emperor variety shall have stems which are mature and distinctly yellowish-green or yellow at time of packing.

(c) Size of berries. Not less than 90 percent, by count, of the berries, exclusive of shot berries and dried berries, on each bunch shall have a minimum diameter as indicated for varieties as follows:

Ribier and Cardinal	12/16 of an inch.
Almeria	9/16 of an inch.
Thompson Seedless and Black Monukka	7/16 of an inch.
Other varieties	19/16 of an inch.

(d) Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances, by weight, shall be permitted:

5 percent for bunches which fail to meet the requirement for minimum diameter of berries;

5 percent for bunches which weigh less than one-half pound;

10 percent for bunches which fail to meet the color requirements;

5 percent for bunches of the Almeria and Emperor varieties which fail to meet the requirements for maturity of stems and color of stems; and,

5 percent for bunches and berries which fail to meet the remaining requirements of this grade, other than for maturity and uniformity of appearance, including not more than 3 percent for shattered berries and including not more than 2 percent for berries which are seriously damaged: Provided, That not more than one-fourth of the latter amount, or one-half of 1 percent, may be permitted for berries affected by decay.

(1) There is no tolerance specified in this grade for grapes which fail to meet the maturity requirements. However, no lot shall be considered as failing to meet these requirements because the sample of grapes from one container tests below the required percentage of soluble solids.

§ 51.881 U.S. Extra No. 1 Table Grapes.

"U.S. Extra No. 1 Table Grapes" consists of bunches of well developed grapes of one variety (except when designated as assorted varieties) which are mature, fairly uniform in appearance and fairly well colored, except that grapes of the red varieties shall be reasonably well colored. The berries shall be firm, firmly attached to capstems, and shall not be weak, shriveled at capstems, shattered, split, crushed or wet, and shall be free from decay, waterberry, sunburn and Almeria Spot, and free from damage caused by scarring, discoloration, heat, mildew, other diseases, freezing, insects or mechanical or other means.

(a) Bunches. The bunches shall be fairly well filled but not excessively tight. They shall also be free from damage caused by shot berries, dried berries or other defective berries or by the trimming away of defective berries and each bunch shall weigh not less than one-fourth pound.

(b) Stems. The stems shall be well developed and strong, shall not be dry and brittle and shall be free from mold and free from damage caused by mildew or freezing. The Almeria variety shall have not less than 50 percent of the bunches with stems which are mature. The Emperor variety shall have not less than 50 percent of the bunches with stems which are mature and distinctly yellowish-green or yellow at time of packing.

(c) Size of berries. Not less than 90 percent, by count, of the berries, exclusive of shot berries and dried berries, on each bunch shall have a minimum diameter as indicated for varieties as follows:

Ribier and Cardinal	12/16 of an inch.
Almeria	9/16 of an inch.
Thompson Seedless and Black Monukka	7/16 of an inch.
Other varieties	19/16 of an inch.

(d) Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances, by weight, shall be permitted:

5 percent for bunches which fail to meet the requirement for minimum diameter of berries;

10 percent for bunches which fail to meet the color requirements;

For the Almeria and Emperor varieties, individual containers may have not more than a total of 10 percent less than the required percentage of bunches which meet the requirements for maturity of stems and color of stems: Provided, That the entire lot averages within the required percentage; and;

8 percent for bunches which weigh less than one-fourth pound, and bunches and berries which fail to meet the remaining requirements of this grade, other than for maturity and uniformity of appearance, including not more than 5 percent for shattered berries and including not more than 2 percent for berries which are seriously damaged: Provided, That not more than one-fourth of the latter amount, or one-half of 1 percent, may be permitted for berries affected by decay.

(1) There is no tolerance specified in this grade for grapes which fail to meet the maturity requirements. However, no lot shall be considered as failing to meet these requirements because the sample of grapes from one container tests below the required percentage of soluble solids.

§ 51.882 U.S. No. 1 Table Grapes.

"U.S. No. 1 Table Grapes" consists of bunches of well developed grapes of one variety (except when designated as assorted varieties) which are mature, and fairly well colored. The berries shall be firm, firmly attached to capstems and shall not be weak, materially shriveled at capstems, shattered, split, crushed or wet, and shall be free from decay, waterberry and sunburn, and free from damage caused by scarring, discoloration, heat, Almeria Spot, mildew, other diseases, freezing, insects or mechanical or other means.

(a) Bunches. The bunches shall not be straggly. They shall be free from damage caused by shot berries, dried berries or other defective berries or by the trimming away of defective berries and each bunch shall weigh not less than one-fourth pound.

(b) Stems. The stems shall not be weak or dry and brittle and shall be free from mold and free from damage caused by mildew or freezing.

(c) Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling, the following tolerances, by weight, shall be permitted:

10 percent for bunches which fail to meet the color requirements; and,

10 percent for bunches which weigh less than one-fourth pound and bunches and berries which fail to meet the remaining requirements of this grade, other than for maturity, including not more than 5 percent for shattered berries and including not more than 2 percent for berries which are seriously damaged: Provided, That not more than one-fourth of the latter amount, or one-half of 1 percent, may be permitted for berries affected by decay.

(1) There is no tolerance specified in this grade for grapes which fail to meet the maturity requirements. However, no lot shall be considered as failing to meet these requirements because the sample of grapes from one container tests below the required percentage of soluble solids.

UNCLASSIFIED

§ 51.883 Unclassified.

"Unclassified" consists of grapes which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards, but is provided as a designation to show that no grade has been applied to the lot.

APPLICATION OF TOLERANCES

§ 51.884 Application of tolerances.

The contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade.

(a) For a tolerance of 10 percent or more, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified.

(b) For a tolerance of less than 10 percent, individual packages in any lot may contain not more than double the tolerance specified, except that for shattered berries and wet berries not more than one-tenth of the packages may contain more than double the tolerance specified.

DEFINITIONS

§ 51.885 Well developed grapes.

"Well developed grapes" means grapes which are not abnormally small for the variety.

§ 51.886 One variety.

"One variety" means that the grapes show similar varietal characteristics. However, grapes in special packs of two or more varieties, when designated as "assorted varieties", need not meet this requirement.

§ 51.887 Well matured.

"Well matured" means that the juice from 10 percent, by weight, of whole bunches of grapes in the container, which appear to be least mature, shall test not less than 17 percent soluble solids, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer, except that the Tokay variety shall test not less than 18 percent, the Thompson Seedless variety shall test not less than 19 percent and the Malaga and Muscat varieties shall test not less than 20 percent.

§ 51.888 Fairly uniform in appearance.

"Fairly uniform in appearance" means that not more than one-tenth of the containers in any lot may show sufficient variation in color or size of berries to materially detract from the appearance of the contents of the individual container.

§ 51.889 Well colored.

"Well colored" means:

(a) For black varieties. Each bunch shall have not less than 95 percent, by count, of berries showing characteristic color. Purple to black shall be considered characteristic color for the varieties Malvoise, Rose of Peru, Black Prince and Black Hamburg; reddish-purple to black shall be considered characteristic color for Cornichon and Black Monukka, Ribier grape berries shall be considered as showing characteristic color when at least 60 percent of the surface is purple to black color, not reddish-purple; and,

(b) For red varieties. Each bunch shall have not less than 75 percent, by count, of berries which show at least 60 percent of the surface with good characteristic color: Provided, That the appearance of the bunch shall not be appreciably injured by very dark berries. Light or cherry red and dark red, but not light pink or very dark or purplish-red, are considered good characteristic color for the red varieties, excepting that any color ranging from light red through purple shall be considered good characteristic color for the Cardinal variety.

(c) There are no color requirements for the white varieties.

§ 51.890 Firm.

"Firm" means that the berry is reasonably turgid and does not yield more than slightly to moderate pressure.

§ 51.891 Weak.

"Weak" means that the berry is relatively low in sugar content, has inferior flavor and usually is watery, translucent and somewhat soft to the touch.

§ 51.892 Shriveled at capstem.

"Shriveled at capstem" means that the berry shows more than slight wrinkling of the skin surrounding the capstem.

§ 51.893 Shattered.

"Shattered" means that the berry is separated from the bunch and may or may not have the capstem attached.

§ 51.894 Wet.

"Wet" means that the grapes are wet from moisture from crushed, leaking or decayed berries or from rain. Grapes which are moist from dew or other moisture condensation such as that resulting from removing grapes from a refrigerator car or cold storage to a warmer location shall not be considered as wet.

§ 51.895 Decay.

"Decay" means any soft breakdown of the flesh or skin of the berry resulting from bacterial or fungus infection. Slight surface development of green mold (Cladosporium) shall not be considered decay.

§ 51.896 Waterberry.

"Waterberry" means a watery, soft or flabby condition of the berry. Affected berries are low in sugar content, have tender skins and are easily crushed. This is an advanced or more pronounced stage of the condition referred to as "weak".

§ 51.897 Sunburn.

"Sunburn" means injury to the berry caused by direct exposure to the sun, including "sulphur burn", occurring as a sunken and usually discolored and dried area on the exposed surface.

§ 51.898 Damage.

"Damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the individual berry, the appearance of the bunch as a whole, or the shipping quality of the stems. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage to the individual berry:

(a) Scarring such as that caused by thrip, mildew, rubs and similar injuries when materially affecting the appearance of the berry;

(b) Discoloration when any light brown, tan or darker discoloration of the skin materially affects the appearance of the berry: Provided, That "sunkissed" berries of the white Malaga variety which show discoloration of amber or light brown color shall not be considered as damaged. "Buckskin" berries of the Tokay variety, and similar injury to other varieties, shall be considered as damaged by discoloration;

(c) Heat, when the flesh of the berry is affected;

(d) Almeria Spot when any spot is distinctly sunken or dark in color;

(e) Mildew when active powdery mildew is present;

(f) Freezing when the berry is frozen or when the flesh of the berry is affected by freezing;

(g) Insects when any insect is present or there is visible evidence of insect injury; when mealybug residue or aphis honeydew are present; or when the appearance is materially affected by the presence of leafhopper residue;

The following shall be considered as damage to stems:

(h) Mildew when active powdery mildew is present on the stems or when scars caused by this disease constrict or weaken any part of the main or lateral stems; and,

(i) Freezing when the stems are frozen or the capstems are swollen or dried, or when the main or lateral stems are water-soaked and limp, or dried, as a result of freezing.

§ 51.899 Fairly well filled.

"Fairly well filled" means that the berries are reasonably closely spaced on main and lateral stems and that the bunch is not very loose or stringy.

§ 51.900 Excessively tight.

"Excessively tight" means that the berries are so closely wedged together that when the stem is fresh, the bunch is solid and the appearance is materially affected by berries on the lower portions being distinctly distorted from normal shape.

§ 51.901 Injury to the bunch.

"Injury to the bunch" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance of the bunch.

§ 51.902 Shot berries.

"Shot berries" means very small berries resulting from insufficient pollination, usually seedless in those varieties which normally develop seeds. These berries may be entirely green and hard and are designated as "immature shot berries". They may mature and color uniformly with the normal berries on the bunch and are then designated as "mature shot berries".

§ 51.903 Dried berries.

"Dried berries" means berries which are dry and shriveled to the extent that practically no moisture is present.

§ 51.904 Well developed and strong.

"Well developed and strong" means that the main and lateral stems are firm, fibrous and pliable; not distinctly immature or spindly or threadlike at time of packing.

§ 51.905 Diameter.

"Diameter" means the greatest dimension of the berry taken at right angles to a line running from the stem to the blossom end.

§ 51.906 Serious damage.

"Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the grapes and includes berries which are split, crushed, wet, affected by decay or waterberry, or damaged by heat or freezing, except that raisining grapes that are cracked or split, and grapes which show healed cracks at the blossom end shall not be considered as seriously damaged.

§ 51.907 Mature.

"Mature" means that the juice from 10 percent, by weight, of whole bunches of grapes in the container, which appear to be least mature, shall test not less than 17 percent soluble solids, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer, except that the varieties Emperor, Gros Colman, Pierce Isabella, Olivette Blanche, Rish Baba, Red Malaga, Cardinal, Ribier, Khalili, Dizmar and varieties similar to or synonymous with the above, shall test not less than 16 percent, and except that Muscat varieties shall test not less than 18 percent.

§ 51.908 Fairly well colored.

"Fairly well colored" means:

(a) For black varieties. Each bunch shall have not less than 85 percent, by count, of berries showing characteristic color, except that in the varieties Ribier, Rose of Peru, Black Prince, Black Hamburg and Black Monukka each bunch shall have not less than 75 percent by count, of berries showing characteristic color. Purple to black shall be considered characteristic color for the varieties Malvoise, Rose of Peru, Black Prince and Black Hamburg; reddish-purple to black shall be considered characteristic color for Cornichon and Black Monukka. Ribier grape berries shall be considered as showing characteristic color when at least 60 percent of the surface is purple to black color, not reddish-purple; and,

(b) For red varieties. Each bunch shall have not less than 60 percent, by count, of berries which show at least 60 percent of the surface with characteristic color. Light pink, red, dark red or purple are considered characteristic color for the red varieties. (There are no color requirements for the Pink Thompson Seedless variety, Sultanina Rose.)

(c) There are no color requirements for the white varieties.

§ 51.909 Reasonably well colored.

"Reasonably well colored" applies to the red varieties and means that each bunch shall have not less than 60 percent, by count, of berries which show at least 60 percent of the surface light pink, red or dark red, but not very dark or purplish-red: Provided, That the appearance of the bunch shall not be appreciably injured by very dark berries, except that any color ranging from light pink through purple shall be permitted for the Cardinal variety.

§ 51.910 Materially shriveled at capstem.

"Materially shriveled at capstem" means that the skin of the berry is definitely wrinkled adjacent to the capstem and the surface is materially sunken.

§ 51.911 Straggly.

"Straggly" means that the berries are so widely spaced on main and lateral stems that the bunch is distinctly open or very stemmy or stringy in structure.

It is hereby found that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date of these standards beyond August 15, 1960 (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that: (1) the 1960 packing season for the Tokay variety of table grapes will start during the latter part of August and it is in the interest of the public and the industry that the standards be placed in effect before the start of the season; and (2) no special preparation is required for compliance with the standards on the part of the members of the table grape industry or of others.

The United States Standards for Grades of Table Grapes (European or Vinifera Type) contained in this subpart shall become effective August 15, 1960, and will thereupon supersede the United States Standards for Table Grapes (European or Vinifera Type) which have been in effect since July 8, 1952 (§§ 51.880 to 51.911).

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Service (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Area No. 3]

PART 958—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN COLORADO

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (a) Marketing Order No. 58, as amended (7 CFR Part 958), effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), provides methods for limiting the handling of potatoes grown in the areas defined therein through the issuance of regulations authorized in §§ 958.1 to 958.92. Area No. 3 Committee, pursuant to § 958.21, has recommended regulations limiting the handling of 1960 crop potatoes. Committee recommendations, with information submitted therewith and other available information, have been considered and it is hereby found that the regulations hereinafter set forth will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(b) It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that (1) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, (2) more orderly marketing in the public interest, than would otherwise prevail, will be promoted by regulating the shipment of potatoes, in the manner set forth below, on and after the effective date of this section, (3) compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date, (4) reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for such preparation, and (5) information regarding the committee's recommendations has been made available to producers and handlers in the production area.

§ 968.329 Limitation of shipments.

During the period from August 1, 1960, through June 30, 1961, no person shall handle any lot of potatoes grown in Area No. 3 unless such potatoes meet the following requirements.

(a) Minimum grade and size requirements—(1) Round varieties. U.S. No. 2, or better, grade, 2 inches minimum diameter.

(2) Long varieties. U.S. No. 2, or better, grade, 2 inches minimum diametcr or 4 ounces minimum weight.

(b) Minimum maturity (skinning) requirements—(1) All varieties. Not more than "slightly skinned."

(2) Not to exceed a total of 100 hundredweight of such potatoes may be shipped for any producer without regard to the aforesaid maturity requirements if the handler thereof reports to the area committee for Area No. 3, prior to such handling, the name and address of the producer of such potatoes, and each shipment hereunder is handled as an identifiable entity.

(3) For the purpose of determining who shall be entitled to the exception set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, "producer" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, landlord-tenant relationship, community property ownership, or any other business unit engaged in the production of potatoes for market, and it is intended that such exception shall apply separately to each farm of a producer and only to the potatoes grown on such farm.

(c) Special purpose shipments. (1) The quality and maturity requirements set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) and the inspection and assessment requirements of this part shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for the following purposes:

(i) Livestock feed; and

(ii) Charity.

(2) The maturity requirements set forth in paragraph (b) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for the following purposes:

(i) Chipping; and

(ii) Prepeeling.

(3) The quality and maturity requirements set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable to shipments of potatoes for seed (§ 958.6) but such shipments shall be subject to assessments.

(d) Safeguards. (1) Each handler making shipments of potatoes for chipping, or prepeeling pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall:

(i) Prior to shipment, apply for and obtain a Certificate of Privilege from the committee,

(ii) Furnish the committee such reports and documents as requested, including certification by the buyer or receiver on the use of such potatoes, and

(iii) Bill each shipment directly to the applicable processor or receiver.

(2) Potatoes shipped for livestock feed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section shall be mutilated so as to render them unfit for commercial table stock markets.

(e) Definitions. The terms "U.S. No. 2", and "slightly skinned", shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Potatoes (§§ 51.1540 to 51.1556 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein. The term "prepeeling" means potatoes which are clean, sound, fresh tubers prepared commercially in a prepeeling plant by washing, removal of the outer skin or peel, trimming, and sorting preparatory to sale in one or more of the styles of peeled potatoes described in § 52.2422 (United States Standards for Grades of Peeled Potatoes §§ 52.2421–52.2433 of this title). Other terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in this part.

Dated: July 25, 1960, to become effective August 1, 1960.

Acting Director,

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter I—Federal Aviation Agency

[Reg. Docket No. 378; Special Civil Air Reg. 424e]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

Positive Air Traffic Control Areas; Positive Air Traffic Control Routes

Draft Release No. 60-9, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 7, 1960 (25 F.R. 4062) gave notice that the Federal Aviation Agency had under consideration the adoption of a Special Civil Air Regulation establishing a new and additional application of the positive air traffic control concept. It has been long recognized that there are certain areas wherein the problems of collision avoidance by high-speed flight operations require the application of air traffic control separation standards regardless of the meteorological conditions. While the positive control routes, established in Special Civil Air Regulation series 424, and the civil jet radar flight following and advisory programs were designed to reduce the possibility of mid-air collision, these programs were concerned primarily with the requirements of point-to-point flight. It is axiomatic that the next step in the evolution of positive control would be to the provision of such service within a specified "area," while still retaining the "route" concept of positive control and the civil jet advisory service until superseded by the "area" concept.

All comments received in response to Draft Release No. 60-9 have been reviewed and due consideration has been given to their content. While all of the comments endorsed the concept, some did so with certain reservations.

The Department of the Air Force has recommended that a plan for the evaluation of the positive control area concept be developed and that a simulation study and evaluation of the control procedures to be used and the traffic in the affected area be completed prior to the final rule making action. The Agency intends to evaluate and analyze the positive control program and to prepare a report, available to interested persons or agencies, after the implementing phase of the program is accomplished. Knowledge and statistics gathered will provide the Agency with information upon which future expansion of the positive control program and modification of associated control procedures will be based. A simulation study of the procedural and traffic factors contingent with this program has been completed. While a formal report is not yet available, the preliminary evaluation substantiates the ideology of the positive control area concept. Further knowledge must be obtained from a practical application.

The Air Force has also recommended that the positive control routes underlying positive control areas not be expanded vertically to include the airspace between 22,000 and 24,000 feet, m.s.l. This recommendation cannot be accepted. To leave a narrow strata of nonpositive controlled airspace between the positive control route segments and the positive control area would compress non-participating flight activities into the airspace between the two positive control systems. This funneling of traffic into a constricted band of airspace in conjunction with aircraft transiting from one positive control environment to the other, would create a hazardous situation. For this reason it has been concluded that the airspace between 22,000 and 24,000 feet, m.s.l., should be designated as a positive control route segment.

The Air Force has contended that certain military flight operations cannot be satisfactorily conducted within positive control airspace and has enumerated such activities in its comments. The Agency had previously informed the Air Force of its program to integrate these operations into the system in accordance with a three-phase plan. Complete integration was scheduled to be accomplished within an estimated six-month period. The Air Force has stated that a delay in accepting these operations in the system could compromise its operations to the extent that the over-all combat readiness of certain commands and units could not be maintained. The Agency has therefor revised the phasing schedule to shorter periods of time and is, in fact, prepared to accept at the inception of the program, several operations which had been scheduled for later phases. The problems are primarily procedural in nature and resolution lies in increased system capacity. The Agency is confident that most of these problems will be resolved prior to or shortly after the initiation of this positive control program.

One foreign air carrier company expressed concern regarding the requirement for a radar beacon transponder, not wishing to install such equipment in the absence of internationally accepted transponder specifications. Due to the limitations of primary radar, particularly, in regard to resolution of target information from certain aircraft types, the use of radar beacon transponders is essential to the success of positive control on an area basis.

Certain language in the proposed rule has been modified to promote clarity. Paragraph 1(d) now states that the Director, Bureau of Air Traffic Management, or his designated air traffic control representative, has the responsibility for the issuance of special authorizations permitting deviations from the requirements of paragraph 1 (b) and (c). As this change is clarifying in nature, makes no substantive change and imposes no additional burden on any person, further rule making procedures thereon are unnecessary.

Draft Release No. 60-9, discussed in considerable detail the airspace within which the proposed implementation of the positive control service would be accomplished. This elaboration was necessary in order to convey to the public a comprehensive understanding of the Agency's intent. Since formal airspace notices of proposed rule making relative to this airspace have been or will be presented for comment, further discussion with respect to the exact dimensions of airspace is not considered pertinent to this document.

In cooperation with all airspace users, the Federal Aviation Agency is making every effort to develop a program for positive control which will best serve the interest of the public. It is believed that with the adoption of this regulation a major advancement in safety will be achieved. It is extremely important that all interested persons exert a concerted effort to promote the success of this endeavor. Through a continuing evaluation and modification of procedures or operations and in close coordination with all users, an orderly and practical expansion of this concept will be accomplished.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following Special Civil Air Regulation is hereby adopted to become effective on August 30, 1960.

(1) The special air traffic rules prescribed in this section shall be applicable, except as otherwise provided in paragraph (d), to any operation of an aircraft in that portion of airspace in the continental control area which has been designated by the Administrator as a "positive control area" in Part 601 of the Administrator's Regulations (14 CFR Part 601):

(a) No person shall operate an aircraft within a positive control area without prior approval of air traffic control.

(b) All VFR flight activities, including VFR on top, irrespective of weather conditions, are prohibited from operating in this designated airspace.

(c) All aircraft operated within positive control areas shall:

(1) Have instruments and equipment required for IFR operations and pilots of such aircraft shall be rated for instrument flight.

(2) Be equipped with a functioning radar beacon transponder which shall be operated to reply on such mode and/or code as may be specified by air traffic control for the area in which flight is conducted.

(3) Be equipped with radio equipment capable of providing direct pilot-controller communications on the frequencies specified by air traffic control for the positive control area in which flight is conducted.

(d) The Director of the Bureau of Air Traffic Management or his designated representative may authorize deviation from the requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section in accordance with the terms and conditions of such authorization.[1]

(2) The special air traffic rules prescribed in the following paragraphs of this section shall be applicable to any operation of an aircraft in that portion of a federal airway, designated by the Administrator as a "positive control route segment" in Part 601 of the Administrator's Regulations (14 CFR Part 601), between the altitudes of 17,000 and 22,000 feet (m.s.l.); or between the altitudes of 17,000 to 24,000 feet (m.s.l.) for the portion of a "positive control route segment" underlying a "positive control area" with a base of 24,000 feet (m.s.l.).

(a) No person shall operate an aircraft within such designated airspace without prior approval of air traffic control.

(b) All VFR flight activities, including VFR on top, irrespective of weather conditions, are prohibited from operating in this designated airspace.

(c) All aircraft operated within this designated airspace shall have the instruments and equipment currently required for IFR operations and all pilots shall be rated for instrument flight.

SR-424B is hereby rescinded on the effective date of this regulation.

(Secs. 313(a), 307 of the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, 72 Stat. 752, 749; 49 U.S.C. 1354, 1348)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 25, 1960.

E. R. QUESADA, Administrator.

[F.R. Doc. 60-7047; Filed, July 28, 1960; 8:45 a.m.]

[1] Requests for such authorization shall be presented, in writing, to the air route traffic control center exercising control over the positive control area within which the deviating flight will be conducted. Such request must reach the center at least 4 days in advance of the proposed operation. Approval will be conveyed in writing and may be granted on a continuing basis or by individual flight, whichever is more appropriate.

Chapter III—Federal Aviation Agency

SUBCHAPTER C—AIRCRAFT REGULATIONS

[Reg. Docket 405; Amdt. 182]

PART 507—AIRWORTHINESS DIRECTIVES

Hartzell Propellers

A proposal to amend Part 507 of the regulations of the Administrator to include an airworthiness directive requiring inspection and replacement of the guide collars on Hartzell propellers was published in 25 F.R. 4651.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the amendment. No objections were received.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (25 F.R. 6489), § 507.10(a), (14 CFR Part 507), is hereby amended by adding the following new airworthiness directive:

HARTZELL PROPELLERS. Applies to all Hartzell propellers HC-82XF-1D, HC-82XF-1DB, HC-82XG-1D, HC-82XG-6DL, HC-82XL-1D, and HC-92ZK-8L; and to HC-82XK-1D Serial Numbers 100G through 846G; and to HC-92ZK-8D Serial Numbers 100L through 491L. These propellers may be used on such aircraft as Piper PA-24, Cessna 180 and 182, Meyers 200, Mooney Mark 20, and Lake (Colonial) C-2.

Compliance required as indicated.

Because of failure or cracking of several cast guide collars, P/N 834-4, -8, -9, the following shall be accomplished:

(a) Within the next 25 hours of propeller operation and each 25 hours of operation thereafter, visually inspect for cracks, all guide collars not marked with a letter "P" or "F". This inspection can be accomplished by looking through the spinner blade cutouts without removing the spinner. Cracked collars must be replaced prior to further flight.

(b) At the next propeller overhaul or by January 1, 1961, whichever occurs first, replace all unmarked guide collars with marked guide collars. Cast collars which are marked with the letter "P" and forged collars which bear same part number as cast collars but are marked with letter "F" have been tested and need not be inspected or replaced.

(Hartzell Service Bulletin No. 71 covers this same subject.)

This amendment shall become effective 30 days after date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 313(a), 601, 603; 72 Stat. 752, 775, 776; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 25, 1960.

Acting Director, Bureau of Flight Standards.

Lockheed 1049 Aircraft

Amendment 110, 25 F.R. 1908, as amended by Amendment 139, 25 F.R. 3850, required in paragraph (b) that fire sleeves be installed over all flammable fluid-carrying flexible hose lines in zones 3 and 3A in the inboard engine nacelles on Lockheed 1049 aircraft. Because of the large number of airplanes affected, it has not been possible for the manufacturer to provide sufficient parts for all operators to comply with the amendment by the compliance date of August 1, 1960. Since only a few aircraft remain to be modified and since there have been no reported failures subsequent to adoption of Amendment 110, it is believed that safety of the aircraft will not be jeopardized by permitting operation of these aircraft until fire sleeves are installed but not later than September 30, 1960. Accordingly, Amendment 110 is being amended to extend the compliance date for paragraph (b) to September 30, 1960. Since this amendment constitutes a relaxation, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary and the amendment may be made effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (25 F.R. 6489), § 507.10(a) (14 CFR Part 507), is amended as follows:

Amendment 110, Lockheed 1049 C, D, E, G and H aircraft, as it appeared in 25 F.R. 1908 as amended in 25 F.R. 3850, is further amended by changing the final phrase of the compliance statement to read "and by September 30, 1960, for item (b)."

This amendment shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 313(a), 601, 603; 72 Stat. 752, 775, 776; 49 U.S.C. 1354(a), 1421, 1423)

Issued in Washington, D.C., on July 26, 1960.

B. PUTNAM,
Acting Director, Bureau of Flight Standards.

The Commissioner of Food and Drugs, having evaluated the data submitted in a petition filed by the Procter and Gamble Company, Post Office Box 201, Cincinnati 24, Ohio, and other relevant material, has concluded that the following food-additive regulation should issue in conformance with section 409 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, with respect to the food additive oxystearin, for use as a crystallization inhibitor in salad oils. Therefore, pursuant to the provisions of the act (sec. 409(c)(1), 72 Stat. 1786; 21 U.S.C. 348 (c)(1)), and under the authority delegated to the Commissioner by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare (23 F.R. 9500, 25 F.R. 5611), Subpart D (21 CFR Part 121) is amended by adding thereto the following new section:

§ 121.1016 Oxystearin as a crystallization inhibitor in salad oils.

The food additive oxystearin may be used as a crystallization inhibitor in cottonseed and soybean salad oils in accordance with the following prescribed conditions:

(a) The additive is a mixture of the glycerides of partially oxidized stearic and other fatty acids obtained by heating hydrogenated cottonseed or soybean oil under controlled conditions, in the presence of air and a suitable catalyst which is not a food additive as so defined. The resultant product meets the following specifications:

Iodine number	Maximum 16.
Saponification number	225–240.
Hydroxyl number	30–45.
Unsaponifiable material	Maximum 0.8 percent.
Refractive index (butyro)	60±1 at 48° C.

(b) It is used or intended for use in cottonseed and soybean salad oils whereby the additive does not exceed 0.125 percent of the combined weight of the oil plus the additive.

(c) To insure safe use of the additive the label and labeling of the food additive container shall bear, in addition to the other information required by the act:

(1) The name of the additive, oxystearin.

(2) Adequate use directions to provide a final salad oil that complies with the limitations prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time prior to the thirtieth day from the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER file with the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Room 5440, 330 Independence Avenue SW., Washington 25, D.C., written objections thereto. Objections shall show wherein the person filing will be adversely affected by the order, specify with particularity the provisions of the order deemed objectionable and the grounds for the objections. If a hearing is requested, the objections must state the issues for the hearing. A hearing will be granted if the objections are supported by grounds legally sufficient to justify the relief sought. Objections may be accompanied by a memorandum or brief in support thereof. All documents shall be filed in quintuplicate.

On page 9512 of the FEDERAL REGISTER of November 26, 1959, there was published a notice and text of a proposed amendment of §§ 131.16 and 131.29 of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations. The purpose of this amendment is to implement Public Law 86-236 approved September 21, 1959 (73 Stat. 597), which authorizes the leasing of tribal and allotted lands on the Agua Caliente (Palm Springs) Reservation, California, for periods of not to exceed ninety-nine years.

Interested persons were given 30 days within which to submit written comments, suggestions or objections with respect to the proposed amendments. Some objections were received to the proposal in § 131.29(b) which, in the notice of proposed rule making contained a limitation of 60 years. The proposal was reconsidered and the full term of 99 years, as provided for in the statute, is being provided for in the regulation. All other comments in regard to § 131.29(b) were fully considered preliminary to adopting the regulation in its present form, as set forth below.

Final publication at this time of § 131.16 is being withheld until further consideration can be given to the comments that were received in regard to the provisions of this section.

Section 131.29, as amended, is hereby adopted as set forth below. This amendment shall become effective at the beginning of the 30th calendar day following the date of this publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Consent of Joint Business Council of Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes

A notice of proposed rule making to amend 25 CFR, Part 184, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 2, 1960, on page 2803. The purpose of the amendments is to provide regulations which will require the consent of the Joint Business Council of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes to the initial issuance of oil and gas leases and consultation with the Council prior to the renewal of the leases covering ceded lands within the Wind River Indian Reservation, Wyoming.

Interested persons were given 30 days within which to submit written comments, suggestions or objections with respect to the proposed amendment. No comments, suggestions or objections have been received, and the proposed amendment is hereby adopted without change and is set forth below. ELMER F. BENNETT,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

JULY 23, 1960.

1. The caption and paragraph (a) of § 184.4 are amended to read as follows:

§ 184.4 Sale of oil and gas leases.

(a) At such times and in such manner as he may deem appropriate, after being authorized by the Joint Business Council of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes or its authorized representative, the superintendent shall publish notices at least thirty days prior to the sale, unless a shorter period is authorized by the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative, that oil and gas leases on specific tracts, each of which shall be in a reasonably compact body, will be offered to the highest responsible bidder for a bonus consideration, in addition to stipulated rentals and royalties. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check, certified check, or postal money order, payable to the payee designated in the invitation to bid, in an amount not less than 25 percent of the bonus bid. Within 30 days after notification of being the successful bidder, said bidder must remit the balance of the bonus, the first year's rental, and his share of the advertising costs, and shall file with the superintendent the lease in completed form. The superintendent may, for good and sufficient reasons, extend the time for completion and submission of the lease form, but no extension shall be granted for remitting the balance of monies due. If the successful bidder fails to pay the full consideration within said period, or fails to file the completed lease within said period or extension thereof, or if the lease is disapproved through no fault of the lessor or the Department of the Interior, 25 percent of the bonus bid will be forfeited for the use and benefit of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes.

2. Section 184.5 is amended to change the caption and to read as follows:

§ 184.5 Terms of lease, procedure for renewal and execution.

(a) Leases shall be for a period of twenty years with the preferential right in the lessee to renew the same for successive periods of ten years each upon such reasonable terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative, unless otherwise provided by law at the expiration of any such period. Applications for renewal of leases shall be filed with the superintendent within ninety days prior to the date of expiration of the lease. One copy of the application for renewal shall be filed by the applicant with the Joint Business Council of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes and no lease shall be renewed unless the Joint Business Council or its authorized representative is afforded an opportunity to present the Council's views to the Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative.

(b) The Secretary of the Interior or his authorized representative may execute oil and gas leases with the consent of the Joint Business Council or its authorized representative, and may execute renewals of leases after consultation with the Joint Business Council or its authorized representative.

SUBCHAPTER K—SECURITY OF VESSELS

PART 124—CONTROL OVER MOVEMENT OF VESSELS

Certain Vessels Exempted From Advance Notice of Time of Arrival of Vessels

By Executive Order 10173 the President found that the security of the United States is endangered by reason of subversive activities and prescribed certain regulations relating to the safeguarding against destruction, loss, or injury from sabotage or other subversive acts, accidents, or other causes of similar nature to vessels, harbors, ports, and waterfront facilities in the United States, and all territory and waters, continental or insular, subject to the jurisdiction of the United States exclusive of the Canal Zone.

Pursuant to the authority of 33 CFR 6.04–8 in Executive Order 10173 (15 F.R. 7007; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.) the Captain of the Port may supervise and control the movement of any vessel and shall take full or partial possession or control of any vessel or any part thereof within the territorial waters of the United States under his jurisdiction whenever it appears to him that such action is necessary in order to secure such vessel from damage or injury or to prevent damage or injury to any waterfront facility or waters of the United States or to secure the observance of rights and obligations of the United States.

The amendment to 33 CFR 124.10(a) exempts (1) United States vessels engaged in coastwise trade, (2) United States vessels engaged in the fisheries, and (3) United States yachts from the requirements regarding the advance notice of the vessel's estimated time of arrival to be furnished to the Captain of the Port.

Because of the national emergency declared by the President, it is found that compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act (respecting notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures thereon, and effective date requirements thereof) is unnecessary.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Executive Order 10173 as amended by Executive Orders 10277 and 10352, I hereby prescribe the following amendment to the introductory sentence preceding the subparagraphs in § 124.10(a), which shall become effective upon the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

§ 124.10 Advance notice of vessel's time of arrival to Captain of the Port.

(a) The master or agents of every foreign vessel and every documented vessel of the United States except (1) United States vessels engaged in the coastwise trade, (2) United States vessels engaged in the fisheries, or (3) United States yachts, arriving at a United States port or place from a port or place outside the United States or destined from one port or place in the United States to another port or place in the United States shall give at least 24 hours' advance notice of arrival to the Captain of the Port at every port or place where the vessel is to arrive, except as follows:

PART 171—STANDARDS FOR NUMBERING

Louisiana System of Numbering Approved

Acting under the authority delegated by Treasury Department Order 167–32, dated September 23, 1958 (23 F.R. 7605), the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, on July 5, 1960, approved the Louisiana system for the numbering of motorboats, which was established pursuant to the Federal Boating Act of 1958.

As provided in this approval, the Louisiana system shall be operative on and after July 5, 1960. On that date the authority to number motorboats principally used in the State of Louisiana passed to that State. Those motorboats presently numbered should continue to display the Coast Guard number until renumbered by Louisiana. On and after July 5, 1960, all reports of "boating accidents" which involve motorboats numbered in Louisiana will be required to be reported to the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, New Orleans, Louisiana, pursuant to the Act No. 43 of the 1960 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature.

Because the amendments to §§ 171.01–6(b), and 171.10–1(b), as set forth in this document, are informative rules about official actions performed by the Commandant, it is hereby found that compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act (respecting notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures thereon, and effective date requirements thereof) is unnecessary.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Orders 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F.R. 6521), and 167–17, dated June 29, 1955 (20 F.R. 4976), to promulgate rules in accordance with the statutes cited with the informative rules below, the following amendments are prescribed with an effective date of July 5, 1960:

Subpart 171.01—General

1. In § 171.01–6 Temporary exemptions until July 1, 1960, paragraph (b) is amended by deleting "Louisiana" from the list of States.

PART 171—STANDARDS FOR NUMBERING

New Mexico System of Numbering Approved

Acting under the authority delegated by Treasury Department Order 167–32, dated September 23, 1958 (23 F.R. 7605), the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, on July 8, 1960, approved the New Mexico system for the numbering of motorboats, which was established pursuant to the Federal Boating Act of 1958.

As provided in this approval, the New Mexico system shall be operative on and after July 7, 1960. On that date the authority to number motorboats principally used in the State of New Mexico passed to that State. Those motorboats presently numbered should continue to display the Coast Guard number until renumbered by New Mexico. On and after July 7, 1960, all reports of "boating accidents" which involve motorboats numbered in New Mexico will be required to be reported to the State Park Commission, Santa Fe, New Mexico, pursuant to the New Mexico Boat Act (Senate Bill No. 119, approved April 2, 1959), and Regulation No. 1 promulgated by the State Park Commission dated May 18, 1960.

Because the amendments to §§ 171.01–6(b), and 171.10–1(b), as set forth in this document, are informative rules about official actions performed by the Commandant, it is hereby found that compliance with the Administrative Procedure Act (respecting notice of proposed rule making, public rule making procedures thereon, and effective date requirements thereof) is unnecessary.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by Treasury Department Orders 120, dated July 31, 1950 (15 F.R. 6521), and 167–17, dated June 29, 1955 (20 F.R. 4976), to promulgate rules in accordance with the statutes cited with the informative rules below, the following amendments are prescribed with an effective date of July 7, 1960:

Notice of Proposed Rule Making

Notice is hereby given that the Department is considering the approval of a proposed amendment, hereinafter set forth, to the rules and regulations (Subpart—Rules and Regulations; 7 CFR 953.100 et seq.) that are currently in effect pursuant to the applicable provisions of the amended marketing agreement and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona. This is a regulatory program effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674). The amendment to the said rules and regulations was proposed by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof.

The proposed amendment is as follows:

1. Delete the provisions of paragraphs (c) and (e) of § 953.170 and substitute in lieu thereof a revised paragraph (c) as follows:

(c) Manifest Report and Certificate of Assignment of Allotment (LAC Form 203–6). Within twenty-four hours after any shipment of lemons is made to points within the continental United States or to Alaska or Canada, the handler thereof shall furnish to the committee a manifest report (sections (1), (3), and (4), on LAC Form 203–6), of the lemons shipped. Such report shall show the rail car number (if shipment is by rail) and the number of cartons (or carton equivalents) of each size of lemons shipped. If the shipment was made under a size exemption certificate (LAC Form 201), the certificate number shall also be shown. If the shipment was made by truck, section (2) of LAC Form 203–6, the certificate of assignment of allotment covering such shipment, shall also be completed at the time of sale or transfer of such lemons. Each such certificate shall cover the total quantity of lemons shipped and shall show: (1) The date the lemons were actually shipped; (2) the handler's invoice number; (3) the name of the consignee (purchaser or receiver); (4) the destination (address of consignee); (5) truck driver's name, address and signature; (6) the date of loading; and (7) if loose fruit, the net weight of the lemons and the equivalent number of cartons shipped. Each Daily Manifest and Certificate of Assignment of Allotment shall be signed by the handler or his authorized agent, and shall contain the handler's address and a certification to the United States Department of Agriculture and the Lemon Administrative Committee that the lemons listed on such form are covered by an allotment issued during the applicable regulation period, under the provisions of Lemon Marketing Order No. 53, as amended, and the regulations of the Lemon Administrative Committee.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with said proposed amendment should do so by forwarding same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, Room 2077 South Building, Washington 25, D.C., not later than the tenth day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

I hereby refer to each of the above-named industry committees the question of the minimum wage rate or rates to be fixed under the provisions of section 6(c) of the Act in the particular industry with which it is concerned. Each industry committee shall investigate conditions in its industry, and the committee, or any authorized sub-committee thereof, shall hear such witnesses and receive such evidence as may be necessary or appropriate to enable the committee to perform its duties and functions under the Act.

Industry Committee No. 49–A shall convene at 10:00 a.m. on August 15, 1960, in the offices of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, New York Department Store Building, Fortaleza and San Jose Streets, San Juan, Puerto Rico, to conduct its investigation and shall commence its hearing at 2:00 p.m. on the same date at the same place. In order to reach as rapidly as is economically feasible the objective of the minimum wage prescribed in paragraph (1) of section 6(a), of the Act, each industry committee shall recommend to the Administrator the highest minimum wage rate or rates for the industry which it determines, having due regard to economic and competitive conditions, will not substantially curtail employment in the industry, and will not give any industry in Puerto Rico a competitive advantage over any industry in the United States outside of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and American Samoa. Where an industry committee finds that a higher minimum wage may be determined for employees engaged in certain activities in or in the manufacture of certain products in the industry, the industry committee shall recommend such reasonable classifications within the industry as it determines to be necessary for the purpose of fixing for each classification the highest minimum wage rate that can be determined for it under the principles set forth herein which will not substantially curtail employment in such classifications and will not give a competitive advantage to any group in the industry. No classification shall be made, however, and no minimum wage shall be fixed solely on a regional basis or on the basis of age or sex. In determining whether there should be classifications within the industry, in making such classifications, and in determining the minimum wage rates for such classifications, the committee shall consider, among other relevant factors, the following: (1) Competitive conditions as affected by transportation, living, and production costs; (2) the wages established for work of like or comparable character by collective labor agreements negotiated between employers and employees by representatives of their own choosing; and (3) the wages paid for work of like or comparable character by employers who voluntarily maintain minimum wage standards in the industry.

The Administrator shall prepare an economic report for such committees containing such data as he is able to assemble pertinent to the matters referred to these committees. Copies of each such report may be obtained at the national and Puerto Rican offices of the United States Department of Labor as soon as they are completed and prior to the hearings. Each committee will take official notice of the facts stated in the economic report to the extent they are not refuted at the hearings.

The procedure of these industry committees will be governed by Part 511 of Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations. As a prerequisite to participation as witnesses or parties these regulations require, among other things, that interested persons in the present matters shall file pre-hearing statements containing certain specified data, not later than August 5, 1960.

Signed at Washington, D.C., this 22d day of July 1960.

JAMES T. O'CONNELL,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 59-105, 54-228]

PENNSYLVANIA GAS CO. AND NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO.

Notice of Filing and Order for Hearing; Notice of and Order Instituting Proceedings and Directing Hearing

JULY 22, 1960.

In the matters of Pennsylvania Gas Company, National Fuel Gas Company, File No. 59-105; National Fuel Gas Company, File No. 54-228.

I. Notice is hereby given that National Fuel Gas Company ("National"), a registered holding company, has submitted a plan pursuant to section 11(e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act"). Briefly, the plan provides for the issuance by National of shares of its common stock in exchange for the publicly-held shares of common stock of one of its subsidiary companies, Pennsylvania Gas Company ("Pennsylvania").

All interested persons are referred to the plan which is on file at the offices of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions and terms proposed therein, the salient features of which may be summarized as follows:

National owns 585,079 (94.05 percent) of Pennsylvania's outstanding 622,080 shares of common stock, the remaining 37,001 shares of such stock being held by approximately 225 public stockholders, including Horace Crary, who is a director of Pennsylvania.

In exchange for each of the publicly-held shares of the no par value common stock of Pennsylvania, National will issue 1.45 shares of its $10 par value common stock.

The plan will be consummated on a date ("Consummation Date") which will be the earliest practicable date after the entry of an order by a court of the United States approving and enforcing the plan and will be effective as of a date ("effective date") which will be not more than sixty (60) days prior to the Consummation Date. On the Consummation Date the public holders of the common stock of Pennsylvania will cease to have any rights as shareholders of Pennsylvania and such holders will be entitled to receive the common shares of National and dividend payments thereon, if any, upon surrender of their certificates for shares of Pennsylvania. At the end of two years from the Consummation Date any common shares of National and dividends paid thereon not issued in exchange for shares of Pennsylvania shall irrevocably belong to National, and the public holders of shares of Pennsylvania will have lost all rights with respect thereto.

No fractional shares or scrip in respect thereof will be issued by National in connection with the exchange. National has appointed Warren National Bank of Warren, Pennsylvania to act as exchange agent under the plan. Upon the order of stockholders of Pennsylvania entitled to fractional interests in National stock, the exchange agent will buy or sell the fractional interests, matching buy and sell orders as far as possible; any remaining shares will be sold on the market and the proceeds thereof will be remitted to the selling stockholders. The fees and expenses of the exchange agent will be paid by National.

If the dividends paid on the common stock of Pennsylvania from January 1, 1960, to the effective date are less than the normal thirty cents (30¢) per share quarterly dividend, amounts in cash equal to such deficiency will be added to the common stock of National deliverable under the plan.

The carrying out of the plan is subject to all necessary approvals by the Commission under the Act, and to its approval and enforcement by a court of the United States having jurisdiction, as fair and equitable and as necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11(b)(2) of the Act. All fees and other expenses incidental to the consummation of the plan and the proceedings relating thereto will be paid by National, subject to any necessary approvals by the Commission and by the Court of items subject to their jurisdiction.

II. The Commission having been advised by its Division of Corporate Regulation ("Division") that the Division, pursuant to sections 11(a), 18(a) and 18(b) of the Act, has made a preliminary examination of the affairs of National, its corporate structure, the corporate structure of its subsidiary companies, the relationships among the companies in the National holding company system, the interests of National and the public in such subsidiaries, and has made a preliminary study of National's plan filed pursuant to section 11(e) of the Act; and it appearing to the Division from such examination that:

1. National, organized under the laws of New Jersey in 1902, is solely a holding company and is registered as such under section 5 of the Act. It maintains its principal offices in New York City.

2. As of December 31, 1959, National had six direct subsidiaries and one indirect subsidiary. The names of the subsidiary companies embraced in the holding company system of National, as of December 31, 1959, the nature of their business and the percentage of common (voting) stock owned by National and by the public, are shown in the following table:

Name	Business	Percent of shares held by National	Percent of shares held publicly
Iroquois Gas Corp.	Gas utility	100
Jefferson County Gas Co.	Gas and oil production.	100
The Mars Co.	do	100
Pennsylvania Gas Co.	Gas utility	94.05	5.95
Pennsylvania Oil Co.	Oil production.	100
Penn-York Natural Gas Corp.	Gas transmission.	100
United Natural Gas Co.	Gas utility	100

3. As indicated above, all of the voting securities of the subsidiaries in the holding company system of National are owned, directly or indirectly, by National except those of Pennsylvania Gas Company which has 5.95 percent of its outstanding shares of common (voting) stock in the hands of the public.

4. Pennsylvania, a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is a gas utility company engaged in the business of producing and storing natural and manufactured gas, transporting and distributing at retail natural and mixed gas to about 66,297 customers in Erie, Warren, Corry, and nearby communities in northwestern Pennsylvania, and to 21,249 customers in Jamestown and adjacent areas in Chautauqua County, New York. Pennsylvania owns all of the outstanding securities of Pennsylvania Oil Company consisting of 576,000 shares of common stock. The latter company is a non-utility, producing a small quantity of petroleum from 135 oil wells.

5. At May 31, 1960 the consolidated assets of Pennsylvania and its subsidiary amounted to $36,876,167, after valuation reserves; and the consolidated gross operating revenues for the year ended on that date amounted to $16,776,292. In the calendar year 1959, Pennsylvania produced 10.6 percent of its total natural gas requirements, and purchased 30.3 percent of such requirements from United Natural Gas Company, Iroquois Gas Corporation and Jefferson County Gas Company, all associate companies in the National holding company system. The balance of its gas requirements was purchased from nonaffiliates.

6. Pennsylvania's outstanding securities at May 31, 1960, consisted of $14,100,000 face amount of long-term promissory notes owned by National, and 622,080 shares of no par value common (voting) stock, of which 585,079 shares are owned by National and 37,001 shares are held by the public.

III. The Division avers that the foregoing allegations, and the facts otherwise disclosed in the course of its examination of the corporate structure of Pennsylvania and its relationship with other companies in the National holding company system establish or tend to establish that its corporate structure unfairly and inequitably distributes voting power among the security holders of the National holding company system and among Pennsylvania's security holders.

IV. It being the duty of the Commission pursuant to section 11(b)(2) of the Act, to require by order, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that each registered holding company and each subsidiary company thereof take such steps as the Commission shall find necessary to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in a holding company system does not, among other things, unfairly or inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of such holding company systems; and

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11(e) of the Act to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing and before approving any plan filed thereunder, that such plan, as submitted or as it may be modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11(b), and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate that notice be given and a hearing be held for the purpose of determining what action should be ordered under section 11(b)(2) and for the purpose of ascertaining whether the plan should be approved; and

It appearing that common issues of fact and law arise in connection with the plan and in connection with issues involved under section 11(b)(2), making it appropriate that said matters be consolidated and that a hearing be held in the consolidated proceeding: It is hereby ordered:

TARIFF COMMISSION

TOWELING OF FLAX, HEMP, OR RAMIE

Reports to the President

JULY 25, 1960.

The U.S. Tariff Commission today submitted to the President its third periodic report on the developments in the trade in toweling of flax, hemp, or ramie since the "escape clause" action effective July 25, 1956, withdrawing the concession granted in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade on such toweling classifiable under paragraph 1010 of the Tariff Act of 1930. This report was made pursuant to paragraph 1 of Executive Order 10401 of October 14, 1952. That order prescribes procedures for the periodic review of escape-clause actions. Such review is limited to the determination of whether a concession that has been modified or withdrawn can be restored in whole or in part without causing or threatening serious injury to the domestic industry concerned.

In submitting its third report to the President under Executive Order 10401 with respect to toweling of flax, hemp, or ramie, the Commission advised the President that the conditions of competition between imported and domestic toweling had not so changed as to warrant the institution of a formal investigation under the provisions of paragraph 2 of the order. This means that, in the Commission's view, the developments in the trade in toweling of flax, hemp, or ramie do not warrant a formal inquiry into the question of whether a reduction in the duty on such toweling could be made without causing or threatening serious injury to the domestic industry.

Copies of the Commission's report are available upon request as long as the limited supply lasts. Requests should be addressed to the U.S. Tariff Commission, Eighth and E Streets NW., Washington 25, D.C.

By direction of the Commission.

WATCH MOVEMENTS

Reports to the President

JULY 25, 1960.

The U.S. Tariff Commission today submitted to the President its fifth periodic report on the developments in the trade in watch movements since the "escape clause" action, on July 27, 1954, modifying the concession thereon granted in the trade agreement with Switzerland signed January 9, 1936. This report was made pursuant to paragraph 1 of Executive Order 10401 of October 14, 1952. That order prescribes procedures for the periodic review of escape-clause actions. Such review is limited to the determination of whether a concession that has been modified or withdrawn can be restored in whole or in part without causing or threatening serious injury to the domestic industry concerned.

In submitting its fifth report to the President under Executive Order 10401 with respect to watch movements, the Commission advised the President that the conditions of competition between imported and domestic watch movements had not so changed as to warrant the institution of a formal investigation under the provisions of paragraph 2 of Executive Order 10401. This means that, in the Commission's view, the developments in the trade in watch movements do not warrant a formal inquiry into the question of whether a reduction in the duties on watch movements could be made without resulting in serious injury to the domestic watch industry.

Copies of the Commission's report are available upon request as long as the limited supply lasts. Requests should be addressed to the U.S. Tariff Commission, Eighth and E Streets NW., Washington 25, D.C.

By direction of the Commission.

[Valencia Orange Reg. 208]

PART 922—VALENCIA ORANGES GROWN IN ARIZONA AND DESIGNATED PART OF CALIFORNIA

Limitation of Handling

§ 922.508 Valencia Orange Regulation 208.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement and Order No. 22, as amended (7 CFR Part 922), regulating the handling of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the Valencia Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said marketing agreement and order, as amended, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such Valencia oranges as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for Valencia oranges and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such Valencia oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on July 28, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of Valencia oranges grown in Arizona and designated part of California which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., July 31, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., August 7, 1960, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 625,000 cartons;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) All Valencia oranges handled during the period specified in this section are subject also to all applicable size restrictions which are in effect pursuant to this part during such period.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in said marketing agreement and order, as amended.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated: July 29, 1960.

Acting Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service.

[Peach Order 1, Amdt. 1]

PART 934—FRESH PEACHES GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON

Limitation of Shipments

Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, and Order No. 34 (7 CFR Part 934), regulating the handling of fresh peaches grown in designated counties in Washington, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Washington Fresh Peach Marketing Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that limitation of shipments of fresh peaches, in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this amendment until 20 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this amendment is based became available and the time when this amendment must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; and this amendment relieves restriction on the handling of fresh peaches grown in Washington.

(b) It is, therefore, ordered as follows:

The provisions in paragraph (b) (6) of § 934.301 (Peach Order 1; 25 F.R. 6360) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(6) The terms "U.S. No. 1" and "U.S. No. 2" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Peaches (§§ 51.1210 to 51.1223 of this title); the term "loose or jumble pack" shall mean that the peaches are not placed in the container in rows, cups or compartments, or otherwise are not placed in the container in symmetrical order; and terms used in the marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as given to the respective term in the marketing agreement and order.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Dated July 26, 1960, to be effective on and after 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., July 27, 1960.

FLOYD F. HEDLUND,

[Lemon Reg. 857]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

Limitation of Handling

§ 953.964 Lemon Regulation 857.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 25 F.R. 9063), regulating the handling of lemons grown in California and Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.; 68 Stat. 906, 1047), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of handling of such lemons as hereinafter provided will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based become available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. The committee held an open meeting during the current week, after giving due notice thereof, to consider supply and market conditions for lemons and the need for regulation; interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit information and views at this meeting; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein were promptly submitted to the Department after such meeting was held; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period herein specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject hereto which cannot be completed on or before the effective date hereof. Such committee meeting was held on July 26, 1960.

(b) Order. (1) The respective quantities of lemons grown in California and Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., July 31, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m. P.s.t., August 7, 1960, are hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;
(ii) District 2: 325,500 cartons;
(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) As used in this section, "handled," "District 1," "District 2," "District 3," and "carton" have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

PART 993—DRIED PRUNES PRODUCED IN CALIFORNIA

Order Finding That Estimated Season Average Price of Prunes for 1960–61 Crop Year Will Be in Excess of Parity and Providing for the Special Regulation of Prunes

In accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of § 993.50 of Marketing Agreement No. 110, as amended, and Order No. 93, as amended (7 CFR Part 993), regulating the handling of dried prunes produced in California, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), hereinafter referred to as the "act", it is hereby found that:

(a) The estimated season average price for prunes for the 1960–61 crop year, which will begin on August 1, 1960, will be in excess of the price level (i.e., parity) contemplated by the provisions of section 2(1) of the act; and

(b) The handling of prunes during such crop year in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of § 993.50 will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act by establishing and maintaining such minimum standards of quality and maturity and such grading and inspection requirements for prunes in interstate commerce as will effectuate such orderly marketing of prunes as will be in the public interest, and is not for the purpose of maintaining prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish thereunder.

On July 19, 1960, the Prune Administrative Committee—the agency established pursuant to the order to administer the terms and provisions thereof—reviewed all matters pertaining to a proposed marketing policy for the 1960–61 crop year and determined that the 1960 prices to producers for dried prunes would be in excess of the price level (i.e., parity) contemplated by the provisions of section 2(1) of the act. Available information indicates that, for the 1960–61 crop year, the total supply of prunes will be somewhat less than the probable market requirements in domestic and foreign commerce (including carryout), and that the prospective demand situation will be enhanced by small, early-season inventories of prunes, prune juice and concentrate, and by below-normal production in foreign prune producing countries.

Since the provisions of § 993.50 are being made effective in lieu of the requirements of §§ 993.48 and 993.49 (which would otherwise be operative in the absence of this determination) for the 1960–61 crop year, the minimum standards as to grade for natural condition prunes or processed prunes, as the case may be, shall be those set forth in § 993.97 (Exhibit A), as currently in effect (24 F.R. 5938). Therefore, the respective combined tolerance allowances of 20 percent as provided in § 993.97 (Exhibit A) for the defects included therein would be in effect during the 1960–61 crop year instead of the modified combined tolerance allowances of 15 percent made effective August 20, 1957 (22 F.R. 6645) pursuant to the provisions of §§ 993.48(c) and 993.49(c). Moreover, the pack regulations, which became effective June 20, 1958 (§§ 993.501–993.518; 23 F.R. 3373) pursuant to § 993.49(b)(3) would be inoperative during the 1960–61 crop year, the same as for the current crop year.

It is, therefore ordered, That:

1. The provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of § 993.50 shall apply to all handling of prunes during the 1960–61 crop year beginning August 1, 1960.

2. The modified (22 F.R. 6645) combined tolerance allowances of 15 percent for the defects contained in § 993.97 (Exhibit A), effective August 20, 1957, shall not be operative for the 1960–61 crop year.

3. The pack regulations, effective June 20, 1958 (§§ 993.501–993.518; 23 F.R. 3373), shall not be operative for the 1960–61 crop year.

It is hereby further found that it is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice and engage in public rule making procedure, and that good cause exists for not postponing the effective date hereof until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) and for making the provisions hereof effective August 1, 1960, in that: (1) The regulatory provisions pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order currently in effect for an above parity crop year (24 F.R. 5938) will terminate at the end of the present crop year (i.e., on July 31, 1960); (2) in the absence of the requirements pursuant hereto becoming effective August 1, 1960, the beginning of the 1960–61 crop year, more restrictive requirements pursuant to §§ 993.48 and 993.49 would, unless sooner suspended or modified, automatically become operative at that time with respect to the handling of prunes during that crop year; (3) the regulatory provisions pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order that are hereby ordered to be in effect during the 1960–61 crop year are authorized by the said marketing agreement and order and are substantially the same as those in effect during the current crop year and are well known to handlers; (4) handlers will need to know as soon as possible the regulations which will apply to the handling of prunes during the 1960–61 crop year so as to arrange their operations accordingly; and (5) compliance herewith will require no advance preparation by handlers.

Dated July 26, 1960, to become effective August 1, 1960.

Acting Director, Fruit and Vegetable Division.

PART 994—MILK IN COLORADO SPRINGS-PUEBLO MARKETING AREA

Order Amending Order

§ 994.0 Findings and determinations.

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Colorado Springs-Pueblo marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary in the public interest to make this order amending the order effective not later than August 1, 1960. Any delay beyond that date would tend to disrupt the orderly marketing of milk in the marketing area.

The provisions of the said order are known to handlers. The recommended decision of the Deputy Administrator of the Agricultural Marketing Service was issued July 7, 1960, and the decision of the Assistant Secretary containing all amendment provisions of this order, was issued July 18, 1960. The changes effected by this order will not require extensive preparation or substantial alteration in method of operation for handlers. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order effective August 1, 1960, and that it would be contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendment for 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (See sec. 4(c), Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. 1001 et seq.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of handlers (excluding cooperative associations specified in section 8c(9) of the Act) of more than 50 percent of the milk, which is marketed within the marketing area, to sign a proposed marketing agreement, tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the order, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the Act of advancing the interests of producers as defined in the order as hereby amended; and

(3) The issuance of the order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Colorado Springs-Pueblo marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

§ 994.51 [Amendment]

Delete § 994.51(a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. During the period through January 1962, the basic formula price for the preceding month plus $3.20.

(Secs. 1–19, 48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U.S.C. 601–674)

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 29th day of July, 1960, to be effective on and after the 1st day of August 1960.

CLARENCE I. MILLER,
Assistant Secretary.

[Prune Order 1]

PART 1029—FRESH PRUNES GROWN IN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN WASHINGTON AND IN UMATILLA COUNTY, OREGON

Limitation of Shipments

§ 1029.301 Prune Order 1.

(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, and Order No. 129 (7 CFR Part 1029; 25 F.R. 6350), regulating the handling of fresh prunes grown in designated counties in Washington, and in Umatilla County, Oregon, effective July 7, 1960, under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601–674), and upon the recommendations of the Washington-Oregon Fresh Prune Marketing Committee, established under the aforesaid marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of fresh prunes, as hereinafter set forth, pursuant to the provisions of § 1029.52(a)(2) of the marketing agreement and order will tend to effectuate such orderly marketing of such prunes as will be in the public interest; will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, and is not for the purpose of maintaining prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish under the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than August 1, 1960. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, prunes must await the development of the crop and adequate information thereon was not available to the Washington-Oregon Fresh Prune Marketing Committee until July 25, 1960; recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such prunes was made at the meeting of said committee on July 25, 1960, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such prunes, at which time the recommendation and supporting information were submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such prunes will begin on or about August 1, 1960, and this section should be applicable, insofar as practicable, to all shipments of such prunes in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. During the period beginning at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., August 1, 1960, and ending at 12:01 a.m., P.s.t., November 1, 1960, no handler shall handle any lot of prunes to any destination other than export (as defined in § 1030.15 of this part) unless such prunes meet the following applicable requirements:

(1) Minimum grade requirement. Such prunes shall grade at least U.S. No. 1, except that any prunes having not less than two-thirds (⅔) of the surface purplish color may be shipped if they otherwise grade at least U.S. No. 1.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation, any individual shipment of prunes which, in the aggregate, does not exceed 300 pounds net weight may be handled without regard to the restrictions specified in paragraph (b) of this section or in §§ 1030.41 (Assessment) and 1030.55 (Inspection and certification).

(3) The term "U.S. No. 1" shall have the same meaning as when used in the United States Standards for Fresh Plums and Prunes (§§ 51.1520 to 51.1537 of this title); the term "purplish color" shall have the same meaning as when used in the Washington State Department of Agriculture Standards for Italian Prunes (May 1954); and, except as otherwise specified, all other terms shall have the same meaning as when used in the marketing agreement and order.

SUBCHAPTER K—PATENTS, ALLOTMENTS, AND SALES

PART 121—ISSUANCE OF PATENTS IN FEE, CERTIFICATES OF COMPETENCY, SALE OF CERTAIN INDIAN LANDS, AND REINVESTMENT OF PROCEEDS

Status of Application

Pursuant to authority vested in the Secretary of the Interior by section 161 of the Revised Statutes (5 U.S.C. 22), Part 121, Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, is changed by amending § 121.2a. This regulation was designed to assure, insofar as practicable, that Indian applicants for patents in fee are informed concerning the status of their applications before such information is made available to the public.

The amendment will maintain these protective features but will permit direct responses in cases where Indian applicants make inquiry through channels of communication normally utilized by many of the Indian people seeking information regarding the status of their applications for patents in fee.

For these reasons, it would not be in the public interest to publish proposed rule making concerning this amendment or to postpone its effective date for 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U.S.C. 1001–1011).

Section 121.2a, 25 CFR Part 121, is hereby amended as set forth below and will become effective at the beginning of the calendar day on which this amendment is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 121.2a Information regarding status of applications for patents in fee.

The status of applications by Indians for patents in fee shall be disclosed to employees of the Department whose duties require that such information be disclosed to them and to the applicant, or his attorney, upon request. This information will also be made available to members of Congress who present requests therefor from the applicant. Such information will be made available to all other persons, upon request, fifteen (15) days after the fee patent has been issued by the Bureau of Land Management, or after the application has been rejected and the applicant notified, if such be the case.

Title 14—AERONAUTICS AND SPACE

Chapter III—Federal Aviation Agency

SUBCHAPTER E—AIR NAVIGATION REGULATIONS

[Airspace Docket No. 60-NY-65]

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Designation and Modification of Federal Airways and Associated Control Areas

The purpose of these amendments to Parts 600 and 601, and §§ 600.6047 and 601.6047 is to redesignate the segment of VOR Federal airway No. 47 and its associated control areas from Bowling Green, Ky., to Nabb, Ind., as VOR Federal airway No. 49.

The above action is being taken to eliminate misunderstanding created by the existence of multiple transition points between VOR Federal airway No. 5 and Victor 47. As presently designated Victor 47 joins Victor 5 at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Bowling Green, Ky. In the absence of specific flight plan information, it becomes necessary to solicit additional information to determine the exact point of transition between the two airways. This creates an additional workload in the processing of flight plans at both manual and electronic computer equipped facilities. This action, in effect, will result in the reidentification of a segment of an existing airway, and does not involve designation of any additional airspace.

Since these amendments are minor in nature and impose no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary. However, since it is necessary that sufficient time be allowed to permit appropriate changes to be made on aeronautical charts, this amendment will become effective more than 30 days after publication.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), the following actions are taken:

§ 600.6047 [Amendment]

1. In § 600.6047 (24 F.R. 10511, 9305; 25 F.R. 430), the following changes are made:

(a) In the caption "(Bowling Green, Ky., to Detroit, Mich.)" is deleted and "(Nabb, Ind., to Detroit, Mich.)" is substituted therefor.

(b) In the text "From the Bowling Green, Ky., VOR via the Mystic, Ky., VOR; Nabb, Ind., VOR, Cincinnati, Ohio, VOR;" is deleted and "From the Nabb, Ind., VOR via the Cincinnati, Ohio, VORTAC;" is substituted therefor.

2. In Part 600 (24 F.R. 10487) the following is added:

§ 600.6049 VOR Federal airway No. 49 (Bowling Green, Ky., to Nabb, Ind.).

From the Bowling Green, Ky., VOR via the Mystic, Ky., VOR; to the Nabb, Ind., VOR.

§ 601.6047 [Amendment]

3. In the caption of § 601.6047 (24 F.R. 10599), "(Bowling Green, Ky., to Detroit, Mich.)" is deleted and "(Nabb, Ind., to Detroit, Mich.)" is substituted therefor.

4. In Part 601 (24 F.R. 10530) the following is added:

§ 601.6049 VOR Federal airway No. 49 control areas (Bowling Green, Ky., to Nabb, Ind.).

All of VOR Federal airway No. 49.

These amendments shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. September 22 1960.

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Designation and Modification of Federal Airways and Associated Control Areas

The purpose of these amendments to Parts 600 and 601, and §§ 600.6174 and 601.6174 is to redesignate the segment of VOR Federal airway No. 174 and its associated control areas from Louisville, Ky., to Falmouth, Ky., as VOR Federal airway No. 502.

The above action is being taken to eliminate misunderstanding created by the existence of multiple transition points between VOR Federal airway No. 4 and Victor 174. As presently designated Victor 174 joins Victor 4 at Louisville and Elkins, W. Va. In the absence of specific flight plan information, it becomes necessary to solicit additional information to determine the exact point of transition between these two airways. This creates an additional workload in the processing of flight plans at both manual and electronic computer equipped facilities. This action, in effect, will result in the reidentification of a segment of an existing airway, and does not involve designation of any additional airspace.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), the following actions are taken:

§ 600.6174 [Amendment]

1. In § 600.6174 (25 F.R. 4955), the following changes are made:

(a) In the caption "(Louisville, Ky., to Washington, D.C.)" is deleted and "(Falmouth, Ky., to Washington, D.C.)" is substituted therefor.

(b) In the text "From the Louisville, Ky., VORTAC via the Falmouth, Ky., VOR; York, Ky., VOR;" is deleted and "From the Falmouth, Ky., VOR via the York, Ky., VOR;" is substituted therefor.

§ 601.6174 [Amendment]

2. In the caption of § 601.6174 (25 F.R. 4955), "(Louisville, Ky., to Washington, D.C.)" is deleted and "(Falmouth, Ky., to Washington, D.C.)" is substituted therefor.

3. In Part 600 (24 F.R. 10487) the following is added:

§ 600.6502 VOR Federal airway No. 502 (Louisville, Ky., to Falmouth, Ky.).

From the Louisville, Ky., VORTAC to the Falmouth, Ky., VOR.

4. In Part 601 (24 F.R. 10530) the following is added:

§ 601.6502 VOR Federal airway No. 502 control areas (Louisville, Ky., to Falmouth, Ky.).

All of VOR Federal airway No. 502.

These amendments shall become effective 0001 e.s.t., September 22, 1960.

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF FEDERAL AIRWAYS

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Designation and Modification of Federal Airways and Associated Control Areas

The purpose of these amendments to Parts 600 and 601, and §§ 600.6045 and 601.6045 is to redesignate the segment of VOR Federal airway No. 45 and its associated control areas from Lexington, Ky., to Waterville, Ohio, as VOR Federal airway No. 493.

The above action is being taken to eliminate misunderstanding created by the existence of multiple transition points between Victor 45 and VOR Federal airway No. 4. As presently designated, Victor 45 joins Victor 4 at Charleston, W. Va., and Lexington, Ky. In the absence of specific flight plan information, it becomes necessary to solicit additional information to determine the exact point of transition between these two airways. This creates an additional workload in the processing of flight plans at both manual and electronic computer equipped facilities. This action, in effect, will result in the reidentification of a segment of an existing airway, and does not involve designation of any additional airspace.

Since these amendments are minor in nature and impose no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary. However, since it is necessary that sufficient time be allowed to permit appropriate changes to be made on aeronautical charts this amendment will become effective more than 30 days after publication.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), the following actions are taken:

§ 600.6045 [Amendment]

1. In § 600.6045 (24 F.R. 10511; 25 F.R. 869, 2078, 4986), the following changes are made:.

(a) In the caption "Lexington, Ky., to Waterville, Ohio," is deleted.

§ 601.6045 [Amendment]

2. In the caption of § 601.6045 (25 F.R. 4956), "Lexington, Ky., to Waterville, Ohio," is deleted.

3. In Part 600 (24 F.R. 10487) the following is added:

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification and Revocation of Control Area Extensions

On May 7, 1960, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 4086) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to Part 601 and § 601.1260 of the regulations of the Administrator which would modify the Altus, Okla., control area extension and revoke the Lawton, Okla., control area extension.

As stated in the notice, the Altus control area extension includes the airspace bounded on the south by VOR Federal airway No. 102, on the west by VOR Federal airways No. 14 and 114, on the northwest by VOR Federal airway No. 140, and a line from the Sayre, Okla., VOR along longitude 99°38'00'' W., to VOR Federal airway No. 17, on the northeast by Victor 17 and on the southeast by VOR Federal airway No. 77. The Federal Aviation Agency is modifying the Altus control area extension to include the airspace northwest of the present area bounded on the southwest by Victor 140 north alternate, on the northwest by VOR Federal airway No. 12, and on the east by a line from Sayre VOR along longitude 99°38'00'' W., to Victor 17 and on the north by Victor 17. This will provide protection for jet aircraft arriving and departing Clinton Sherman AFB, Okla., during instrument flight rule conditions. Concurrent with this action the Lawton control area extension is being revoked because the Altus control area extension includes the airspace presently designated as the Lawton control area extension.

This action will result in the Altus control area extension being designated to include the airspace bounded on the northeast by VOR Federal airway No. 17; on the southeast by VOR Federal airway No. 77; on the south by VOR Federal airway No. 102; on the west by VOR Federal airway No. 14 from Lubbock, Tex., to Childress, Tex., and VOR Federal airway No. 114, from Childress to Amarillo, Tex.; on the northwest by VOR Federal airway No. 12; excluding the portion which coincides with the Fort Sill Restricted Area (R-208). Concurrently, the Lawton, Okla., control area extension is revoked.

The Air Transport Association of America concurred in the Proposal. The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association objected to the Proposal because no consideration was given to placing an appropriate floor on this control area extension as permitted by Civil Air Regulation Amendment 60-14 effective January 1, 1960. Civil Air Regulation Amendments 60-14 and 60-14A were rescinded effective June 30, 1960 (25 F.R. 6015) and therefore the designation of control area must be made in accordance with Part 601 of the regulations of the Administrator.

No other comments were received regarding the proposed amendments.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

The substance of the proposed amendments having been published, therefore, pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530) the following actions are taken:

§ 601.1302 [Revocation]

1. In Part 601 (24 F.R. 10530) § 601.1302 Control area extension (Lawton, Okla.). is revoked.

2. Section 601.1260 (24 F.R. 10560) Control area extension (Altus, Okla.). is amended to read:

§ 601.1260 Control area extension (Altus, Okla.).

All the airspace bounded on the NE by VOR Federal airway No. 17; on the SE by VOR Federal airway No. 77; on the S by VOR Federal airway No. 102; on the W by VOR Federal airway No. 14 from Lubbock, Tex., to Childress, Tex., and VOR Federal airway No. 114, from Childress, Tex., to Amarillo, Tex., on the NW by VOR Federal airway No. 12; excluding the portion which lies within the geographic limits of, and between the designated altitudes of, the Fort Sill, Okla., Restricted Area (R-208) during the restricted area's designated time of use.

These amendments shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. September 22, 1960.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification of Control Area Extension

On January 30, 1960, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 814) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 601.1131 of the regulations of the Administrator which proposed the modification of the Oscoda, Mich., control area extension.

As stated in the notice, the present Oscoda control area extension includes the airspace within a 30-mile radius of the Wurtsmith AFB, Oscoda, Mich., and the airspace centered on the 266° True radial of the Wurtsmith TVOR extending from a point 5 miles west of the airbase to a point 32 miles west of the airbase and having a width of 1 mile on the north side and 2.3 miles on the south side of the 266° True radial at a point 5 miles west of the airbase and expanding to a width of 4.6 miles at a point 32 miles west of the airbase. The notice proposed enlarging the Oscoda control area extension by the addition of that airspace 5 miles either side of the Wurtsmith AFB TACAN 234° True radial extending to a point 46 miles southwest. This additional controlled airspace will provide protection for aircraft landing at Wurtsmith AFB executing the prescribed instrument approach procedure based on the Wurtsmith TACAN.

The Department of the Air Force objected to the proposed control area extension stating that it was not of sufficient dimensions to provide controlled airspace for the holding of aircraft below

24,000 feet MSL; that is, below the floor of the continental control area; and that air traffic control flexibility and capability would not be increased. The Air Force recommended that the area be extended to include the airspace 17 nautical miles on the south side and 8 nautical miles on the north side of the 234° True radial of the TACAN, extending from the present control area periphery to a point 62 nautical miles southwest, with a floor of 14,500 feet MSL, to provide controlled airspace to encompass the special F-104/5 holding pattern between 20,000 and 25,000 feet inclusive. An alternate recommendation submitted by the Air Force proposed an area 8.6 nautical miles on the south side and 5.2 nautical miles on the north side of the 234° True radial of the TACAN extending to a point 45 nautical miles southwest of the facility, with or without a floor of 14,500 feet. This also was to provide controlled airspace for aircraft holding below 24,000 feet MSL.

The present Wurtsmith high altitude TACAN procedure prescribes an initial penetration altitude of 20,000 feet or as directed. The expanded holding pattern for century series type aircraft holding between 20,000 and 24,000 feet would require the designation of a considerably enlarged area of controlled airspace extending from 700 feet above the surface, and would be unduly restrictive to general aviation. Since it is possible and feasible to direct aircraft, when necessary, to commence initial penetration at flight level 240 or above, which would result in any required holding being conducted in the continental control area, the Federal Aviation Agency considers the designation of controlled airspace to accommodate holding below flight level 240 for this penetration procedure to be be excessive and unnecessary.

No other adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Subsequent to publication of the notice, Restricted Area (R-91) was revoked in Airspace Docket No. 59-KC-37 (25 F.R. 4377). This will require further amending § 601.1311 to delete all reference to this restricted area from the description of the Oscoda, Mich., control area extension.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), § 601.1311 (24 F.R. 10563; 25 F.R. 4377) is amended to read:

§ 601.1311 Control area extension (Oscoda, Mich.).

The airspace within a 30-mile radius of Wurtsmith AFB, Oscoda, Mich.; within 5 miles either side of the Wurtsmith AFB TACAN 234° True radial extending from the TACAN to a point 46 miles southwest; and the airspace centered on the 266° True radial of the Wurtsmith TVOR extending from a point 5 miles west of the AFB to a point 32 miles west of the AFB and having a width of 1 mile on the north side and 2.3 miles on the south side of the 266° True radial at a point 5 miles west of the AFB and expanding to a width of 4.6 miles at the point 32 miles west of the AFB. The portions of this control area extension which lie within the geographic limits of, and between the designated altitudes of, the Upper Lake Huron Restricted Area (R-491) is excluded during this restricted area's time of designation. The portions of this control area extension which lie within the Oscoda, Mich. (Wurtsmith AFB) Restricted Area/Military Climb Corridor (R-550) shall be used only after obtaining prior approval from the controlling agency.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. September 22, 1960.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification of Control Area Extension

The purpose of this amendment to § 601.1381 of the regulations of the Administrator is to modify the description of the Kwajalein Island control area extension.

The Kwajalein Island Warning Areas (W-448, W-449, and W-450) have been disestablished. The disestablishment of W-448, W-449, and W-450 revokes the portions of these warning areas which conflicted with the Kwajalein Island control area extension. Therefore, all reference to the Kwajalein Island warning areas is being deleted from the description of the Kwajalein Island control area extension. Warning area (W-449) is incorrectly referred to in § 601.1381 as (W-445) and is, therefore, referred to as such in this amendment.

Since this amendment imposes no additional burden on any person, notice and public procedure hereon are unnecessary, and it may be made effective in less than 30 days.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), the following action is taken:

In the text of § 601.1381 (24 F.R. 10566) "from the nondirectional radio beacon excluding the portions which overlap Airspace Warning Areas W-448, W-445, and W-450." is deleted and "from the nondirectional radio beacon."-is substituted therefor.

This amendment shall become effective upon the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

Modification of Control Zone

On March 26, 1960, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 2591) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was considering an amendment to § 601.2023 of the regulations of the Administrator which would modify the Albuquerque, N. Mex., control zone.

As stated in the notice, the Albuquerque control zone is presently designated within a 5-mile radius of Kirtland Air Force Base with extensions to the south based on the south course of the Albuquerque radio range extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Peralta, N. Mex., fan marker; to the north based on the Alameda, N. Mex., non-directional radio beacon extending from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 10 miles north of the Alameda radio beacon; and to the west based on the 091° and 271° True radials of the Albuquerque VOR, extending from the 5-mile zone to a point 10 miles west of the VOR. Modification of the Albuquerque control zone would redesignate the present south extension based on the south course of the Albuquerque range to extend it from the 5-mile radius zone to a point 17 miles south of the radio range to provide protection to aircraft executing prescribed ADF and radio range instrument approach procedures; designate a control zone extension based on the ILS localizer north course extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the intersection of the localizer north course and the Albuquerque VORTAC 057° True radial to provide protection for aircraft executing ILS approach procedures based on the ILS localizer north course; revoke a portion of the west extension of the Albuquerque control zone no longer required for the prescribed instrument approach procedure based on the Albuquerque VORTAC; and revoke a portion of the north extension of the Albuquerque control zone no longer required for the prescribed instrument approach procedure based on the Alameda radio beacon.

The Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association concurred in the proposed reduction to the Albuquerque control zone, and advised that they did not object to the proposed extension along the north course of the ILS localizer. However, the AOPA stated that the proposed extension to a point 17 miles south of the Albuquerque radio range appears to be unnecessary, as does the existing south extension. Subsequent to publication of the Notice, a revised U.S. Air Force range/ADF approach was published nullifying the requirement for a control zone extension to 17 miles south of the range. The existing south extension to the Peralta fan marker (approximately 12 statute miles south of the radio range) remains a requirement to protect the range approach. Any attempt to raise the crossing altitude on final approach by the required amount would eliminate straight-in approaches to runway 26 at Kirtland Air Force Base/Municipal Airport. Consequently, no modification will be made to the south extension to the Albuquerque control zone.

The Department of the Air Force interposed no objection to the proposal. No other comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

This action will result in the Albuquerque control zone being designated within a 5-mile radius of Kirtland Air Force Base; within 2 miles either side of the south course of the Albuquerque radio range extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Peralta fan marker; within 2 miles either side of the 091° True radial of the Albuquerque VORTAC extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the VORTAC; within 2 miles either side of the 172° True bearing from the Alameda radio beacon extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Alameda radio beacon; and within 2 miles either side of the Albuquerque ILS localizer north course extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the intersection of the Albuquerque VORTAC 057° True radial, and the ILS localizer north course.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, and pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Administrator (24 F.R. 4530), § 601.2023 (24 F.R. 10572) is amended to read:

§ 601.2023 Albuquerque, N. Mex., control zone.

Within a 5-mile radius of Kirtland AFB (latitude 35°02'42" N., longitude 106°36'02" W.); within 2 miles either side of the south course of the Albuquerque RR extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Peralta fan marker; within 2 miles either side of the 091° True radial of the Albuquerque VORTAC extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the VORTAC; within 2 miles either side of the 172° True bearing from the Alameda RBN extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the Alameda RBN; and within 2 miles either side of the Albuquerque ILS localizer north course extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the INT of the Albuquerque VORTAC 057° True radial, and the ILS localizer north course.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t. September 22, 1960.

PART 601—DESIGNATION OF THE CONTINENTAL CONTROL AREA, CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, REPORTING POINTS, AND POSITIVE CONTROL ROUTE SEGMENTS

PART 608—RESTRICTED AREAS

Modification of Restricted Area and Control Area Extension

The purpose of these amendments to §§ 608.25 and 601.1080 of the regulations of the Administrator is to change the controlling agency of the Fort Knox, Ky., Restricted Area (R-64) (Nashville and Cincinnati Charts) from the U.S. Army Armored Center, Fort Knox to the Federal Aviation Agency, Standiford Control Tower, Louisville, Ky., and to delete reference to Restricted Area R-64 in the description of the Louisville control area extension.

Restricted Area R-64 is presently used by the U.S. Army Armored Center, Fort Knox, Ky., for small arms, howitzer and artillery firing, from the surface to 20,000 feet MSL, controlled by the U.S. Army Armored Center, Fort Knox, and is designated continuously. The Federal Aviation Agency and representatives of the Department of the Army have reached an agreement whereby the airspace within R-64 may be used by air traffic when not in use for its designated purpose. Therefore, the Federal Aviation Agency is changing the controlling agency from the Armored Center to the Federal Aviation Agency, Standiford Control Tower, Louisville, and deleting all reference to R-64 in the text of the Louisville control area extension.

Since these amendments are minor in nature, in that they reduce a burden on the public by permitting use of R-64 when it is not in use for its designated purpose, compliance with the notice, public procedure, and effective date requirements of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary and they may be made effective immediately.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following actions are taken:

1. In § 608.25, the Fort Knox, Ky., Restricted Area (R-64) (Nashville and Cincinnati Charts) (23 F.R. 8581) "U.S. Army Armored Center, Fort Knox, Ky." is deleted and "The Federal Aviation Agency, Standiford Control Tower, Louisville, Ky." is substituted therefor.

2. In the text of § 601.1080 (24 F.R. 10551) "The portion of this control area extension which lies within the geographical limits of, and between the designated altitudes of, the Fort Knox Restricted Area (R-64) is excluded during the restricted area's time of designation." is deleted.

These amendments shall become effective upon the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Designation of Restricted Area

On September 22, 1959, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 7620) stating that the Federal Aviation Agency was proposing an amendment to § 608.14 of the regulations of the Administrator which would designate the China Lake South, Calif., Restricted Area (R-278A) (Los Angeles Chart). Additionally, this proposal was given consideration at a public hearing held in Riverside, Calif., on October 27, 1959.

As stated in the notice, the Department of the Navy has advised that their aircraft are performing low level high speed runs in connection with loft bombing maneuvers to a target in the southwest corner of the China Lake, Calif., Restricted Area (R-278) (Mt. Whitney and Los Angeles Charts). The target run is presently made from south to north, mostly outside of R-278 and requires pilot preoccupation to the extent that the "see and be seen" principle is often marginal. Target usage is increasing, and the probability of air collision is increasing. Therefore, the Federal Aviation Agency is designating a new China Lake South Restricted Area (R-278A), 6½ miles wide and 15 miles long adjacent to the southwest corner of R-278, from the surface to 6,000 feet MSL. This additional airspace is considered the minimum necessary to contain that portion of the run-in maneuver of the loft bombing delivery in which the pilot is preoccupied.

As noted above, this proposal was given consideration at a public hearing held in Riverside, Calif., on October 27, 1959. The Department of Defense supported the proposed action at this meeting while Mr. Albert J. Huber, Aviation Director for the Kern County, Calif., Department of Airports objected to the designation of R-278A. Following the public meeting, Mr. Huber submitted the same objections in writing in response to the notice of proposed rule making, as follows: (1) That the height of the test aircraft over the ground (50 feet) precludes other aircraft being underneath, at the same altitude or closer than 450 feet above him and that closer coordination and liaison should be established between local Navy representatives and airport managers to insure that direct travel between civil airports is done not under 1,000 feet above the terrain; (2) that the pilot has completed his cockpit check and is concentrating all his attention on the area immediately in front of him and, therefore, any moving object should be readily recognized and evasive action taken; and (3) that the Airport Manager of Inyokern, Calif., Airport had reported that the test aircraft, on the downwind leg of their target run, fly directly over the airport at near traffic pattern elevation. However, the Department of the Navy states that there is no flat run-in of 10 to 15 miles in length employed in either training or research and development operations and no present pattern requires a terrain clearance of only 50 feet; that a toss bomb or a rocket approach at near sonic speed may involve a run-in at 1,000 to 1,500 feet above terrain, and initiation of a pull up prior to entry into R-278 which would preclude taking evasive action, that some rocket and glide or dive bombing attacks would involve a descending run-in to the range from an initial altitude of 5,000 feet to 6,000 feet MSL; and that the pilots utilizing the loft bombing range are instructed to cross Inyokern Airport not above 6,000 feet and not below 5,000 feet MSL prior to entering the diving turn into the firing line. Adherence to these instructions would put the Navy aircraft at a minimum of 2,500 feet above Inyokern Airport.

Mr. F. G. St. Louis, Clinic Manager of the Drummond Medical Center, Ridgecrest, Calif., also objected to the designation of R-278A stating that since the present training programs in this area seem to call for low level flying techniques, it would seem that the 6,000 foot minimum is not only inconvenient and annoying, but unnecessary, and that he would suggest the ceiling minimum to be set at a more realistic and yet safe elevation. In view of the foregoing statement of the Navy, the Federal Aviation Agency considers that 6,000 feet MSL, which varies from 1,400 feet to 3,700 feet above the terrain in the proposed restricted area, is a reasonable ceiling and considers the Navy position justifiable and applicable to the objections raised by Mr. Huber and Mr. St. Louis.

Both Mr. Huber and Mr. St. Louis recommended that a civil radio frequency be established in the China Lake Tower for the use of civilian pilots who might want to transit the area when it is not in use. The Department of the Navy has agreed to the installation of such a frequency.

No other adverse comments were received regarding the proposed amendment.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of the rule herein adopted, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the following action is taken:

In § 608.14 California. (23 F.R. 8576) add:

China Lake South, Calif., Restricted Area (R-278A) (Los Angeles Chart):

Description by geographical coordinates. Beginning at latitude 35°37'30" N., longitude 117°41'30" W., thence to latitude 35°24'00" N., longitude 117°40'30" W., thence to latitude 35°24'00" N., longitude 117°46'30" W., thence to latitude 35°37'30" N., longitude 117°47'30" W., thence to point of beginning.

Designated altitudes. Surface to 6,000 feet MSL.

Time of designation. Sunrise to sunset, Monday through Friday.

Controlling agency. Commander, Naval Ordnance Test Center, China Lake, Calif.

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e.s.t., September 22, 1960.

Title 26—INTERNAL REVENUE, 1954

Chapter I—Internal Revenue Service, Department of the Treasury

SUBCHAPTER A—INCOME TAX

[T.D. 6465]

PART 1—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1953

Miscellaneous Amendments

On April 29, 1960, notice of proposed rule making with respect to the amendments of the Income Tax Regulations (26 CFR Part 1) under sections 72, 105, and 402 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to provide rules relating to certain distributions under employee plans was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (25 F.R. 3762). After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the amendments of the regulations as so published are hereby adopted, subject to the changes set forth below:

Section 1.72-15, as set forth in paragraph 1 of the notice of proposed rule making, is revised:

(A) By changing the first sentence in paragraph (a) to read as follows: "This section provides the rules for determining the taxation of amounts received from an employer-established plan which provides for distributions that are taxable under section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, under section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) and which also provides for distributions that may be excludable from gross income under section 104 or 105 as accident or health benefits."

(B) By changing the third sentence of paragraph (b) to read as follows: "Section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) does apply to any amount which is received under a plan to which this section applies and which is not an accident or health benefit."

(C) By changing the last sentence in paragraph (c)(3) to read as follows: "However, in the case of a profit-sharing plan providing for periodic distributions from the account of a participant during any absence from work because of a personal injury or sickness, an adjustment under this subparagraph is required only when an employee receives distributions in excess of the employer contributions and earnings thereon or receives distributions consisting in whole or in part of his own contributions."

(D) By changing the first sentence of paragraph (e) to read as follows: "The taxability of amounts that are received under a plan to which this section applies and that are not accident or health benefits is determined under section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, under section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) without regard to any exclusion or inclusion of accident or health benefits under sections 104 and 105."

This Treasury decision is issued under the authority contained in section 7805 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (68A Stat. 917; 26 U.S.C. 7805).

[SEAL] DANA LATHAM,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

DAVID A. LINDSAY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately after § 1.72-14 the following new section:

§ 1.72-15 Applicability of section 72 to accident or health plans.

(a) Applicability of section. This section provides the rules for determining the taxation of amounts received from an employer-established plan which provides for distributions that are taxable under section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, under section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) and which also provides for distributions that may be excludable from gross income under section 104 or 105 as accident or health benefits. For example, this section will apply to a pension plan described in section 401 and exempt under section 501 which provides for the payment of pensions at retirement and the payment of an earlier pension in the event of permanent disability. This section will also apply to a profit-sharing plan described in section 401 and exempt under section 501 which provides for periodic distribution of the amount standing to the account of a participant during any period that the participant is absent from work due to a personal injury or sickness and for the distribution of any balance standing to the account of the participant upon his separation from service. For purposes of this section, the term "contributions of the employee" includes contributions by the employer which were includible in the employee's gross income.

(b) General rule. Section 72 does not apply to any amount received as an accident or health benefit, and the tax treatment of any such amount shall be determined under sections 104 and 105. See paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, paragraph (d) of § 1.104-1, and §§ 1.105-1 through 1.105-5. Section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) does apply to any amount which is received under a plan to which this section applies and which is not an accident or health benefit. See paragraph (e) of this section.

(c) Accident or health benefits attributable to employee contributions. (1) If a plan to which this section applies provides that any portion of the accident or health benefits is attributable to the contributions of the employee to such plan, then such portion of such benefits is excludable from gross income under section 104(a)(3) and paragraph (d) of § 1.104–1. Neither section 72 nor section 105 applies to any accident or health benefits (whether paid before or after retirement) attributable to contributions of the employee. Since such portion is excludable under section 104(a)(3), such portion is not subject to the $100-a-week limitation of section 105(d) and if such portion is payable after the retirement of the employee, it is excludable without regard to the provisions of § 1.105–4 and section 72.

(2) In determining the taxation of any amounts received as accident or health benefits from a plan to which this section applies, the first step is to determine the portion, if any, of the contributions of the employee which is used to provide the accident or health benefits and the portion of the accident or health benefits attributable to such portion of the employee's contributions. If such a plan expressly provides that the accident or health benefits are provided in whole or in part by employee contributions and the portion of employee contributions to be used for such purpose, the contributions so used will be treated as used to provide accident or health benefits. However, if the plan does not expressly provide that the accident or health benefits are to be provided with employee contributions and the portion of employee contributions to be used for such purpose, it will be presumed that none of the employee contributions is used to provide such benefits. Thus, in the case of a contributory pension plan, it will be presumed that the disability pension is provided by employer contributions, unless the plan expressly provides otherwise, or in the case of a contributory profit-sharing plan providing that a portion of the amount standing to the account of each participant will be used to purchase accident or health insurance, it will be presumed that such insurance is purchased with employer contributions, unless the plan expressly provides otherwise. Similarly, unless the plan expressly provides otherwise, it will be presumed that if a contributory profit-sharing plan provides for periodic distributions from the account of a participant during any absence from work because of a personal injury or sickness, all such distributions which do not exceed the contributions of the employer plus earnings thereon are provided by employer contributions.

(3) Any employee contributions that are treated under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph as used to provide accident or health benefits shall not be included for any purpose under section 72 as employee contributions or as aggregate premiums or other consideration paid. Thus, in the case of a pension plan, or in the case of a profit-sharing plan providing that a portion of the amount standing to the account of each participant will be used to purchase accident or health insurance, any employee whose contributions are so used must make the adjustment provided by this subparagraph irrespective of whether such employee receives any accident or health benefits under such plan. However, in the case of a profit-sharing plan providing for periodic distributions from the account of a participant during any absence from work because of a personal injury or sickness, an adjustment under this subparagraph is required only when an employee receives distributions in excess of the employer contributions and earnings thereon or receives distributions consisting in whole or in part of his own contributions.

(4) If any of the employee contributions are treated under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph as used to provide any of the accident or health benefits, the portion of the benefits attributable to employee contributions shall be determined in accordance with § 1.105–1. Any accident or health benefits that are excludable under section 104(a)(3) shall not be included in the expected return for purposes of section 72.

(d) Accident or health benefits attributable to employer contributions. Any amounts received as accident or health benefits and not attributable to contriutions of the employee are includible in gross income except to the extent that such amounts are excludable from gross income under section 105 (b), (c), or (d) and the regulations thereunder. Thus, such amounts may be excludable under section 105(d) as payments under a wage continuation plan. However, if such payments, when added to other such payments attributable to employer contributions, exceed the limitations of section 105(d), then the excess is includible in gross income under section 105(a). Such excess is not excludable under section 72.

(e) Other benefits under the plan. The taxability of amounts that are received under a plan to which this section applies and that are not accident or health benefits is determined under section 72 (or, in the case of certain total distributions, under section 402(a)(2) or section 403(a)(2)) without regard to any exclusion or inclusion of accident or health benefits under sections 104 and 105. For example, the investment in the contract or aggregate premiums paid is determined without regard to the exclusion of any amount under section 104 or 105, and the annuity starting date is determined without regard to the receipt of any accident or health benefits. However, if any employee contributions are used to provide any accident or health benefits, the investment in the contract or aggregate premiums paid must be adjusted as provided in paragraph (c)(3) of this section.

(f) Examples. The principles of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). A, an employee, is a participant in a contributory pension plan described in section 401(a) and exempt under section 501(a). Such plan provides for the payment of a pension to each participant when he retires at age 65 or when he retires earlier if the retirement is due to permanent and total disability. In 1958, A, who was age 52, became totally and permanently disabled because of an injury and commenced to receive a pension of $88 a week under this plan. A had contributed $11,804 to the plan. The plan does not expressly provide that any portion of the disability pension is purchased with employee contributions. Accordingly, it is presumed that no portion of the disability pension is purchased with A's contributions. The disability pension which A receives qualifies as payments under a wage continuation plan for purposes of section 105(d) and § 1.105–4, and if such payments are the only accident or health benefits which are attributable to the contributions of his employer, such payments are entirely excludable under section 105(d) until A reaches age 65, his normal retirement age under the plan. The payments which A receives after he becomes age 65 are taxable under section 72. The payments which A receives do constitute an annuity as defined in paragraph (b) of § 1.72–2, but since the amounts which he will receive during the first three years after attaining age 65 exceed his contributions, he shall exclude under § 1.72–13 the entire amount of all payments that he receives as an annuity after attaining age 65 until such amounts equal his contributions to the plan, or $11,804. Thereafter, the payments that he receives under the plan are includible in gross income.

Example (2). B, an employee, is a participant in a contributory profit-sharing plan described in section 401(a) and exempt under section 501(a). Such plan provides that, in the event a participant is absent from work because of a personal injury or sickness, he will be paid $125 a week out of his account in such plan. Any amount standing to the account of a participant at the time of his separation from service will be paid to him at such time. During 1958, B incurred a personal injury and as a result was absent from work for nine weeks. He received nine weekly payments of $125, or a total of $1,125, on account of such absence from work. At the time B was injured, he had contributed $5,000 to the plan. The plan did not expressly provide that a participant's contributions are to be used to provide for the distributions during disability. Accordingly, it is presumed that B's contributions were not used to provide the accident or health benefits under the plan. Since these weekly payments are paid because of B's absence from work due to the injury, and since such payments are considered as attributable to contributions of his employer, such payments are required under section 105(a) to be included in B's gross income except to the extent that they are excludable under section 105(d). If B receives no other payments under a wage continuation plan attributable to contributions of his employer, $100 of each weekly payment is excludable from gross income under section 105(d), but $25 of each weekly payment is includible in gross income under section 105(a). The $100-a-week payment so excludable does not reduce B's investment in the contract or the amount of premiums considered to have been paid by B for purposes of any subsequent computations under section 72.

Example (3). The facts are the same as in example (2) except that B was absent from work for 130 weeks. At the time B was injured, his employer had contributed $10,000 to the plan on his account, and $6,000 of earnings of the plan had been allocated to his account. Thus, at the time he was injured, B's account included $21,000, and $14,000 of such amount consists of employer contributions of $10,000 plus earnings of $4,000 thereon. The first 112 weekly payments (totaling $14,000) which B receives are treated in the manner set forth in example (2). However, since the remaining payments exceed the employer contributions plus earnings thereon, such remaining payments are considered to be distributions of B's contributions plus earnings thereon. Since the total of such payments, of $2,250, is less than B's contributions to the plan, $6,000, the entire amount of such payments is excludable from B's gross income, but a corresponding adjustment with respect to the return of B's contributions shall be made to his consideration in determining the taxation of any lump sum paid to B upon separation from service.

PAR. 2. Paragraph (c)(3) of § 1.105–1 is amended to read as follows:

* * * * * * *

(c) Contributory plans. * * *

(3) Except as provided in paragraph (c)(2) of § 1.72–15, if the plan provides accident or health benefits as well as other benefits for the employees, and if the respective contributions made by the employer and the employees to provide the accident or health benefits cannot be ascertained, the determination of the portion of the accident or health benefits received under such plan which is attributable to the contributions of the employer shall be made in accordance with the rules of paragraph (d) or (e) of this section on the basis of the contributions of the employer and of the employees to the entire plan.

PAR. 3. Paragraph (a)(3)(i) of § 1.105–4 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1.105–4 Wage continuation plans.

(a) In general. * * *

(3)(i) Section 105(d) applies only to amounts attributable to periods during which the employee would be at work were it not for a personal injury or sickness. Thus, an employee is not absent from work if he is not expected to work because, for example, he has reached retirement age. If a plan provides that an employee, who is absent from work on account of a personal injury or sickness, will receive a disability pension as long as he is disabled, section 105(d) is applicable to any payments which such an employee receives under this plan before he reaches retirement age, but section 105(d) does not apply to the payments which such an employee receives after he reaches retirement age. See § 1.72–15 for additional rules relating to the tax treatment of disability pensions.

PAR. 4. Paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of § 1.402(a)–1 is amended to read as follows:

(a) In general. (1) * * *

(ii) The provisions of section 402(a) relate only to a distribution by a trust described in section 401(a) which is exempt under section 501(a) for the taxable year of the trust in which the distribution is made. The distribution from such an exempt trust when received or made available is taxable to the distributee to the extent provided in section 72 (relating to annuities), except that section 72(e)(3) (relating to the treatment of certain lump sums) shall not apply, and except that certain total distributions described in section 402(a)(2) are taxable as long-term capital gains. For the treatment of such total distributions, see subparagraph (6) of this paragraph. Under certain circumstances, an amount representing the unrealized appreciation in the value of the securities of the employer is excludable from gross income for the year of distribution. For the rules relating to such exclusion, see paragraph (b) of this section. Furthermore, the exclusion provided by section 105(d) is applicable to a distribution from a trust described in section 401(a) and exempt under section 501(a) if such distribution constitutes wages or payments in lieu of wages for a period during which an employee is absent from work on account of a personal injury or sickness. See § 1.72–15 for the rules relating to the tax treatment of accident or health benefits received under a plan to which section 72 applies.

Additional Compensation for Veterans Having Four or More Children and Whose Disability is 50 Percent or More Disabling

Part 3, Chapter I of Title 38 of the Code of Federal Regulations, is amended by adding § 3.1547 as follows:

§ 3.1547 Additional compensation for veterans having four or more children and whose disability is 50 percent or more disabling.

(a) Provisions of the law. (1) Section 1 of the law amends subsection (a)(1) of section 315, Title 38, United States Code, as follows:

(1) If and while rated totally disabled and—

(D) has a wife and three or more children living, $62 (plus $12 for each living child in excess of three);

(G) has no wife but three or more children living, $89 (plus $12 for each living child in excess of three); and,

(2) Section 2 provides: "The amendments made by this Act shall take effect on the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of enactment of this Act."

(b) Effect of the act—(1) Removal of ceiling. Prior to its amendment, additional compensation under 38 U.S.C. 315(a) was payable for a maximum of three children. The act removes this limitation and permits payment of additional compensation for any number of children.

(2) Additional amounts. Where the veteran's service-connected disability is evaluated at 100 percent, additional compensation of $12 is payable for each living child. Pro rata amounts of additional compensation are payable where the disability is evaluated from 50 percent to 90 percent, adjusted upward or downward to the nearest dollar (counting fifty cents and over as a whole dollar).

(c) Effective date. The law becomes effective the first day of the second calendar month which begins after the date of enactment, June 8, 1960. The provisions of this paragraph apply to claims which are allowed solely because of its liberalizing provisions and are subject to the rule that the effective date may not be earlier than August 1, 1960.

(1) Pending claims. Where otherwise in order, the effective date of an award as to a claim based on 50 percent or more disability pending on the date of enactment will be August 1, 1960.

Pending claims will include:

(2) New claims. All other claims, formal or informal, received on or after June 8, 1960, will be considered initial claims for the purpose of this law and the effective date will be determined under applicable laws and regulations relating to original claims but not earlier than August 1, 1960. (Instruction 1, 38 U.S.C. 315, Public Law 86–499)

Title 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

SUBCHAPTER B—HUNTING AND POSSESSION OF WILDLIFE

PART 6—MIGRATORY BIRDS

Hunting On or Over Agricultural Lands

Effective September 1, 1960, §§ 6.3 (a) (4) and (b) (9) of Part 6 are amended as set forth below to make it permissible to hunt migratory game birds on or over lands upon which grains are found scattered solely as the result of normal agricultural planting or harvesting. Heretofore hunting has been permitted only on or over grains found scattered solely as a result of normal agricultural harvesting.

As a result of changed agricultural practices, hunters have unwittingly or inadvertently violated the current regulation by hunting over lands upon which grains had been scattered during normal planting operations. The purpose of the amendment is to clarify the circumstances under which migratory game birds may lawfully be taken.

This amendment constitutes a relaxation of restrictions on hunting methods. No detrimental effect on migratory bird populations is anticipated, but if the relaxation results in excessive depletion of any migratory bird species, corrective action will be considered.

Since the migratory bird hunting seasons begin on September 1 this amendment must be effective by that date; therefore, it is impracticable to offer the usual notice and public procedure. However, the Department of the Interior invites interested persons to submit written comments, suggestions, or objections, with respect to the amendment to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington 25, D.C. Further changes in these regulations may be predicated upon such comments, suggestions, or objections.

1. Section 6.3(a) (4) is amended by inserting the words "planting or" preceding the word "harvesting," to read as follows:

§ 6.3 Hunting methods.

* * * * *

(a) Permitted methods. Migratory game birds may be taken.

* * * * *

(4) On or over standing crops (including aquatics), flooded standing crops, flooded harvested crop lands, grain crops properly shocked on the field where grown, or grains found scattered solely as a result of normal agricultural planting or harvesting; or

2. Section 6.3(b) (9) is amended by inserting the words "planting or" preceding the word "harvesting" in the last sentence to read as follows:

(b) Prohibited methods. Migratory game birds may not be taken.

* * * * *

(9) By the aid of baiting, or on or over any baited area. As used in this subparagraph, "baiting" shall mean the placing, exposing, depositing, distributing or scattering of shelled, shucked, or unshucked corn, wheat or other feed so as to constitute for such birds a lure, attraction or enticement to, on or over any area where hunters are attempting to take them; and "baited area" means any area where shelled, shucked, or unshucked corn, wheat or other grain, salt or any other feed whatsoever capable of attracting such birds is directly or indirectly placed, exposed, deposited, distributed or scattered. Nothing in this subparagraph shall prohibit the taking of such birds over standing crops, flooded standing crops (including aquatics), flooded harvested crop lands, grain crops properly shocked on the field where grown, or grains found scattered solely as the result of normal agricultural planting or harvesting.

Proposed Rule Making

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Agricultural Marketing Service

[7 CFR Part 902]

[Docket No. AO-293-A2]

MILK IN WASHINGTON, D.C., MARKETING AREA

Decision on Proposed Amendments to Tentative Marketing Agreement and to Order

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Washington, D.C., on February 8, 1960, pursuant to notice thereof issued on January 27, 1960 (25 F.R. 805).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, the Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service, on June 21, 1960 (25 F.R. 5700) filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision on certain issues of the record. Such recommended decision contained notice of the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto.

The material issues on the record of the hearing relate to:

1. The definition of "dairy farmer for other markets".
2. Location differential adjustments to handlers.
3. Accounting for milk received from farmers in bulk tank trucks.
4. Date of announcement of uniform price and dates on which payments to and from the producer settlement fund are made.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions relative to issue No. 1 were dealt with in a separate decision issued by the Assistant Secretary on March 15, 1960 (25 F.R. 2261). The following findings and conclusions on issues 2, 3, and 4 are based on evidence presented at the hearing and the record thereof:

2. The provisions of the order relative to location differential adjustments on Class I milk should not be changed.

The particular provision of the order at issue concerns the allowance for transportation cost which applies at pool plants 75 miles or more from the milestone in Washington, D.C. Such allowance is expressed as a differential to be subtracted from the Class I price and thus tends to equalize at the marketing area the minimum prices for Class I milk originating from nearby and more distant sources. In the case of milk transferred between plants, the location allowance applies only to that part of the transferred milk which is needed for Class I use in the transferee plant. Accordingly, the provision calls for a computation which assigns transferred milk to available Class II disposition in the transferee plant before assigning any to Class I disposition. Further, in any case where a pool plant receives milk from more than one other plant, the computation of location differential allowance for the transferring plants requires that the Class II milk in the transferee plant be assigned first to the transferor plant having the largest differential, and so on in sequence to that plant having the smallest differential.

The system of order pricing thus recognizes the cost of transportation for moving milk from outlying plants to the marketing area. Other movements of milk directly from producers' farms to plants in the marketing area are subject to hauling charges which are paid by each producer. These hauling charges are allowable under the order, but the rate is not specified. Under these circumstances, all milk moving to the market whether directly from farms or through plants, is subject to transportation charges which are borne by producers.

A proposal of the Queen City Cooperative Dairy would provide that, for the purpose of computing location differential credit to a handler transferring milk from his pool plant to another pool plant, the transferred milk should be considered to be Class I and Class II milk in the same proportion as all milk in the transferee plant.

The Queen City Cooperative operates plants at South Cumberland, Maryland, and Meyersdale, Pennsylvania, 146 and 169 miles, respectively, from the milestone in Washington, D.C. Location differentials of 24 and 27 cents per hundredweight, respectively, are applicable at these plants. These plants qualify for pool status on the basis of shipments to a pool plant from which fluid milk is distributed in the marketing area. In addition to receipts of milk from the two plants operated by the Queen City Cooperative, the pool distributing plant receives milk directly from nearby sources.

Utilization at the plant to which the proponent ships milk is largely for fluid distribution, but the plant also manufactures cottage cheese and sour cream. Cream in excess of plant requirements is disposed of to other plants for manufacturing purposes.

For the purpose of illustrating the effect of the proposal, it may be assumed that all of the Class II milk at the pool distributing plant is assigned to the milk from the Queen City plants. The Class II utilization at the distributing plant was said to be usually about 5 percent of total receipts from all sources. This would be equal to about 5.5 percent of the milk from the Queen City plants, which supply about 90 percent of the milk received. On the basis of these figures, 5.5 percent of the shipped-in milk would be assigned, under the existing order provisions, to Class II milk for purposes of computing the location allowance. Under the proposed revision, the percentage of shipped-in milk assigned to Class II milk should be 5 percent.

The possible effects of the proposal are not confined to the particular situation of the proponent, however, and should be examined in light of its implications for the entire market.

The proponent witness pointed out that some other Federal orders provide different methods of computing transportation allowance, including one similar to that proposed here. The question must be raised in this connection, however, whether the particular circumstances in this market justify such broader application of the transportation allowance. Under the Washington order the entire value of all producer milk is pooled under a marketwide pool. Accordingly, any increase in the transportation allowance on the milk shipments from any one plant would be an additional cost borne by all producers in the market. It was not shown, however, that such additional cost to the pool resulting from this proposal would be justified on the basis of needs of the Class I market. On the contrary, the circumstance that the operations at the distributing plant include the regular manufacture of cottage cheese and sour cream raises the question of whether the milk shipped is partly for the purpose of supplying such Class II business.

The need to limit the application of the transportation allowance must be considered in the light of possible supply arrangements which, under the proposal, would result in a greater cost to the market pool than under the present order provision. For instance, if a distributing plant receives just enough milk directly from farmers to cover its Class I milk distribution, and also carries on a Class II milk manufacturing operation which uses an equal, additional volume of milk, then any milk shipped to such plant from a plant where a location differential applies would not be eligible for transportation allowance under the present order. Under the proposal, however, there would be a deduction from the value of the market pool of the amount of the location differential on half of such shipped-in milk. This cost to producers would be in addition to the hauling charges paid by those producers whose milk moved directly from their farms to the first plant. Under this situation, it is clear that producers for the market would be bearing part of the cost of moving milk going into manufacturing uses. This result is not within the purpose of the Class I milk transportation allowance previously stated herein.

3. Payment for bulk tank milk should be based upon the quantity measured at each farm.

A proposal made by a handler would provide that for producers who have farm tanks, payment would be on the basis of the quantity of milk measured by dealer (or other device) at the handler's plant, rather than on the quantity of milk in each farm tank as determined by dip-stick readings made at the farm. Any differences between the plant weight and the stick readings would be prorated to the producers whose milk deliveries are included in the same tank truck, using the amounts resulting from the respective stick readings and their sum as the basis for such proration.

Most of the milk of producers for this market is picked up at farms by tank trucks. Ordinarily the milk of several farmers is combined in one truck load before delivery to the plant. It is customary that the quantity of milk picked up at each farm is measured by use of a dip-stick or other device for measuring the level of the milk in the farm tank. This measurement is converted to pounds of milk on the basis of a chart or table which shows quantities corresponding to each such measurement. The producer of the milk is furnished a receipt for such quantity of milk drawn from the tank. Such method of accounting for milk to the producer has become accepted practice not only in this market but generally in markets where farm tanks have been put in use.

It was contended by proponent that the quantities of milk delivered to his plant in tank trucks as measured by his plant scale are consistently less than the total of the quantities measured by the hauler at the farms from which the milk on the truck is obtained. Various reasons cited as to why differences could occur included inaccurate calibration of the farm tank, failure of the milk hauler to pump all of the milk out of the farm tank, errors in reading the level of milk in the tank, errors in recording the quantities, and losses of milk after being pumped into the tank truck but prior to being placed in a holding tank at the plant. It was contended further that regardless of how perfectly the calibration may be made for any farm tank, the measurement of milk quantities based thereon can be only an approximation of the actual quantity.

As to the amounts of differences which actually have occurred, however, the proponent handler did not present specific data showing actual experience. The only data presented on the record from actual experience were given by a cooperative association engaged in picking up milk at farms in its own tank trucks and delivering such milk to handlers' plants. It found the indicated loss between farm measurements and plant weights in one month to be 19,076 pounds in the handling of approximately 60 million pounds of milk. This amounted to a difference of farm tank measurements over plant scale readings of about 1/100 of one percent of the milk involved. In another month the total of the plant scale readings exceeded the total of quantities shown by farm tank measurements, in this case also by a very small percentage. A handler other than proponent testified that scale weights at his plant have been both above and below the farm stick measurements on the same milk.

On the basis of the only statistical data submitted on the record, it must be concluded that the normal differences have been relatively small. It is not unreasonable with present-day facilities for measuring, to consider some variation in results between these two methods as normal, even in situations where the farm tank calibrations and the plant scale have been checked by public authorities. In other words, there are practical limits of accuracy in either method of measuring the quantities of milk deliveries by the producer.

As previously stated, the proposal of the handler would base his obligation to producers upon the quantity of milk as determined by his plant scale rather than on the individual quantities measured at producer farms. In such weighing of the truck load as delivered to the plant, the individual quantities from each producer, of course, are obscured. The Act, on the other hand, requires that each order issued thereunder shall establish uniform, minimum prices to all handlers based upon use classification of the milk and provide for the payment of uniform prices to all producers. To fulfill these requirements, preserving equity among handlers and in the distribution of returns among individual producers, there must be a uniform method by which the milk from each producer may be known before it is combined with other milk.

The proposed method of arriving at the quantity of milk for which an individual producer would be paid would be subject, however, to aberrations not strictly related to the measurement of such producer's milk. For example, if under the proposed method, an error occurred in the measurement of milk at any farm, the error would be reflected in the returns to all producers whose milk was picked up in the same truck load.

From a practical standpoint the only available method of measurement which, in the bulk of cases, may be applied to the milk of each producer individually is that taken at the farm. In the unusual case where a single producer's milk constitutes the entire load for one tank truck, the same basis of measurement should be used in order to maintain equity among producers and a uniform method of accounting for milk by handlers. There is in this case, however, an opportunity to compare the two kinds of measurements on the same producer's milk, and if, in any particular instance an unusual difference occurs, the proper resolution should depend on available evidence as to the cause. The proposed method of plant scale reading should not be adopted as the basis of accounting for deliveries to handlers by individual producers.

Since the issuance of the recommended decision the proponent has requested that that hearing be reopened for the limited purpose of receiving evidence consisting of a certain tabulation of data with respect to the farm stick measurements and plant scale weights of milk received from one large producer, such data being for each day during the months of February through May 1960, and several days in June.

The petition of the proponent is not persuasive that such additional evidence could result in any modification of the general conclusion that producer payments should be based upon measurements made at the farm in the case of bulk tank milk. This conclusion has been based mainly upon the consideration that uniform, minimum prices to producers must be paid for each producer's milk as measured individually. The need to apply the same method to the unusual case where a single producer's milk constitutes an entire truckload has already been stated. For the foregoing reasons, the request to reopen the hearing is denied.

4. The date on which the uniform price must be announced should be changed from the 10th to the 11th of each month.

Handlers' reports of receipts and utilization must be submitted to the market administrator no later than the 8th day of each month. Such reports are used by the market administrator to compute and announce the uniform price on or before the 10th day of each month. When a weekend or holiday falls in the period between the date on which reports are due and on which the uniform price must be announced, an unnecessary burden is placed on the market administrator in announcing the uniform price by the date specified. The proposed change would not affect the date on which payments to producers are made for their milk. The change was unopposed at the hearing.

To be consistent with the announcement of the uniform price on the 11th day of each month, the dates on which payments to and from the producer settlement fund are made should be changed from the 11th and 12th day of each month, respectively, to the 12th and 13th day of each month, respectively.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs and proposed findings and conclusions were filed on behalf of certain interested parties in the market. These briefs, proposed findings and conclusions and the evidence in the record were considered in making the findings and conclusions set forth above. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions filed by interested parties are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions set forth herein, the requests to make such findings or reach such conclusions are denied for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

General findings. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

RULINGS ON EXCEPTIONS

In arriving at the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision, each of the exceptions received was carefully and fully considered in conjunction with the record evidence pertaining thereto. To the extent that the findings and conclusions, and the regulatory provisions of this decision are at variance with any of the exceptions, such exceptions are hereby overruled for the reasons previously stated in this decision.

MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Washington, D.C., Marketing Area", and "Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Washington, D.C., Marketing Area", which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order as hereby proposed to be amended by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

DETERMINATION OF REPRESENTATIVE PERIOD

The month of May is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the attached order amending the order regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D.C., marketing area, is approved or favored by producers, as defined under the terms of the order as hereby proposed to be amended, and who, during such representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale within the aforesaid marketing area.

Issued at Washington, D.C., this 26th day of July 1960.

CLARENCE L. MILLER,
Assistant Secretary.

Order Amending the Order Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Washington, D.C., Marketing Area

§ 902.0 Findings and determinations.

The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D.C., marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Act;

(2) The parity prices of milk, as determined pursuant to section 2 of the Act, are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial or commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, That on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Washington, D.C., marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

1. In § 902.22, delete the word "10th" in paragraph (j)(2) and substitute therefor "11th".

2. In § 902.84, delete the word "11th" and substitute therefor "12th".

3. In § 902.85, delete the word "12th" and substitute therefor "13th".

Fumigating Vessels

On December 12, 1959, a Notice of Proposed Rule Making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (24 F.R. 10078) stating that the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, with the approval of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, was proposing to amend § 71.103 of the Public Health Service Regulations to require the owner or agent of a vessel to arrange for and bear the expense of fumigation of the vessel when such fumigation is required under the regulations in this part. After review of the subject, including consideration of relevant matter presented by interested persons, it has been determined that the public interest, in affording protection against introduction of communicable disease into the United States, would be better served by not adopting the proposed amendment. Accordingly, the proposed amendment is withdrawn.

CONTROL ZONES

Withdrawal of Proposed Designation

In a Notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-85 on April 20, 1960 (25 F.R. 3424), it was proposed to designate a control zone at Toledo, Ohio, within a 5-mile radius of the Toledo Municipal Airport, and within 2 miles either side of the north course of the Toledo radio range extending from the 5-mile radius zone to the radio range to provide protection for aircraft conducting IFR approaches and departures at the Toledo Municipal Airport. Subsequent to publication of the notice, it has been determined that the weather reporting service required for control zone operation is not available at the Toledo Municipal Airport. Accordingly, the proposal to designate a control zone at Toledo, Ohio, Municipal Airport is being withdrawn.

In consideration of the foregoing, the notice of proposed rule making contained in Airspace Docket No. 60-WA-85 is hereby withdrawn.

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION

[Docket No. 50-139]

PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC CO.

Order and Notice of Hearing

The Atomic Energy Commission, by the undersigned Presiding Officer, having under consideration: (1) A letter filed by the applicant on July 20, 1960 requesting that a hearing be set for August 11th or 12th or as soon thereafter as possible; (2) a responding letter from the attorney for the AEC Staff dated July 22, 1960; and (3) the procedural facts and matters shown by the public documents hereinafter referred to; and

It appearing that on March 10, 1960 there was issued by the Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation, a Notice of Hearing upon the application of Pacific Gas & Electric Company for a construction permit for a 50 megawatt (electrical) single-cycle, natural internal circulation boiling water nuclear reactor to be located near Eureka, California, wherein the hearing was scheduled to be held before Samuel W. Jensch, Esq. as the Presiding Officer at Germantown, Maryland on April 14, 1960 or on such later date as might be designated by the Presiding Officer; and

It further appearing from the Notice of Postponement of Hearing issued on April 4, 1960 by the said Presiding Officer that at the request of the applicant the date for hearing was postponed to a date to be designated after receipt by the Presiding Officer from the applicant of a report of completion of certain proposed tests and a request for hearing; and that the Notice further provided that public notice of the date for reconvening the hearing shall be given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least 15 days prior to the designated date for the hearing; and

It further appearing that on July 19, 1960 this docketed proceeding was assigned by Samuel W. Jensch as Chief Hearing Examiner to the undersigned Hearing Examiner who was thus designated as Presiding Officer to conduct the further procedings herein; and

It further appearing that the applicant's letter request, item (1) above, reports completion of the tests referred to and requests a hearing date and thus complies with the conditions stated in the Notice of Postponement; and

It further appearing that the Staff letter, item (2) above, states that the suggested dates are acceptable to the AEC Staff, and further states that August 24th and 25th are alternate dates acceptable to both parties if the August 11th and 12th dates are not available; and

It further appearing that the initially requested dates of August 11th and 12th are deemed unavailable for hearings in this matter because the Presiding Officer has heretofore scheduled hearings in three other Commission proceedings to be conducted by him at Knoxville, Tennessee, during the week of August 8th to 12th, but that the alternative dates of August 24th and 25th are available for hearing upon this application, and that the scheduling of the hearing upon those dates will conduce to the orderly dispatch of the Commission's business, now therefore:

It is ordered, This 25th day of July 1960 that (1) the hearing in this proceeding shall be convened at 10:30 a.m. on August 24, 1960, in the Auditorium of the headquarters of the Atomic Energy Commission at Germantown, Maryland, for the purposes shown in the original Notice of Hearing issued on March 10, 1960, 25 F.R. 2120; (2) the convened hearing may be adjourned from time to time and place to place as the circumstances and the public interest may require and as the applicable law and Commission's rules may permit; (3) as stated in the original Notice of Hearing, petitions for leave to intervene may be filed with the Commission not later than August 15, 1960; and (4) this Order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Issued: July 25, 1960, Germantown, Md.

J. D. BOND,
Presiding Officer.

THE CURATORS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI SCHOOL OF MINES AND METALLURGY

Amendment of Construction Permit

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued Amendment No. 2 to Construction Permit No. CPRR-44 set forth below. The amendment increases the allocation of plutonium to the University of Missouri for use in connection with the facility from 80 grams of plutonium contained in plutonium-beryllium sealed sources to 160 grams of plutonium contained in plutonium-beryllium sealed sources.

The Commission has found that the University is financially qualified to assume responsibility for the payment of Commission charges for the special nuclear material and to undertake and carry out the proposed use of such material for a reasonable period of time. It has found, further, that the issuance of the amendment is not inimical to the common defense and security.

The Commission has found that prior public notice of proposed issuance of the amendment is not necessary in the public interest since no hazards considerations are involved.

In accordance with the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2), the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing on the matter of the issuance of the construction permit amendment upon receipt of a request therefor from the permittee or an intervener within thirty days after issuance of the construction permit amendment. Petitions for leave to intervene and requests for a formal hearing shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C. For further details see the application for amendment submitted by the Curators of the University of Missouri, School of Mines and Metallurgy on file at the Commission's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 25th day of July 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

[Construction Permit No. CPRR-44; Amdt. 2]

WESTINGHOUSE ELECTRIC CORP.

Notice of Issuance of Facility License Amendment

Please take notice that the Atomic Energy Commission has issued to Westinghouse Electric Corporation, Amendment No. 3, set forth below, to Facility License No. CX-11, authorizing operation until July 3, 1967, of the CES Facility at the Westinghouse Reactor Evaluation Center located near Waltz Mill in Westmoreland County, Pennsylvania. The CES Facility is designed for the performance of critical experiments relating to the Westinghouse Testing Reactor.

Facility License No. CX-11, originally issued June 17, 1958, was amended, effective January 7, 1959, and October 29, 1959, to authorize the performance of additional experiments and facility modifications. In accordance with applicant's original request, the license was made valid until June 14, 1960. Westinghouse filed an application for renewal dated June 24, 1960.

The Commission has found that operation of the reactor in accordance with the terms and conditions of the license, as amended, will not present undue hazard to the health and safety of the public.

The Commission has further found that prior public notice of proposed issuance of this amendment is not necessary in the public interest since operation of the facility under the amended license will not present any change in the hazard to the health and safety of the public from those previously considered and evaluated in connection with the previously approved operating license.

In accordance with the Commission's rules of practice (10 CFR Part 2) the Commission will direct the holding of a formal hearing on the matter of issuance of the license amendment upon receipt of a request therefor from the licensee or an intervener within 30 days after the issuance of the license amendment. Petitions for leave to intervene and requests for a formal hearing shall be filed by mailing a copy to the Office of the Secretary, Atomic Energy Commission, Washington 25, D.C., or by delivery of a copy in person to the Office of the Secretary, Germantown, Maryland, or the AEC's Public Document Room, 1717 H Street NW., Washington, D.C.

For further details see the application amendment dated June 24, 1960, submitted by Westinghouse Electric Corporation on file at the Commission's Public Document Room.

Dated at Germantown, Md., this 20th day of July 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

R. L. KIRK,
Deputy Director, Division of Licensing and Regulation.

B. There is reasonable assurance that the critical experiment facility can be operated without endangering the health and safety of the public;

(2) Subject to the conditions and requirements incorporated herein the Commission hereby licenses Westinghouse:

A. Pursuant to section 104c of the Act and Title 10, CFR, Chapter 1, Part 50, "Licensing of Production and Utilization Facilities" to possess and operate as a utilization facility the nuclear critical experiment facility designated below, and to conduct critical experiments as described in the application.

The critical experiment facility is moderated and reflected by water and designed to operate at thermal power levels up to 100 watts as described in the application.

(4) This license shall be deemed to contain and be subject to the conditions specified in § 50.54 of Part 50; is subject to all applicable provisions of the Act and rules, regulations, and orders of the Commission now or hereafter in effect, and is subject to the additional conditions specified or incorporated below:

A. Operating restrictions. (1) Westinghouse shall not operate the reactor at a power level in excess of 100 watts (thermal).

(2) Westinghouse shall not perform a critical experiment other than the experiments described in the application in the facility until a description of the experiment and a hazards summary report shall have been submitted to the Commission and the Commission shall have specifically authorized the experimental activity.

5. This amended license is effective as of the date of issuance and shall expire at midnight July 3, 1967.

Date of issuance: July 20, 1960.

For the Atomic Energy Commission.

BARTHOLOMEW'S COMMISSION SALE ET AL.

Proposed Posting of Stockyards

The Director of the Packers and Stockyards Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, has information that the livestock markets named below are stockyards as defined in section 302 of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U.S.C. 202), and should be made subject to the provisions of the act.

Bartholomew's Commission Sale, Middleburgh, N.Y.
D. R. Chambers & Sons, Inc., Unadilla, N.Y.
Farmers Livestock Market, Bath, N.Y.
Norvel Reed Livestock, Commission Auction, Sherman, N.Y.
Sunny Acres Livestock Market, Bombay, N.Y.
Warrenton Livestock Market, Warrenton, N.C.
Raymond Pope's Livestock Sales Pavilion, Vinita, Okla.
Douglas Livestock Market, Wilbur, Oreg.

Notice is hereby given, therefore, that said Director, pursuant to authority delegated under the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U.S.C. 181 et seq.), proposes to issue a rule designating the stockyards named above as posted stockyards subject to the provisions of the act, as provided in section 302 thereof.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views, or arguments concerning the proposed rule may do so by filing them with the Director, Packers and Stockyards Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D.C., within 15 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

FORT WAYNE UNION STOCK YARDS

Deposting of Stockyards

It has been ascertained, and notice is hereby given, that the Fort Wayne Union Stock Yards, Fort Wayne, Indiana, originally posted on July 1, 1922, as being subject to the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U.S.C. 181 et seq.), no longer comes within the definition of a stockyard under said act for the reason that it is no longer being conducted or operated as a public market, and is, therefore, no longer subject to the provisions of the act.

Notice or other public procedure has not preceded promulgation of the foregoing rule since it is found that the giving of such notice would prevent the due and timely administration of the Packers and Stockyards Act and would, therefore, be impracticable and contrary to the public interest. There is no legal warrant or justification for not deposting promptly a stockyard which is no longer within the definition of that term contained in said act.

The foregoing is in the nature of a rule granting an exemption or relieving a restriction and, therefore, may be made effective in less than 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. This notice shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

IDENTIFICATION OF CARCASSES OF CERTAIN HUMANELY SLAUGHTERED LIVESTOCK

Pursuant to section 4 of the Act of August 27, 1958 (7 U.S.C. 1904) and the statement of policy thereunder in 9 CFR 181.1, the following table lists the establishments operated under Federal inspection under the Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 71 et seq.) which were officially reported on July 1, 1960, as humanely slaughtering and handling on that date the species of livestock respectively designated for such establishments in the table. Establishments reported after July 1 as using humane methods on July 1 or a later date in July will be listed in a supplemental list. Previously published lists represented establishments reported in June or July 1960 as humanely slaughtering and handling the designated species of livestock on June 1 or some later date in June, 1960 (25 F.R. 5954, 6370, 6545, and 6933). The establishment number given with the name of the establishment is branded on each carcass of livestock inspected at that establishment. The table should not be understood to indicate that all species of livestock slaughtered at a listed establishment are slaughtered and handled by humane methods unless all species are listed for that establishment in the table. Nor should the table be understood to indicate that the affiliates of any listed establishment use only humane methods:

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. CP60-58]

EL PASO NATURAL GAS CO.

Notice of Application and Date of Hearing

JULY 22, 1960.

Take notice that on March 14, 1960, El Paso Natural Gas Company (Applicant) filed in Docket No. CP60-58 an application pursuant to section 7(c) of the Natural Gas Act for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities for the acquisition, compression, processing and transportation of additional volumes of natural gas at Applicant's existing Goldsmith Compressor Station in Ector County, Texas, all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The proposed facilities consist of (a) two additional 2,000 horsepower compressor units, turbo-charger modifications for 12 existing compressor units and appurtenances necessary to operate said facilities, thus increasing the total compressor capacity at the subject station by 6,800 horsepower, and (b) equipment necessary to increase the capacity of Applicant's Goldsmith Purification and Dehydration Plant approximately 58,000 Mcf per day.

The total estimated cost of the aforesaid facilities is $3,930,000, which would be financed from working funds or by short term bank loans as required.

Applicant states that the additional quantities of natural gas to be compressed and processed by use of the facilities for which authorization is sought herein will become available by reason of the termination of the sale of 38,000 Mcf of natural gas presently being made to Sid Richardson Carbon Company (this abandonment of sale was authorized in Docket No. G-16137), which gas will now be processed through Applicant's Goldsmith Plant, and by reason of continuing development of the gas producing fields connected to Phillips Petroleum Company's Goldsmith Gasoline Plant resulting in additional quantities of gas which are available to Applicant under existing contracts between Phillips and Applicant.

These additional gas supplies will be used to augment Applicant's overall gas supply. No additional sales are proposed as a result of installation of the facilities which are the subject of this application.

This matter is one that should be disposed of as promptly as possible under the applicable rules and regulations and to that end:

Take further notice that, pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing will be held on August 25, 1960, at 9:30 a.m., e.d.s.t., in a Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 441 G Street NW., Washington, D.C., concerning the matters involved in and the issues presented by such application: Provided, however, That the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.30(c) (1) or (2) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Under the procedure herein provided for, unless otherwise advised, it will be unnecessary for Applicant to appear or be represented at the hearing.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D.C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before August 15, 1960. Failure of any party to appear at and participate in the hearing shall be construed as waiver of and concurrence in omission herein of the intermediate decision procedure in cases where a request therefor is made.

Take notice that on September 18, 1959, Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Applicant) filed an application, as supplemented on November 6, 1959, March 16, 1960, and May 13, 1960, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, seeking authorization to conduct storage and production testing operations in its Waverly storage field all as more fully set forth in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Preliminary testing of this field was conducted in 1954 and 1955, and was followed by injection and storage testing from 1956 to the date of application. Applicant proposes to construct and operate a lateral from its existing pipeline (Tifton-Fitzgerald lateral) to the City of Sylvester consisting of approximately 1.4 miles of 3.5-inch O.D. pipeline at an estimated cost of $16,408 and a lateral to the City of Ocilla consisting of approximately 9.4 mile of 3.5-inch O.D. pipeline at an estimated cost of $4,943 and meter and regulating stations for Sylvester at an estimated cost of $6,800 and for Ocilla at an estimated cost of $5,300.

This contract further provides that in the event Applicant's requirements should exceed the quantity specified, the parties will negotiate in good faith to reach an agreement covering the supply of such additional requirements. Southern Natural has advised Applicant that it is willing to increase Applicant's contract demand to include the above estimated third year requirements for Sylvester and Ocilla.

This application proposes service denied by the Commission in its Opinion No. 235 issued August 7, 1959, without prejudice to said municipalities making a future showing of projects which are economically feasible.

("ISA"), a registered face-amount certificate company, has filed an application seeking the approval of an amendment to a depositary agreement pursuant to section 28(c) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 ("Act"), which amendment was executed in connection with the proposed issuance and sale by ISA of Single Payment Certificates, Series C.

ISA is issuing and proposes to continue to issue face-amount certificates which are subject to the deposit and maintenance of assets under section 28(c) of the Act. The Commission, by orders dated November 16, 1940, June 26, 1948 and August 18, 1953 (Investment Company Act Release Nos. 18, 792 and 1895 respectively) granted applications by ISA with respect to the approval of depositary agreements between it and The Marquette National Bank ("Bank") or with some other trustee or trustees having the qualifications required by paragraph 1 of section 26(a) of the Act, under which ISA is required to deposit and maintain with the Bank qualified assets equivalent to all reserve liabilities of outstanding certificates.

The Series C Certificates are being registered under the Securities Act of 1933. Under the amended depositary agreement, for which approval is being sought, ISA undertakes to deposit and maintain with the Bank qualified investments and reserves as required by section 28 of the Act with the respect to the new Series C certificates upon the terms and conditions specified in said agreement.

Section 28(c) provides, among other things, that the Commission shall by rule, regulation, or order, in the public interest or for the protection of investors, require a registered face-amount certificate company to deposit and maintain, upon such terms and conditions as the Commission shall prescribe and as are appropriate for the protection of investors, with one or more institutions having the qualifications required by section 26(a) (1) of the Act for a trustee of a unit investment trust, all or any part of the investments maintained by such company as certificate reserve requirements under the provisions of section 28(b) of the Act.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than August 12, 1960 at 5:30 p.m., submit to the Commission in writing a request for a hearing on the matter accompanied by a statement as to the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such communication should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington 25, D.C. At any time after said date, as provided by Rule O-5 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the Act, an order disposing of the application herein may be issued by the Commission upon the basis of the showing contained in said application, unless an order for hearing upon said application shall be issued upon request or upon the Commission's own motion.
